MUSIC AND DRAMA.

TOMORROW NIGHT'S PLAY.

Tomorrow evening the attraction at the Grand is Alfred Capus' four-act comedy, "The Two Schools." The Toronto Saturday Night says: The Frohman Company which presents the Capus play is a strong and well-chosen organization. Mr. Jameson Lee Finney, Mr. M. A. Kennedy and Mr. Winchell Smith are a trio of remarkably capable men in their varying and strongly contrasted roles. Equally delightful in the principal female parts are Miss Ida Conquest, Miss Ida Waterman and Miss Jessie Busley. All the minor characters are also well cast. Miss Conquest, it may be added, is a very fascinating woman, as well as a thoroughly convincing actress.

ONCE WAS ENOUGH.

J. J. McDonald, Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Has Had No Return of His Rheumatism and Dropsy.

Windsor, Ont., Jan. 19.—Special.—The case of John J. McDonald, a well-known farmer now living at 130 Langlois avenue here, is one more striking proof that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not only cure Rheumatism and Dropsy, but that they will drive the diseases clear out of the system and keep them out.

For two years Mr. McDonald suffered terribly with Rheumatism and Dropsy. His legs were swollen and the pains he suffered were most acute. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and was cured.

That was five years ago. Speaking recently, he says: "I have had no return of the trouble up to the present, and I am not anxious for any. It is with pleasure I acknowledge that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Cure the Kidneys with Dodd's Kidney Pills and your Rheumatism will cure itself.

Jumped Into Well With Babe.

Blomfield, Ind., Jan. 19.—Mrs. Rella Gibson, wife of Alexander Gibson, living near Jasonville, threw herself and her baby, a few months old, into a stock well on the farm of her father, Henry Lettinger, and both were drowned. A few weeks ago she made an attempt at suicide by hanging. She left a husband and two children.

Scrofula

It is commonly inherited.

Pale, weak, puny children are afflicted with it in nine cases out of ten, and many adults suffer from it.

Common indications are bunches in the neck, abscesses, cutaneous eruptions, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, rickets, catarrh, wasting, and general debility.

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Eradicate it, positively and absolutely. This statement is based on the thousands of permanent cures these medicines have wrought.

"The face of my little girl from the time she was three months old, broke out and was covered with scabs. We gave her Hood's Sarsaparilla and it cured her." T. M. CARLSON, Clinton, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

SAVED FROM THE FALLS

Owes His Life to a Scarf—Fell Into the American Channel.

A Couple Start From New York With Intention of Suicide.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 19.—James White, a foreman in charge of the reservation employees in this city, had a narrow escape from going over the American Falls late Friday afternoon. With L. A. Dietrich he was engaged in removing a ledge of ice in the American channel from the inlet to the hydraulic canal, which supplies water as a power for the operation of the incline railway. Although cautioned not to do so, he walked out on the ledge, when it separated, precipitating him into the water.

The accident was witnessed by Dietrich, who jumped into the channel and grabbed White by a scarf which was about his neck. He managed to hold his grip on White until assistance came in the person of another reservation employee. The two managed to pull White out of danger.

ON THE WAY TO SUICIDE.

The city police and the state reservation officers received an anonymous communication from New York, asking them to be on the lookout for a couple who had left that city on Friday with the intention of coming to Niagara Falls to commit suicide by jumping over the cataract. No names were given. The man and woman were fully described.

The communication further stated that it was the intention of the couple to stop at the Iroquois Hotel in Buffalo, and proceed to this city in the morning.

THE BELATED ST. LOUIS

Statement of the Company and the Captain.

Passengers' Stories Much More Bitter Than the Resolutions Show.

New York, Jan. 19.—The American Line have given out the following statement: "The delayed arrival of the St. Louis was caused by leaving Cherbourg late and by extremely bad weather. There was nothing in the known condition of her boilers that would have prevented her from reaching here after a normal passage. The marked loss of steaming power could not have been foreseen. Even in the light of our present knowledge there is nothing in any way that affects the perfect safety of the ship. The management most regret the inconvenience caused the passengers and the anxiety caused their friends."

WHAT THE CAPTAIN SAYS.

Captain Passow said: "We could not make fast time, and that was all. I did not know the passengers had passed any resolutions. I was called upon and explained that it would be impossible to transfer them to any other vessels." Asked why his ship had not been sighted by other vessels coming over the northern course, he said: "Some days we drifted ten or twelve miles out of our course. We often experienced snow squalls and the Pennsylvania did not sight us until after she had passed and was almost out of our sight."

When the captain was questioned as to the boilers he said the management of the line would have to speak on that subject. The vessel was to be laid up for repairs after her arrival here, and this was known on board. Manager Griscom, when questioned as to the resolutions adopted by the passengers, said they were unfortunate. "We did not have the least idea the vessel would not arrive on time."

PASSENGERS' STORIES.

A. P. Lloyd, of Baltimore, one of the first signers of the first cabin resolution, said: "The speeches made at the indignation meeting were much more fiery in tone and much more bitter against the management of the company than the resolutions show. We attempted to make the resolutions as dispassionate as possible. There was no pleasure or gaiety aboard the ship. Everyone was as depressed and angry as men and women could be in such a situation. Suspicion began the moment we left Southampton. When it began to be rumored about the ship that the boilers were defective, we began to hear that the management from the officers and stewards could learn nothing. Our fears were either laughed at or jocularly evasive. Some were made. But when the officers saw that we were in deadly earnest, and would not be in our endeavor to know the truth, they changed their attitude and told us promptly what we wanted to know, or told us that they knew nothing about the cause of the delay. All of the first-class passengers have put their cases into the hands of myself and Mr. Bernal as their lawyers, and authorized us to make such claims against the company as we see fit and to endeavor to collect damages."

Victor S. Allen, of Stamford, Conn., one of the first-class passengers, said: "I was in Paris and heard that the St. Louis had arrived at Southampton in a leaky and defective condition. I went to the agent of the line in Paris, told him of the reports, and told him also that I had booked a passage on the ship and wanted him to tell me the exact truth. He said: 'Those reports are malicious lies.' On this representation I came over in connection with an option on $500,000 of stock, which option expired on Jan. 15th. I do not know yet what my losses were, but I shall certainly sue the management of the line for the full amount of my losses."

Rev. Arthur Crane, of Savannah, Ga., said: "Whatever we may say in condemnation of the management of this line, and the way we are being treated, we should like it distinctly understood that none of our anger and indignation is directed at the officers and crew. We received nothing but courtesy and honorable treatment from them, and we do not hold them at all to blame for the hardships and dangers we have had to endure."

FOOD SUPPLY CUT DOWN.

After the first week the food supply was appreciably cut down, according to the statements of passengers, cream and eggs were taken from the breakfast menus, and only a small allowance of milk was given to each passenger.

From subordinate officers on the ship it was learned that the diet of the crew for the past week consisted solely of oatmeal and potatoes. After about a week the running water supply was cut off, and passengers could get water for toilet and bathing purposes only in buckets, as it was brought to them by the stewards.

ROGERS WORKS CLOSED

Trust Shuts Up the Famous Connecticut Silverware Plant.

Meriden, Conn., Jan. 19.—The big silverware manufacturing plant of C. Rogers & Bros. was closed on Saturday by the International Silverware Company, that recently absorbed it, and all employees were discharged. The sweeping edict includes the former president, Cephus Rogers, Gilbert, Wilbur P. George F. Arthur Eugene and Rolph, and other members of the corporation and family. Gilbert and Wilbur, the former treasurer and secretary of the company, will go into the manufacturing business in Danbury, but not in opposition to the trust.

Rogers was formed in 1856. They employed about 600 hands.

EVANGELIZING THE EAST

Japanese Missionary's Views on the Subject.

Work of Christianization Should Not Mean Denationalization.

Toronto, Jan. 19.—At Saturday's session of the missionary conference held in Victoria University, Rev. Y. Hiraiwa, B. A., president of the Japanese Methodist Conference, criticized the present methods of evangelizing the eastern countries, and said that Christianization should not mean denationalization, as is now so often attempted. Rev. Mr. Hiraiwa scored the opium trade and the manner in which the Anglo-Saxon races treated the Chinese and Japanese. He said: "If the opium trade was abolished and the Golden Rule was brought into the life of the western nations, then their sphere of influence would be greatly widened. Do not ill-treat the Chinese and then go in with the gospel and expect to see great results," he said. "There is," he continued, "too much Anglo-Saxonism, too much materializing, too much de-nationalizing, too much effort to control the people. Try to save them as a people; try to encourage them as to be self-reliant if you would succeed."

Then the reverend gentleman from the Orient traced the change of feeling in Japan. Several years ago it was a feeling of animosity to Anglo-Saxonism that dominated them; now this feeling has died away and their country is open and waiting for development. If you subdue us you cannot develop us. Make the religion taught an appeal not only to the soul, but to the intellect and morals, as well. You cry 'Canada for the Canadians.' Well and good. Then, why not apply the Golden Rule and allow China for the Chinese. How would it be if we came to Canada, which is a bread-eating nation, and demand that you retrace? Following this question, Rev. Mr. Hiraiwa showed how the world would change the condition of affairs. The nation would be changed from its kitchen to its ideals. National life was but an aggregate of individuals, and but an aggregate of individuals, and if the best results were to accrue from the effects of the Anglo-Saxon in the far east, respect must be shown to their traditions. If you would be loudly applauded at the close.
