HORSE STEALING.—Mr. Harmon Wry went to work on a (Tantramar) Pier of I. C. R. bridge at midnight, Thursday, having hitched his horse on road side. At 2 a. m. his team was missing. He had noticed a tramp around. There had been a shower and the carriage tracks were easily discernible. Taking another team at hand, he with Oliver Wry followed the team to Amherst, where the track made a detour, took a back street and then came back on the main street above Amherst. Taking a fresh horse at Amherst, they followed him 12 miles out on the Pugwash road, when they overtook and stopped him. He would not talk. They arrested him, tied him with a rope and brought him back to Sackville before Justice Cahill where an examination took place on Friday forenoon, when he was committed for trial. He gave his name as John Bigney; said he was a native of Pictou Co. He is about 22 years of age, dark complexion, no whiskers, tall and thin and belongs to the genus tramp.

Bigney was sentenced yesterday afternoon to six years in the Penitentiary.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS.— The Rectory at Mt. Whatley was the scene lately of a quiet but very pretty wedding The bride, Miss Katharine Milliken, kindly consented to be married there in order that her friend, Miss Fanny Bliss whose long and serious illness has been a matter of deep regret to her large circle of friends, might witness the ceremony. Owing to the family being in mourning no invitations were issued but besides the mother and sister of the bride one or two near friends of the groom including Mrs. Ketchum and Mrs. Dickey of Amherst were present, to wish the young couple God speed. The bride looked charming in white embroidered muslin and her travelling dress of gray with green velvet vest was equally pretty and becoming. She received a number of gifts, among them a tete a tete silver tea set The service took place at four o'clock in the afternoon and was read by Mr. Bliss in a most feeling and impressive manner. After a simple but dainty repast the happy pair left, under the traditional shower of rice, for Amherst where they took the C. P. R. en route to Cape Breton, where the groom, Mr. Brydone Jack C. E. has employment in the government Railway service.

The cost will be in the vicinity of $30,000.

He advised the local society that their strike was unreasonable and was not sanctioned by the grand council, proposed a new committee to wait on the managers, which was accepted, and, the committee having been appointed arranged that the men should go to work at once, Alderson the check weight man to be replaced in 15 days, and that Carl Bansemer, who is regarded as an agitator and disturber of the peace by the company be not employed, unless arbitrators jointly appointed decide otherwise. The decision does credit to both the men and the managers.

Address to Principal Harrison.

Mr. C. W. Harrison, M. A. on Thursday on the eve of his departure was presented with the following address by Mr. F. A. McDougal.

C W HARRISON, ESQ. M.A.

SIR:—On the eve of your departure to another field after four years sojourn in our midst allow us on behalf of the citizens of Sackville to express our sincere regret that you and your accomplished wife are no longer to reside with us.

During your stay in Sackville by your uniform courtesy in all your business dealings and by the prompt manner in which you have conducted the affairs in your charge you have carried the esteem of the whole business community. Permit us to extend to you and Mrs Harrison our earnest good wishes for your future happiness wherever your lot may be cast; and let us add the hope that at some time not far distant we may again have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Harrison's beautiful voice, which we appreciate more than ever now that we are to hear her sweet notes no more.

Let us assure you that you will receive a warm welcome should Providence ever guide your footsteps again to Sackville.

The accompanying Library set we ask you to accept as a slight token of our regard.

We are esteemed Sir,
Your Sincere Friends
EDWARD COGSWELL
GEO E FORD, and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison left on Friday morning for Charlottetown, where they spend a few days before leaving for Ontario.

During his residence here Mr. Harrison has gained the confidence and respect of the business community by his straightforward business methods. Mrs. Harrison's departure is regarded as a public loss; no public entertainment was complete without her superb voice.

DROWNING ACCIDENT.

On Saturday morning at 7 a. m. Mr. Coleman Bowser of Dorchester was drowned off the west pier of the Tantramar Railway bridge. He was on the inside wall, rolling a cross tie with a pevy, when the pevy gave way and Mr. Bowser fell backward into the water. Bedford Bowser was standing near him and attempted to undo a rope to throw him, but the tide was flowing out so quickly, he got beyond reach almost immediately.

Mr. Albert Wry was also there on the pier and threw him a pike pole, which did not reach him. They started for the boat which was moved on the opposite shore and Mr. Herman H. Wry, who was eating his breakfast in the workshop, ran out and with Messrs. A. D. Wry, Bedford Bowser and Oliver Wry, got her off and followed down the stream. He disappeared before they could reach him and they could do nothing.

The body was found on Sunday forenoon by Mr. Wm. E. Crowson, in the river almost a mile below the bridge.

An inquest was held by Coroner Baird with the following jury: Capt Charles Moore, Walter Fowler, Alex. Ford, Henry Bell, Frank Palmer, Geo. W. Milton and H. E. Fawcett. The verdict was accidental drowning.

The deceased was employed as foreman in the work of facing up the stone pier with timber. He was a very capable mechanic and his death is a loss to the community.

He leaves a wife and nine children, the oldest of whom is about 15 years. A great deal of sympathy is expressed for the family.

Suspicious!

SIR:—

On Wednesday evening two strangers got off the train at Middle Sackville. They were not exactly tramps, being somewhat better dressed. For half an hour or so, they were observed to wander about in a confused and aimless way having obviously mistaken the locality, or else had been disappointed in not meeting their pals. They had a lot of curious looking machinery with them which not being of a class used by burglars, dynamiters or socialists, dispelled any doubt as to their being of these classes. At last a young man impelled by curiosity met them on the street and boldly accosted them, demanding to know their business. After a conference with them, in which it was obvious to the on lookers that they protested their innocence, he led the way to his house where the mystery was for the time concealed. About seven o'clock the whole party then reappeared in the street and went to the town hall. It was then discovered that the lost wayfarers were Messrs Peters and Hubbard!! They had come to organize a dairying meeting! and a crowd was soon collected. Even then suspicion was not altogether allayed. One prominent grit was invited to take the chair, but declined, doubtless for fear that any endorsement by him of an improved system of butter making might strengthen the Dominion government. A prominent Tory was also invited, but he also declined; perhaps he was alarmed that any politeness extended to the commissioners might somehow compromise his position as an advocate of low cattle rates on I. C. R. So there was no chairman; still the meeting was held and passed off as pleasantly as if the Sackville farmers had met the Commission and shewed them some attention.

What is Beauty? Question of a Blind Man!

Replied Aristotle. But Mrs. Sherwood says that it is "dynamite" in her article which opens the interesting pages of the July Cosmopolitan. Beauty is always a fascinating subject and Mrs. Sherwood's discussion is an especially interesting one. The July Cosmopolitan marks the close of the first year since the revolutionary announcement was made that the price of that magazine already low, had been cut to one-half of three dollars a year All sorts of predictions have come to be unfulfilled during the year it would be impossible to maintain the rate- the quality would be lowered—the size would be decreased. The magazine printed for the six months embraced in Volume XVI, one million four hundred and nineteen thousand copies, an entirely unapproached record.

MT. ALLISON CONCERT CO. gave a popular entertainment at Richibucto on 2nd July which was well received. Messrs Barker, Costin, Master Charlie Harrison. Mr. J. W. Dobson and Miss Read, all appear to have well sustained the programme, judging from the notice in the Richibucto Review.
