

Guelph Evening Mercury

OFFICE ..... MACDONNELL STREET
WEDNESDAY EV'NG, JAN. 27, 1869.

Prospects Brightening in the South.

We take the following from the N. Y. Tribune of Saturday:

There are 10 or 12 counties in Middle and West Tennessee where the Rebel spirit is still rampant, and in some of which Ku-Klux outrages are still committed. From Virginia and the two Carolinas, we have heard of but one collision for weeks, and that was an evidently magnified report of a resistance to civil process by a few negroes near Norfolk. From Georgia we have only the Ogeechee troubles, which were swollen out of all proportion by mutual misconceptions and a palpable effort to drive the Blacks into rebellion and subject them to extermination. From Alabama, we hear of but one recent outrage—the murder of a Union officer by Ku-Klux near Huntsville, Mississippi, is very quiet; Louisiana almost uniformly so since she heard of Grant's election. In Florida, only the Kilkenny feud among the State officers vexes the general calm. Arkansas has been seriously convulsed and agitated; and there have been wild doings by implacable Rebels on the one side and Gov. Clayton's Black militia on the other, but, in spite of the desperate efforts of the rebel journals of Memphis and Little Rock, it is plain that order has generally been restored on the basis of submission to law. Texas is so vast and so remote from the seat of government that a great many of the turbulent and implacable have taken refuge in her vast solitudes and there do with impunity deeds that would provoke repression elsewhere; but, even there, matters have greatly improved since Gen. Grant's election, and are still improving. The fair crops and good prices just realized have had a very soothing influence. Twenty-five hundred thousand bales of cotton, selling for an average of $100 per bale, yields two hundred and fifty million of dollars to the planters; and, though several former crops were much larger in amount, we doubt that any one of them ever sold at the gin-houses for more money. Then the sugar and rice crops of 1868 are much larger than those of 1867, and are bringing good prices. Add to this that the South grows more Indian corn, and we presume more wheat also, in 1868 than in any former year, and we may fairly congratulate her on the turn in the tide of her fortune."

Elora Correspondence.

From our Correspondent.

LITERARY AND MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT.

Last night the readings and vocal entertainment given in connection with the Mechanics Institute was a complete success, and tended to show how fully such pleasing and instructive reunions are appreciated by all classes of people. There were probably about three hundred persons present. The programme was varied and well selected. Geo. Benson, Esq., read the first piece, 'Garibaldi' in clear voice, followed by Rev. J. McGregor, who rendered the classical selection, 'Lays of Rome,' with precision and in admirable style. Miss McGregor next favoured the audience with a song which gave general satisfaction. Her voice was quite distinct, but at times somewhat tremulous, as she is not accustomed to appear in public. The amusing 'Tale of a trumpet' was then read by Mr. W. P. Newman with correct pronunciation, but not sufficiently distinct or humorous to be appreciated by the audience in general. Miss Lapointe—a new comer to Elora—then sang 'The Maid of Athens' in a style which proved her to be a young lady of superior vocal talents, and from the applause that greeted her, promises to be quite a favourite songstress here. Next came Dr. Griffith—the author of the new Dominion Song—who rendered 'The Death of Eva' from Uncle Tom's Cabin, in a truly pathetic manner, and with such changes of tones as showed him to be a thorough elocutionist. A duet, 'Starboard Watch,' was then sung by Dr. Paget and Mr. H. Smith in their usual excellent style. Dr. Middleton gave 'Waterloo' from Byron with energy and true martial spirit, and Miss Lapointe again appeared amidst loud applause and sang 'Valley of Chamouni' in most exquisite style. Mr. Tait, school teacher, rendered the laughable tale of 'Rory O' More's present to the Priest' and Mr. Henry Smith in a rich and well cultivated voice gave 'Pat Milloy.' Mrs. J. M. Ross played several pieces during the evening, and was greatly applauded. The company then sang together 'God Save the Queen' and the audience dispersed, well pleased, and also convinced that it was the most agreeable and successful entertainment given by the Institute in Elora.

Death has just called away an old and esteemed resident of Elora, in the person of Mr. Creighton.

For some days he had been a little ailing, but still able to perform his daily duties, but on Saturday night he was taken suddenly worse, and in a few hours succumbed to his painful disease—congestion of the bowels. His remains were this morning conveyed to Owen Sound, at which place his son lives.

Still no snow—glass at zero and sometimes below it—all classes—farmers, merchants and mechanics—seem dispirited, as business is virtually at a stand still.

Elora, Jan. 26th, 1869.

Arthur Village Good Templars.

Sir,—The B. A. O. of G. T. held their annual soiree in O'Callaghan's hall, on Wednesday, the 26th inst. The hall was well filled—about three hundred being present. The tea was excellent, and the provisions of the best quality. The soiree was in every way a success, fully sustaining the reputation which the Arthur Good Templars have in getting up such affairs. Bro. James A. Hollinger was appointed Chairman, and the meeting was addressed by the Rev. Messrs. Holmes and Johnson; and Mr. R. Stewart, Fergus, Bros. Thompson, Gourly, Hewitt, and Hollinger gave several dialogues and recitations, and were followed by Sisters Small and Moore, each of whom gave a recitation. The members of the Drayton Lodge also gave a dialogue. The Arthur choir, under the leadership of Mr. Bristol, added greatly to the evening's entertainment. Altogether the entertainment was one of the best of the kind ever held in Arthur. The proceeds go towards building a temperance hall.

The volunteers have received their clothes, and present quite a soldierly appearance. Their captain, Mr. John I. Hollinger, is at present attending the Military School in Toronto.

Business of all kinds is dull, owing to want of sleighing. The people of Arthur and surrounding townships are anxious for the narrow gauge. A

PROSPECTUS OF CUTHBERT'S Circulating Library.

THE Subscriber has pleasure in announcing the establishment of a Library for public circulation. This is a want that is very much needed in Guelph, and from the conviction that it will be an advantage to the public—one which will be felt and appreciated—its institution is undertaken. The best incentive to profitable reading and research is some object or prize apart from the object of developing the mental faculties. Studiously pursued, it will be the object in view is difficult and irksome, and not a few are frightened to undertake the task, when they consider the time, patience and labour involved in the acquisition of extensive knowledge. To lessen the influence of such an idea, the subscriber proposes:

1st—To give free access to his Library for the small sum of $1.00 per year, payable in advance.

2nd—At the end of the year, prizes shall be awarded for the best essays on three distinct subjects—said subjects to be submitted by the subscribers.

3rd—The information necessary to the essayists to enable them to write on any of the subjects undertaken, shall be fully within the scope of the Library.

4th—The essays shall be referred to a committee of gentlemen, thoroughly competent to examine them and decide upon their merit.

5th—According to the decision of the Committee, the prizes shall remain the property of the subscriber, who alone shall possess the right of publishing them.

6th—Every one upon payment of one dollar, has the right to compete for any of the prizes, or for all of them.

7th—As this enterprise is being established for the purpose of giving rise to a healthy mental competition amongst those who may choose to subscribe to the Library, it is thought advisable not to receive less than ten written papers on any of the subjects that shall be submitted, complete for one or more of the prizes offered.

8th—The value of the prizes shall not be less than $25.00 in cash, which shall be awarded in cash or otherwise at the option of the successful competitors.

9th—Any person in any part of the country may become a member, provided he or she conform to the rule of not retaining a book longer than one month. To those residing in Guelph and vicinity the time allowed shall be two weeks.

10th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

11th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

12th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

13th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

14th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

15th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

16th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

17th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

18th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

19th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

20th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

21st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

22nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

23rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

24th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

25th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

26th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

27th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

28th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

29th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

30th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

31st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

32nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

33rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

34th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

35th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

36th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

37th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

38th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

39th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

40th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

41st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

42nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

43rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

44th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

45th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

46th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

47th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

48th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

49th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

50th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

51st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

52nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

53rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

54th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

55th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

56th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

57th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

58th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

59th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

60th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

61st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

62nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

63rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

64th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

65th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

66th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

67th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

68th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

69th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

70th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

71st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

72nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

73rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

74th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

75th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

76th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

77th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

78th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

79th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

80th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

PROSPECTUS OF CUTHBERT'S Circulating Library.

THE Subscriber has pleasure in announcing the establishment of a Library for public circulation. This is a want that is very much needed in Guelph, and from the conviction that it will be an advantage to the public—one which will be felt and appreciated—its institution is undertaken. The best incentive to profitable reading and research is some object or prize apart from the object of developing the mental faculties. Studiously pursued, it will be the object in view is difficult and irksome, and not a few are frightened to undertake the task, when they consider the time, patience and labour involved in the acquisition of extensive knowledge. To lessen the influence of such an idea, the subscriber proposes:

1st—To give free access to his Library for the small sum of $1.00 per year, payable in advance.

2nd—At the end of the year, prizes shall be awarded for the best essays on three distinct subjects—said subjects to be submitted by the subscribers.

3rd—The information necessary to the essayists to enable them to write on any of the subjects undertaken, shall be fully within the scope of the Library.

4th—The essays shall be referred to a committee of gentlemen, thoroughly competent to examine them and decide upon their merit.

5th—According to the decision of the Committee, the prizes shall remain the property of the subscriber, who alone shall possess the right of publishing them.

6th—Every one upon payment of one dollar, has the right to compete for any of the prizes, or for all of them.

7th—As this enterprise is being established for the purpose of giving rise to a healthy mental competition amongst those who may choose to subscribe to the Library, it is thought advisable not to receive less than ten written papers on any of the subjects that shall be submitted, complete for one or more of the prizes offered.

8th—The value of the prizes shall not be less than $25.00 in cash, which shall be awarded in cash or otherwise at the option of the successful competitors.

9th—Any person in any part of the country may become a member, provided he or she conform to the rule of not retaining a book longer than one month. To those residing in Guelph and vicinity the time allowed shall be two weeks.

10th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

11th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

12th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

13th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

14th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

15th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

16th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

17th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

18th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

19th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

20th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

21st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

22nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

23rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

24th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

25th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

26th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

27th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

28th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

29th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

30th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

31st—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

32nd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

33rd—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

34th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

35th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

36th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

37th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

38th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

39th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.

40th—The Subscriber having made arrangements with some of the largest publishing houses both in England and the United States, he can constantly in the receipt of every new work that comes out, and he has a tendency to promote the usefulness of all existing libraries.