We have said this was partial consolation, because although these sums were nominally what was due each, yet they were not full payment, for whereas he owed in gold he transmitted in greenbacks. We understand that Mr. O'Neil folllowed him to Bufalo to endeavor to collect the discount. Naugh-ton has left behind him two dashing horses, buggy, house furniture, &c. He paid a number of small accounts before he went away. It is commonly reported that recent losses in some transactions in flour led to his leaving. which Mr. Denison is commander will re-sign enmasse. These would not be pleasant incidents at any time. Just now, with an admitt-ed necessity for keeffing in an efficient condition the whole available military strength of the Provinces, they are ex-tremely unfortunate. They are, how-ever, significant. They show that the volunteer force, instead of growing stroger, every day grows weaker, and that unless the Government policy on the militia question be changed, the only system of defence that is adapted to the Dominion, or the Continent, will be sacrificed to theories born of old-world despotisms, and a temper to which the Canadan youth are not likely to submit.

It has, however, received the sanction of the Dominion Parliament, which has adopted a policy foreign to the sol, and one that is aggravated by inattention and injustice to the volunteers. The Synod authorized the publication of a new hymn book for use in the Churches. A discussion fol-lowed on the Bursary and Scholarship scheme, which showed the possession by the Synod of unusual debating powers. Speeches were made by Profersor Wil-liams, Principals Cook and Snodgrass, Dr. Morris, M. P., Mr. Mullen and other leading members of the Court. To the general public the most interesting event of the day then took place, namely the rc-solution of the Synod, adopted by acclam-ation, to send a deputation to the Wes-leyan Conference with Ckristian fratownal greetings. The next meeting of Synod is to be held at Hamilton.
