

ORDER INQUEST INTO DEATH OF MRS. MOXLEY FOLLOWING PRELIMINARY INQUIRY

Officials Believe Shooting By Son Accidental, But Would Clear Up Certain Circumstances

CORONER'S JURY TO HEAR EVIDENCE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Funeral of Victim To Be Held This Afternoon From Family Residence To B. M. E. Church

An inquiry into the circumstances surrounding the tragic death of Madame Moxley, who died on Saturday morning at 12.20 from injuries sustained when a .22 caliber revolver exploded in the hands of her son, Andrew, was opened on Saturday night at 6 o'clock. Sheriff Graham and T. Y. Stratton, provincial officer, began their investigation at 7 o'clock on Saturday and after an hour and a half spent in questioning young Andrew Moxley and members of the household, they reported to Crown Attorney J. C. Elliott, who immediately ordered an inquest.

The jury is composed of Harold Ferguson, 212 Emery street, Foreman; Robert R. Ferguson, Carol Smith, 1251 Hale street; Charles William Matthews, 911 Wellington street; William Edward Walters, 8 Johnson street; William L. Cook; Samuel Badalato; Albert J. Denney, 17 Beaconsfield avenue, and Frank Taylor.

It was impeded during the afternoon and after viewing the remains at the undertaking establishment of Ferguson & Sons it was decided to adjourn the inquest until Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Coroner Dr. Wilson and Crown Attorney Elliott both state that the inquest is being held for the purpose of bringing to light all facts in connection with the sad fatality. The authorities point out that one of the first questions to be dealt with at the hearing will be the presence of the death gun at the Moxley home.

THE REVOLVER

While refusing to make any definite statement as to what course they will pursue in the case, both crown attorney and coroner point out that had there been no gun in the Bernard avenue residence Mrs. Moxley would be alive today. On the other hand no reason has been advanced as yet for the presence of the revolver.

The statement of a young lady in the home that young Moxley was showing the gun to his mother when the accident occurred is contradictory to that made by Moxley himself. A young lady who was present at the shooting also told newspaper men on Saturday afternoon that Madame Moxley called her son Andrew to her bedside just before the end came and told him that she was sorry the accident had occurred and that she forgave him everything.

This is positively denied by Moxley, who declares that no statement was made by the deceased woman after the shooting. She retained consciousness to the last, he said, but she made no statement to anyone. The identity of the young lady who made this statement has not been learned.

On the other hand the authorities point out that there is no blame attached to anyone and the officials who have conducted the investigation so far frankly admit that the shooting looks like an accident. They merely want to investigate in order to bring

SCORES MODERN BANKING SYSTEM

Peter McArthur, Prominent Novelist, Addresses Topic Club

INCREASE LIVING COST

Speaker Claims Banks Turn Money Against the Public

The Current Topic Club held its seventh annual dinner and opening meeting for the season on Saturday evening in the dining-room of Smallman & Ingram's amid circus involvement, with congenial visitors and a full attendance of its membership and their ladies. Balloons "squawked" in a fancy parade and the brilliancy of the gathering, while individual bags of peanuts gave some of the favor.

The first event, a pea-blowing contest, in which the ladies alone were contestants, proved quite amusing and was won by Miss Grace Needham. The ring director, A. E. Cowley, introduced songs and the various features of the evening, which included a radio message from a very prominent visitor to Canada, who is holidaying on a ranch in the West.

The secretary, John W. Canill, made his report, specially indicating the devoting of the club, after which the retiring president, M. W. Altshuler, gave a valedictory in acknowledging the hearty support and co-operation of the members throughout a very profitable and enjoyable season.

President E. N. Hannah, in delivering his inaugural address, said it was with considerable regret that he assumed the reins of office of this noted club. It has within it a great variety of men who look at things with different views, and has an autocratic constitution and form of government. After appointing as the program committee George F. Copeland, chairman; Dr. J. Thornley Bowman and J. W. P. Jones, he introduced the honored guest of the evening, Peter McArthur, noted writer, who spoke on "Canadian Banking."

PETER MCARTHUR.

In beginning his address Mr. McArthur questioned humorously the capacity of anyone to distinguish current topics and propaganda. Mr. McArthur developed his talk along two lines, he claimed and illustrated with illuminating instances. He declared the Canadian banking system turns the profit of the people against themselves. The more money they save and place on deposit in the branch banks the more money goes to the head offices in Montreal and Toronto to promote and finance industrial combinations that increase the cost of living for the plain people.

In dealing with the history of the Canadian banking system since the organization of the Bankers' Association, he pointed out that it was evidently the policy of the men who control Canadian finance to eliminate the smaller banks as rapidly as possible by merging them with the larger banking institutions. He ventured the opinion that further failures are not likely in the near future, though his reason tended to show that further mergers are very possible.

GOVERNMENT INSPECTION.

An interesting feature of Mr. McArthur's address was a review of the activities and expressed opinions of the McLeod, who is general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia for 12 years before retirement in 1903. Mr. McLeod is the one Canadian banker who has steadily advocated government inspection of the banks and published a pamphlet in 1909, in which he pointed out the danger of secretive banking. In this pamphlet and also in his retiring address Mr. McLeod foreshadowed many of the recent developments in Canadian banking. He resigned from his position rather than keep up a fight against overwhelming odds. He disapproved entirely of the banking practices that, as he stated in the public press of December 9, of last year, must lead to a virtual monopoly of the savings of the Canadian people.

Ironically Mr. McArthur said some bankers have a hard time discerning between assets and liabilities. He pointed out there were more failures in the United States than in Canada, and when failures occur they take place in the head office and are known for years ahead. He also pointed out the sacredness and solemnity of a bank, touching on the clearing house, and claimed that ordinary arithmetic was all that was needed to successfully manipulate a banking concern where no fear of failure would enter.

While Mr. McArthur's address was closely reasoned in dealing with the bankers' situation, it was illumined with many satirical touches and humorous anecdotes.

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM.

Miss Grace Needham delighted the club with her song contributions, while Misses Dorothy and Gertrude Cahill gave violin duets, which won great applause.

ADVISERS APLENTY FOR GENERAL SMUTS

LONDON, Sept. 30.—The dominion delegations to the imperial conference and their staffs are all the guests of the British Government and are staying at palatial hotels. The Canadians have their headquarters at the Ritz.

At the Savoy Premier Smuts, of South Africa, has an organization like an army headquarters. Besides his suit for himself and staff he has four offices, consisting of his advisers' reception department, secretaries' rooms, typist and general section and quarters for Government officials.

In the lobby of the hotel a Boy Scout, covered with stars and orders of merit, is always on patrol awaiting instructions.

Mr. J. Parnell Morris acted as accompanist.

The concluding feature was the visit of a colored minstrel troupe, which with end men, jokes and negro melodies, kept the company in high glee with their parodies and tales portraying the frailties of the different members. The make-up of the participants, Arthur Beal and Dr. B. K. Keller as end men, and Mr. Kelly as a negro minstrel was done with great care and special attention to color, which reminded the audience of Lew Dockstater and George Primrose in their palmy days.

Before departing a hearty vote of thanks was proposed for the speaker and the contributing artists by J. Frank White, M.P., and seconded by Robert Greene, and the meeting then concluded with "Auld Lang Syne."

WOULD LOOK FOR GOOD IN BANDITS

Rev. Dr. Beattie Gives Sermon On God's Attitude Toward Robbers

AT FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Declares God Would Pursue Bandits With Redemptive Hand

Rev. Dr. William Beattie, C. M. G., preached at the First Presbyterian Church last night on the subject of "What Would God Do With a Bank Robber?" The speaker first defined a bank robber before outlining the divine procedure towards such.

"God would condemn a bank robber for his crime," he declared. "From Mount Sinai the law thundered, 'Thou shalt not steal.' And that law applies equally to such men as the four who escaped from the Kingston penitentiary and looted a bank in Toronto, and also to the president of a bank who loots his depositors of $100,000 by withdrawing that amount and covering that action by fake securities.

"The Almighty has clearly indicated His attitude towards private possessions. There are certainly things that we possess in common; but there can be no common ownership of private possessions of this nature. I believe, whatever wholesale communism and banditry is shown in the commandment against theft."

The speaker also declared that God would pursue a bank robber, but with a redemptive hand and not necessarily with the sole idea of conviction. God, he said, would be good in men.

FINAL JUDGMENT.

"At the final judgment, if I read my Bible aright," Dr. Beattie stated, "individuals will be judged by the majority of their character, not their minorities. Life is not a moment, it is a movement; it is program, not a point. Earthly courts of justice deal with details, but the court of heaven will judge characters of men more by their purposes."

In closing the speaker stated that God would point Calvary out to bank robbers, where, beside the crucified form of the Son of God, there hung two thieves, one of whom repented and with the Almighty in his dying gasp. There would also be a light out for the returning prodigal, bank robber or any other sort of criminal.

"The light is there, but some sink so far in their iniquities that they can no longer see the way back. The way back is a transgression in hand, and the road down is easy; the return is difficult. But it is a divine beneficence that this is so. For the hard way of return rebuffs the broken pillars of the soul, providing the will has not succumbed."

DEVASTATION A MEMORY.

A five-minute sermonette on the battlefield of Belgium, which Dr. Beattie recently visited, was given just before the principal address.

He stated that the devastation of southern Belgium, familiar to Canadians, has become a memory. The farmers of Belgium are well housed and the country is again a garden of herbs and flowers. The road down is easy; the return is difficult. But it is a divine beneficence that this is so. For the hard way of return rebuffs the broken pillars of the soul, providing the will has not succumbed."

The speaker visited Ypres, which has been rebuilt excepting the cathedral and the famous Cloth Hall that are being preserved as mementoes of the great years. The monument to the Canadians who took part in the second Battle of Ypres stands near the city.

SATISFIED WITH LEAGUE'S WORK

Delegates Disperse After a Month In Session

PRESIDENTS ADDRESS

Says League Is Growing More and More Respected

GENEVA, Sept. 30.—After a month's session, during which the period of the Greco-Italian crisis had been passed through to the final solution of the difficulty, the fourth assembly of the League of Nations adjourned yesterday in an atmosphere of satisfaction among the delegates for the achievements of the session and a firm hope in greater accomplishments in the future.

Dr. Cosme de Latorre, of Cuba, president of the assembly, in an eloquent valedictory address, expressed confidence that the day would come when all the nations of the world would join the league. He hoped that Ecuador, which signed but did not ratify the Treaty of Versailles, would become a member and that Mexico and Santo Domingo would also adhere to the world body, and he urged that the members which this year abstained from participation—Argentina, Peru, Bolivia, Guatemala and Nicaragua—would take part in future assemblies.

Reviewing the work of this year's meeting, the president praised the wisdom and skill displayed by the council in the Greco-Italian dispute.

The test to which it was subjected gave an opportunity for all to realize, he said, "how great for humanity the League of Nations—an organization which is growing more and more respected—had acquired."

Emphasizing the friendly spirit which had dominated all the deliberation Dr. Latorre declared there could be no more admirable spectacle than the statesmen of so many nations working together in perfect amity and sympathy, whatever their differences. He particularly mentioned the local and effective co-operation of the representatives of France and Great Britain.

The council of the league for the ensuing year will be composed of the same countries as for the current period, except that Czechoslovakia was elected to take the place of China.

Persia's solitary vote in opposition killed for this year any attempt to interpret article X of the covenant of the league—an interpretation Canada and many other countries desired. The council decided to drop this question for the present.

BAPTISTS BEGIN REVIVAL SERVICES

Rev. A. Torrie, Toronto, Speaks At Wortley Road Church

PERSONAL EVANGELISM

Cleric Urges Greater Work In Bringing Men To the Church

Revival services at the Wortley Road Baptist Church began yesterday morning with Rev. Alexander Torrie, of Toronto, and Mrs. Torrie as the leaders. A mass meeting held in the afternoon at 3.30 marked the actual launching of the evangelistic campaign, which is expected to be one of the most dramatic religious events of the year.

Efforts to-day are being directed towards organization for the campaign, which is under the direction of Rev. R. J. Murphy, pastor of the church, and his staff of workers. Meetings will be resumed on Tuesday night and held each evening throughout the week.

A feature of the revival services is the solo work by Mrs. Torrie, and the choir has been specially enlarged for the revival services.

Mr. Torrie's address yesterday afternoon was on the subject of personal evangelism. With dynamic illustrations of what may be accomplished by such methods he urged every professed Christian in the church to begin the great work of inviting men and women, boys and girls into the kingdom of Him they call Father.

"I venture to say," the speaker declared, "that not 10 per cent. of the church officers in this city or any city in Canada, are doing as much as they should be doing for the saving of souls."

He also launched an attack on the moral critic of the church.

"One man I know was telling me how he abhorred the presence of hypocrites in churches," Mr. Torrie declared. "He pointed out the failings in several people known to both of us. Then I turned to him and said, 'Are you a Christian?' I asked 'No,' he said. 'Where do you think these hypocrites you have been telling me about are going?' He replied 'I don't know that he thought they were going to hell. And where are you going?' I asked him, and without pausing he replied, 'You too, are going to hell, right along with the hypocrites and others in the churches whom you now condemn.'

The speaker closed with a special appeal to the children of the church for their co-operation in the revival campaign and on a display of hands it was evident that he has a united Sunday school behind him.

TO HOLD SPECIAL CHURCH SERVICES

Roman Catholics Observe Month of Devotion To Blessed Virgin

SACRIFICED FOR WORLD

Rev. Father Powell Gives Inspiring Talk At St. Mary's Church

Commencing the first of October special services, devoted to the Mother of God, are held in the Roman Catholic churches throughout the world, continuing for the entire month.

Speaking on the devotion in St. Mary's Church on Sunday, Rev. Father Powell told of the universal realization throughout the Catholic world of how much is owing to the Mother of God, and what she had done for the world in bearing the Redeemer of mankind.

"We all realize, or should realize, just how much we owe the Blessed Virgin Mary," he stated. "When we consider her as the young maiden selected by God to become the Mother of God, from out the population of the entire world at that time, it makes us realize that she must have had some wonderful qualities that none other possessed. Furthermore, if the Blessed Virgin had not given her consent to become the mother of the Divine Being, which by whom would we have been redeemed?"

"Others the world over have been called upon to offer their sons in sacrifice to the gods of war. They have borne up under the terrible calamity which has befallen their offspring ever since the world began, but how much more terrible must have been the suffering of the Mother of God, who, as Saviour when informed that her Son was to be put to death, by crucifixion, for the sins of others."

"The most wonderful complaint, however, and stood her great sorrow in that hour of redemption, in silence. She was called upon to sacrifice her offspring in martyrdom, for 35 years a man of never been comparable, and all because through the death of her Son the world was to be saved from eternal damnation."

"That is why," he concluded, "the Roman Catholic Church asks her sons and daughters to devote the month of October to the Blessed Virgin."

DENVER, Col., Sept. 30.—An earthquake of severe intensity was recorded on the seismograph at Regis College here at 6.35 o'clock last night, according to a report made to-day by Father Forestall, of the college faculty.

The record indicated a shock nearly as great as that of the recent earthquake in Japan, Father Forestall said.

CALISTO, Cal., Sept. 30.—A light earthquake shock traversed the Imperial Valley, both above and below the Mexican border this afternoon. No damage was done.

The speaker visited Ypres, which has been rebuilt excepting the cathedral and the famous Cloth Hall that are being preserved as mementoes of the great years. The monument to the Canadians who took part in the second Battle of Ypres stands near the city.

FINDS NO ANNEXATION SENTIMENT IN WEST

BY C. G. PORTER.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 30.—"In three months' tour of the Canadian West I have not heard a single person express an opinion in favor of annexation with the United States."

This was the observation of James Guthrie Scott, well-known railway contractor and manager, of Quebec. He has been a member of the royal grain inquiry commission visiting the four Western provinces. Continuing, Mr. Scott said:

"If there are any people on the prairies or in the mountains favorable to anything resembling annexation with the States I have not met them in these three months, and in that time I have talked to hundreds of persons."

DELORME TRIAL UNLIKELY BEFORE WINTER ASSIZES

QUEBEC, Sept. 29.—The second trial of Abbe Adelaire Delorme will likely be adjourned until next winter, when it will be called at the term of the criminal assizes in Montreal. The crown is reported to be anxious to deal with the numerous cases on the roll before taking up the lengthy trial, and the defense appears to be ready to wait developments until that time. Algey Taschereau, K. C., counsel for the defense, who has met them this morning, pressed the belief that the case would likely be delayed until that time and did not believe it would inconvenience either the prosecution or the defense.
