Terrible Accident to a Commercial Traveler—Body Recovered in the Bay—Marder of a Toronto Man in Michigan.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—Geo. M. Bligh, traveler for P. G. Dodds & Co., wholesale paints and oils, Montreal, but living in this city at 303 Crawford street, missed his footing while trying to board a street car on King street this afternoon and fell under the car. The whoel went over his head, crushing his skull. He died before reaching the hospital. Deceased was about 35 years of age and well-known in the city. He leaves a wife and one child. He came here from St. Catharines about the beginning of the year.

Word has been received from Jackson, Mich., of the murder of Wm, Cuddy, of that place, brother of Detective Alf. Cuddy, of the Toronto force, and of the late Jack Cuddy, one of the best known and most popular officers in the Province. William, the murdered man, was contractor and member of a firm which employed convict labor. Late yesterday afternoon he was found in his office in the prison lying unconscious on the floor, his brains cozing from a terrible wound in the head. Blackman, a convict serving a life sentence for murder, is believed to have struck the fatal blow. Cuddy died three hours after he was found. Deceased had intended selling out business and shortly returning to Teronto to live.

Excitement Among Salvation Army Officers.

Some Forty or Fifty Dismissed Since Commandant Booth's Arrival—Talk

TORONTO, Aug. 16.—Great excitement exists among the local corps of the Salvation Army over the dismissal or forced resignation of between 40 and 50 officers since the arrival of Commandant Booth three weeks ago.

Among those dismissed are Brigadier Philpott and Adjutant Rofle, who were accused by Commission Rees, Booth's predecessor, with keeping a diary of events at headquarters with the object of writing them up. This the accused officers denied and demanded an investigation, which was refused, and they were given their walking papers. Both officers are immensely popular and have been in the service many years.

PRESS AND PEOPLE.

PRESS AND PEOPLE.

PUNISH THE FOOR ONLY.

The people and the newspapers that approve the cruel act of Gen. Snowden, though their phrases are mellowed with soft words, like "law" and "order," are in truth violent partisants to them. "law" soft words, like "law" and "order," are in truth violent partisans; to them "law" means the will of the rich, "order" the subjection of the poor, and the transgression of statutes is reprehensible only when it can be fastened upon the "lower classes." Such men would not condemn this brutal officer even if the law condemns him; if the law is as brutal as he, they will exult.

those older worlds. Here while they were exhausting their fields, the mold in our agricultural valleys was deepening. Here while they were exhausting their mines, ours were lying undisurbed in the meuntains. Here, while they were exhausting their forests, not the sound of an axe broke the silence of the woods. And now, when there is let into this country, but a handful of people, so to speak the most intelligent, the most enterprising, the best educated people of the world, a people that have brought with them to this country all the knowledge, all the science, all the inventions, all the tools, all the capacity for self-government, and all blessed influences of the Christian religion—when they are lot loose in this great country, extending from sea to sea, rich, untouched, unexhausted, unexplored, you come here and elsewhere and say that we owe our greater prosperity, our better opportunities for usefulness, our higher wages, our better conditions in every respect, not to the bounty of Almighty God, in giving us such a country, not to the wisdom and sacrifice of the fathers in giving us free institutions and equal laws, not to the enterprise and intelligence of our people, but to a poor little two-by-six law of Congress.—[Congressman Wilson, of West Virginia, in Congress.

HIRLING SOLDER SERVICE ILLEGAL.

Public opinion has set in strongly against the Pinkertons, and there is a very earnest desire to make their bireling soldier service an illegal business. With this desire every real believer in the regular enforcement of the law according to our principles of government is in sympathy. It has been said, however, that it cannot be done. But it can be. For the bringing of such troops into a community they and their employer should be and easily could be made liable, by a single statute in the various States, for the results of any consequent riot. In the presence of such a statute, no plutocrat would dare introduce hireing troops except as the duly autherized deputies of a sherif, should be and easily could be made to by a single statute in the various States, for the results of any consequent riot. In the presence of such a statute, no plutoerat would dare introduce hireling troops except as the duly authorized deputies of a sherili, and no such troops would dare to appear. The subterfuge of deputizing Pinkerton's men so as to give them the color of public office and the insignia of impartial administrators, when they are in fact hired partisans subject to private orders, should also be stepped. When a sheriff cannot preserve the peace and execute process in his county with the aid of such of the inhabit tants of the county as he may select, it is duty, in the interest of law and order to call upon the Governor to supply hir with troops from the regular militia force.
