

Gleaned by the Way.

Back safe and sound from your deer hunting trip? I see. Well, well! How did you escape being shot?

Bully address. I digressed a bit, but I'm glad to hear you're safe.

Her Baby Had Eczema.
Mrs. C. Clark, Belmont, Mass., writes: "My baby had eczema on her ear. The cure was very bad and nothing seemed to help her. Hearing of some remarkable cures Dr. Chase's Ointment made me begin using it and with the third application the sore began to heal. The cure was thorough and complete and we give all credit to Dr. Chase's Ointment."

Wedderly—I shed tears to day while burying my wife's pet poodle.
Singleton—Fond of it, eh?
Wedderly—Not any, thank you. I shed tears of joy.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

Two well-known wags were ambled homeward at an early hour after being up nearly all night.
"Don't your wife miss you on these occasions?" asked one.
"Not often," replied the other; "she throws pretty straight."

The Pains of the Aged.

Are usually due to the tendency of the kidneys to wear out as age advances, giving rise to the accumulation of poisons in the blood and causing, in time, the House Rule Bill and they get back.

Mr. Shallowpate—Did she say anything good about me?
Miss Caustique—Oh! yes. She said that when one got better acquainted with you one found you were not half as bad a fool as you appeared to be.

The peculiar properties of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have been thoroughly tested during epidemics of influenza, and when it was taken in time we have not heard of a single case of pneumonia. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Jimmy—Johnnie is untruthful, or something? Jamie—Why, Jimmy—'He told me his grandfater told leg or arm in every battle he fought in, an' asked him how many battles he was in, an' he said 'More'n' forty.

A sprained ankle will usually disable the injured person for three or four weeks. This is due to lack of proper treatment. When Chamberlain's Liniment is applied a cure may be effected in three or four days. This Liniment is one of the best and most remarkable preparations in use. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Mrs. X. (away from home)—John, did you leave out anything for the cat before you started?
Mr. X. (who dislikes the beast)—Yes; I left a can of condensed milk on the table, with the can-opener beside it.

Many persons find themselves affected with a persistent cough after an attack of influenza. As this cough is usually prompted by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, it should not be allowed to run on until it becomes troublesome. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

Medicine Man—What is the matter with your majesty? Cannibal King—'Oh, I've an awful indigestion.' 'What have you been eating?' 'I have just polished off an American millionaire.' 'Good heavens! No wonder you are ill. I've told you repeatedly to beware of anything rich.'

Man's Debt to the Horse.

No animal on the face of the earth works like the horse; no animal anywhere has his equal in usefulness to man. He is the best slave to humanity; for never lifted a human slave in any age or in any land who went about his task and his crushing labors more uncomplainingly, more steadily and more faithfully than does the horse. He brings help when the home is aflame; he drags in the bar over the ground to bring the physician to the bedside; then we come in, and he drags us to the grave. He carries the joyous children upon his broad back, and he thunders to the hospital with the clanging ambulance. Through the streets he drags the mighty iron supports for the giant skyscraper, and over the boulevard he carries the heavy loads of fashion and beauty at his hoof. In the midst of plenty he carries food in abundance to countless homes, and in the midst of starvation he yields up his own body to keep life in the famished human frame.

And for this sublime devotion, this life long labor, this noble martyrdom, how often is the faithful animal repaid with atrocious cruelty and vile and inhuman neglect! The treatment of horses by some people is immeasurably base; and it is all the more hideous and scandalous because the poor animal has no means of defence, no chance for aid, no voice to demand help.

He is driven at terrific speed for immense distances; he is forced to wear rough and heavy harness over a sore and lacerated body, dragging after him heavily laden wagons, all the while suffering silently the most awful tortures. He is compelled to drag overloaded wagons up steep hills, often cruelly lashed with the whip and then after a long day of dreadful slavery he is poorly housed, often with insufficient food.

Yet there are owners and drivers of a different stamp. These are men in appreciation of the value and devotion of the horse is allowed to penetrate. They misuse the animal to an atrocious degree, and are impatient to his ap pealing look, when he is racked by pain or worn down with toil, as though the poor beast were but a senseless rock. Such men as these know no pity, and because they know no pity they know no horse.

There is nothing overdrawn in this recital of man's inhumanity to his best and most constant friend. Happily, though, it is not a recital of the usual treatment of the horse. Turning from the consideration of ill treatment, it is pleasant to know that in the hearts of the vast majority of men, women and children there is genuine love for this fine and good friend in the animal kingdom. And assuredly he deserves that love.

When you love a horse, you love man's best friend. The most trusted friend in all the range of the world of animals.

Hang Week's Wash in a Few Minutes on a Hill Clothes Dryer

Clean Compact Capacious Convenient. Why continue to fuss with an old, ungainly clothes line and poles when you can get this neat, compact, convenient Hill Dryer. Instead of being spread all over the yard and supported by numerous poles, every inch of every foot on the Hill Dryer is within easy reach—so you can hang the whole wash without moving a step, without having to dip the heavy basket up and down the yard through snow or damp grass.

Set up a Hill Dryer in a convenient spot near the house and you have a neat, compact, convenient Hill Dryer. Hill Dryers are made in several sizes and hold 100 to 150 feet of laundry. They are made of galvanized steel, folded up and put away, occupy very little room, and are easy to clear of obstructions.

Let us put up your yard ready for next week's wash. Dr. Zell and seal. Quotations gladly furnished on application.

Peary on the Use of Stimulants.

Commander Peary, the North Pole explorer, was asked, before setting out, about the food and drink of the expedition.

The answer was decisive: 'No man can drink alcoholic liquor who goes to the North. It would mean death to the man and a menace to the expedition.

'And smoking? 'The man who is dependent on his cigar or his pipe had better remain at home. The person of the man is the first consideration. Upon them depends everything. In the first place, they must be of a cheerful temper, and not subject to fits of the blues, and every man must understand in advance that he must meet the greatest hardships and self denial. He must be willing to suffer cold and hunger, to forego sleep—a word, to be ready to sacrifice his life, if need be, for the success of the undertaking.

Doctors and Liquor.

Dr. R. H. Blakie, of Ellsborough, has been given a number of interesting figures regarding the use of alcohol by doctors. He is, he says, quite sure, that faith in the use of alcohol as a beneficial drug is being shaken. He remembered when he was a student in the Royal Infirmary, for pneumonia it was simply brandy and plenty of it, and the mortality was very high, much higher than he had found in his own experience; and he believed, in looking back on these cases, they were simply poisoned by the amount of the whiskey or brandy that was given them. In the Royal Infirmary in 1860 there were 3,800 patients, and 80% was spent in alcohol. That worked out at about 430, 7% per occupied bed per annum. In 1906, the number of patients was 17,000, and the total sum expended on alcohol was £194, which worked out at 2 1/2% per occupied bed.

HER DEATH WAS HOURLY EXPECTED

Enterprise, Ont., Oct. 1st, 1909. 'For seven years I suffered with what physicians called "Water-Temperance." I could neither sit, stand, nor lie down. Hippocremia of morphia had to be given me to ease the pain.

My cure seemed hopeless, and my friends hourly expected my death. It was so bad that I wanted to die, and it was during one of these very bad spells that a family friend brought me a box of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. After much thought I commenced to take them, but it was so bad that it was only when I had taken nearly two boxes that I commenced to experience relief. I kept up the treatment, however, and after taking five boxes I was cured, and I appeared on the street my friends said, "The dead has come to life," and this seemed literally true, because I certainly was at death's door."

Fearful Facts in White Slave Trade.

Washington, Dec. 16.—All but incredibly revolting are disclosures as to an international system of traffic in, and the enforced and voluntary degradation of men and women, contained in the report on the so-called "white slave traffic" submitted to Congress by the United States Immigration Commission. Shocking as is the report, immensely more so is the setting forth of well attested facts as to the compulsory emigration of innocent immigrants, and the life of the law.

The commission says that the effect of the importation of immoral women into this country is a constant and increasing degradation and demoralization of the women and of contamination and corruption by means of the spread of disease for those with whom they come in contact.

No statistics are given in the report, though the extent of the "white slave traffic" is characterized as country-wide. Most of the women, it is said, come by way of New York, San Francisco and Seattle, although some are coming by the way of Canada. Frequently they are brought into the United States disguised as wives or sisters of immigrants, or as wives of the immigration officials.

The exploitation of these women after their arrival in the United States is characterized in the report as "most pitiful for the women and most brutal on the part of the men." Not only the innocent and betrayed young girls, but the more experienced women are made the victims of virtual slavery.
