

not tell her, nor could her mother, for they had not come themselves. At length, going to her own little room, and kneeling down, she said : " Dear Jesus, I don't know how to come but I just DO come." When we come to Him in this way He will give us hearts pure and white and clean like this," (holding up the white page.)

Let us take David's prayer and make it our own. " Wash me, and I shall be whiter than snow." Then shall we be ready to enter with Him into that city which is of pure gold, and which has no need of the sun neither of the moon to shine in it, for the Glory of God does lighten it and there shall in no wise enter in to it anything that defileth, " but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life."

In this simple way, and by means of object lessons, an effort was made to bring the truths of the Gospel within the comprehension of the little ones and at the same time to retain their interest. The attendance kept up wonderfully during the first year, and until the place of meeting was changed, when there was suddenly a great falling off, and the work has not since been resumed on the same scale.

The experience of that year, however, proved that there are few fields of Christian service in which as rich a harvest of souls may be gleaned for the Master as in
