PROHIBITION AND EUROPEAN UNIVERSITIES

"An international student news bureau has been established at Kuden, Holland as the first activity of the World Student Federation Against Alcoholism organized last August at Lausanne, Switzerland. Its object is to gather an exchange news regarding student's anti-alcohol work in all countries, first among European countries and then between the students of Europe and America and the rest of the world."

"Much energetic work is being done this year by the students anti-alcohol societies in Holland. The middle school society has 1,400 members. The University movement is now active in most of the Universities in Holland."

"The student abstaining society in Estonia welcomes opportunities to join the World Student Federation Against Alcoholism. The society at the university contains fifty students and three professor member."

"The Student Temperance Federation of the University of Helsinki, Finland, on Nov. 12, decided to join the World Student Federation Against Alcoholism. This is a vigorous society, last year reporting 150 members. It has high standing among the student societies at Helsinki."

"There is reported to be a student anti-alcohol movement in Bulgaria with twenty-two societies. It is known as the Students' Temperance Union Neutral. The work began in 1914 and seems to be growing rapidly. In all 3,000 students of different ages are enrolled in the various associated societies of the union. —Forward

And now Jim Jeffries, prize ring champion-emeritus is going into the soul saving industry along Billy Sunday lines. Strange how these blatant tonguesters have to commercialize the Gospel as a medium for working off verbal steam and venomous hatred of orthodoxy.

WHEN PRESERVES ARE GETTING LOW

ORANGE CONSERVE.—To the rind of a good sized grape fruit, allow five or six little oranges and one large lemon. Remove the seeds and juice and put rinds of grape fruit and lemon through the food chopper. Put chopped rinds in sauce pan, cover with cold water, add a teaspoonful of salt and bring slowly to a boil. Do not scald orange rinds. While other rinds are getting hot, remove peel from oranges and cut into very thin strips. Remove seeds and cut pulp into small bits. When grape fruit and lemon rinds have come to a boil, pour into a sieve and drain, pouring over it a little clear water to remove salty taste. Now add orange peel and pulp, and lemon and grape fruit juice. Measure the mixture and for each measure of fruit allow an equal measure of granulated sugar. Cook slowly until thoroughly cooked through and translucent (it will take two or more hours of cooking to accomplish this). When well cooked down and thick, turn into sterilized glasses and cover as usual.

DRIED PEACH JAM.—Wash dried peaches and cover with cold water and let soak over night. In the morning place over the fire and cook slowly until very tender. Rub through a collander and to each measure of pulp allow two thirds of a measure of granulated sugar. Put on the fire and cook slowly until thick. Pour into sterilized glasses.

COMBINATION JAM.—Soak two parts prunes and one part dried peaches in cold water over night. In the morning cook in the water in which they were soaking until very tender. Then put through a collander. Measure pulp and for each measure of fruit take one half measure of granulated sugar. Put back on the stove and cook very slowly until thick as desired.

THE POOR HEATHEN!

Mary and Tommy had been to hear a missionary talk at Sunday School. "Did he tell you about the poor heathen," enquired father at the dinner table. "Yes father," answered Mary. "He said they were often hungry, and when they beat on their tum-tums it could be heard for miles."

MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS

While the medical inspection and supervision of school children has been developed mainly within the last twenty-five years, it is interesting to note that it was advocated as early as 1861 by Edwin Chadwick, who is regarded as the real founder of public health work in England. It was not until 1891, however, that medical inspection was really begun in England, although, some efforts were made in France as early as 1842. A school medical officer was appointed in London in 1891, and in 1907 an act was passed making school medical inspection compulsory throughout England and Wales. On this side of the Atlantic, this activity was first undertaken in Boston, in 1894. The school nurse was first introduced in London, in 1893; but the city of New York claims the distinction of being the first city to place school nursing under municipal direction and control. The first city in Canada to engage a school nurse was Hamilton, Ont. (1907), with Montreal and Winnipeg, Vancouver, Toronto, Regina, Edmonton and Halifax following within a few years and in the order named. Today, of course, few cities in any progressive country are without school nurses.

The extension of medical inspection and school nursing to rural communities is a comparatively recent development, but has already become widespread. It would obviously be impossible, except at great cost, to have this work carried on as thoroughly in the country districts as in the cities, but nevertheless splendid results are being achieved. A surprising revelation is that country school children suffer from physical defects to a proportionately greater extent than city and town children. This is doubtless because of the greater difficulty in securing medical care in the country than in the towns, and has, in some countries led to attempts at special provisions for meeting this difficulty. Thus the English Education Act of 1918 makes adequate and suitable arrangements for the treatment of elementary and secondary school children obligatory upon the local education authorities.

There are no more ardent supporters of medical supervision than the Education authorities, who have learned that physical defect is one of the chief causes of backwardness in school. An investigation into this phase of the matter, made a few years ago in London, revealed that "upwards of one third of all these elder children" (i. e., children of age fourteen or thereabouts), "most of whom possessed some degree of physical defect and 21 per cent. of whom were seriously defective, are, in London at least, two or more years behind their normal school standard."

HOUSEHOLD HINTS FOR MEN

Make your homes happy. You go around the house growling about your rheumatism and acting the lugubrious and your sons will go into the world and plunge into dissipation. They will have their own rheumatism after awhile. Do not forestall their misfortunes. You were young once, and you had your bright and joyous times. Now let the young folks have a good time.

Praise your wife sometimes. She works hard enough as a general thing with small compensation and less cheer than any other member of the family. You like to be told that you can do your particular kind of work better than any one else can, so why should you withhold the same merited praise from the woman who makes and keeps your home bright for you?

A SLOGAN

(From the Pittsburg Christian Advocate.)
Bite off more than you can chew;

Then chew it.

Plan for more than you can do.

Then do it.

Hitch your wagon to a star,

Keep your seat, and there you are!

No news is good news. Maybe, but we're not trying to run that kind of a paper.

GAINED OVER 20 LBS

Consumptive Condition Restored to perfect Health.

"An attack of 'flu' in the fall of 1918, left me in such a weakened condition that I could not walk across the kitchen, and for nearly two months I spit blood. My neighbors as well as myself thought I was in the first stages of consumption. My weight when I first took sick was 120 lbs., and I shrunk from that to 98 lbs. On the recommendation of my druggist I began to take Carnol. Before finishing the first bottle I felt a marked improvement. I then took four bottles and my improvement was so marvelous that, at the end of six months, I gained in weight—the most I ever weighed in my life. I can safely recommend Carnol to anyone in a run down condition, as being the best as well as the most palatable tonic on the market today. My little girl of eight years took a cold in the head and chest and was so bad she could scarcely breathe. I gave her Carnol in hot water and the next morning she was able to get out of bed for the first time in several days. I know Carnol will do for you what it did for me and my little girl—worked miracles."

The experience of Mrs. F. of Halifax

Carnol is composed of that wonderful nerve tonic—glycerophosphate salts. This is commonly known the world over as the "Blood Salt." It is the best blood builder and nerve invigorator yet discovered.

Carnol is sold by your druggist and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 11-122
