Parkdale Surprised. Perhaps the surprise of the game was Parkdale's ability to tackle and their knowledeg of the game. It looked to be knowledeg of the game. It looked to be smothering defeat. Varsity expected a walk-over. Parkdale made a showing by reason of their own good and Varsity's loose play. Even Gall of the sure hands fumbled occasionally, and this gave Dixon, the bunty full back, an oppor-tunity to show that he is some little man with mighty sure hands. Varsity tight-ened up, and the last half of the game showed the teams at their respective forms. They lined up as follows: The Teams.

Varsity Not Up to Form. Varsity did not play the team that de-feated the Rough Riders a week ago. That team made no mistakes and played football all the time. Lawson was sev-eral miles away from his form at the Ottawa game, and Barber, Parkdale's fast outside, gave him little chance in the early part of the game. Barber, in addition to being a blood relative of greased lightning, is three storeys high, and thus was able to "collar" the big Varsity plunger before he could get away. London, Dec. 4 .-- Fog and rain played havoc with the football schedules to-day, especially in the Southern and Scot-tish Leagues.

But Lawson made a garrison finish just at the close, when he plowed right through the whole Parkdale tribe for a try. In this game Newton, Varsity's captain, did his usual yeoman service and displayed the generalship for which he displayed the generalship for which he is justly famed. Gage, Varsity's outside wing, came to Celtic 2, Kilmarnock 1, Dundee 1, Clyde 1.
