FARMERRS' COLUMN.

Opions are extensively used and profitably grown by some farmers. On clean soil they cost no more per hundred than potatoes.

Rye flour placed where bees can get it will supply them with pollen, and induce breeding several weeks earlier than the first blossoms appear.

The Popular Science Monthly says that whale oil was poured on a piece of horse's stomach that was covered with botworms, and it made them let go their hold and die immediately.

Invigorating fluid for plants :- 4 ounces sulphate ammonia; 2 do. nitrate potassa; 1 do. white sugar; 1 pint hot water. Keep corked. One tablespoonful to a gallon of water, twice a week.

The Builder recommends people who transplant trees to mark the north side of each tree with chalk before it is taken up, and replace it in its natural position. A larger proportion will then live, as by ignoring this transplanted trees generally perish.

A farmer who has profited by experience writes:

"In building a new barn, I would study to put in all the windows I could possibly get in, of course not making a greenhouse of it, but as many as most folks put into dwelling houses. It is so much better doing the work in a light barn than in a dark one; cattle are more easily taken care of, and are more quiet and better contented in a light place than in a dark one."

DESTROYING WEEVIL.—An old experienced seedman of Europe says:—" Very often in the spring I have noticed that the peas, beans, etc., for sale in the stores for seed were worm caten. The worm, and even the egg, may be easily destroyed by the bisulphide of carbon, a colorless, volatile liquid, having an odor like that of rotten eggs. If the barrel containing the seed is not quite full, moisten a piece of cloth with the liquor, lay it on the seeds, and cover the barrel with an old horse blanket .-The flavor of the bisulphide will sink down among the seed and destroy all animal life. The seed themselves will not be injured. Two or three ounces will be enough for half a dozen barrels.— The liquor is used in Europe to destroy the weevil

Hogs Want Sulphur .- Whether hogs require sulphur as an essential to health, or whether it is sought by them as a condiment, may not be discovered. But one thing is true, they devour it with greed, whenever it is to be found. It is for this purpose, probably, that they can eat large quantities of soft coal, which contains a large amount of sulphur. Perhaps this is the most economical method of supplying hogs without sulphur during winter, when they require a good deal of carbon. But in summer it is best to feed them in substances which contain less carbon, on account of their producing less heat. Mustard is one of the best things for this purpose, and some of it should be grown on every pasture into which hogs are turned. If hogs are kept in or are put in small yards, it is well to supply them with the wild mustard that grows in the fields, or highways, or to cultivate some of the better varieties for them. They will eat its leaves, its flowers, seeds and stalks .- Home Journal.

BARLEY AS HOG FEED .- As corn is frequently scarce and dear at the time hogs need it most, permit me to say a word in favor of barley. It should be sown on rich, dry land, as early as possible— land occupied the year before in corn or potatoes is preferable. It is a most excellent crop to seed down with, as it does not shade the ground to such an extent as most other crops. Two bushels per acre is the right quantity to sow. As soon as the barley is fairly up sow two bushels of plaster per acre. When fully ripe cut with a mowing machine or scythe, and let it get perfectly dry; then rake into windrows, draw in, and thresh at once. Ground and scoured it makes the cheapest and best hog feed I ever used. It is also excellent boiled or steamed with pumpkins or roots. The straw makes good fodder and bedding. The great beauty of the crop is its cheapness and carliness, coming just at the time when required most. By giving hogs the run of the orchard and feeding barley as recommended, I find no difficulty in making early Spring pigs dress over 300 pounds by Christmas. Corn-fed pork has a strong flavor, resulting from the acrid oil contained in the grain—a flavor not admired by any except Gentiles of the old type. Hogs intended for family use should be fed on ground barley, buckwheat or oats, for at least three weeks before slaughtering, to improve the flavor of their flesh That corn alone m kes solid pork is all bosh. As we have but one life to live here, let us have the best to cat that can be had, especially when the best is the cheapest .- [D. A. Compton, Wayne Washing on Working Butten.—Eds. Country Gentleman,—Seeing the communication of C. H. Bronson, Mich., in your paper of March 30th, I have decided to give my experience on the subject of washing butter. I find it to be a very general custom for women to do as their mothers did before them in nearly all matters relating to housekeeping, and in this particular branch of butter-making the rule is followed very strictly for a number of years after commencing for themselves. Time and experience works changes in many things, and after a while the young housewife finds her neighbour making a superior article of butter to her own, and in an entirely different manner. She therefore concludes her teaching may have been wrong, and she may endeavor to follow in the footsteps of her more successful friend. This is often done without taking a few lessons, and the consequence is a failure of the plan which she has been endeavoring to imitate, and the result naturally is that the practice is condemned entirely. The object to be gained by either working or washing butter before salting, is to free it from the buttermilk, and either process, if properly done, will be effectual. But right here is the great difficulty when the but-ter is worked instead of washed. While a great many dairy-women understand the art of working butter, a still larger class do not, and the result is that all the buttermilk will not be worked out, which will soon cause the butter to become strong. Washing effectually removes the buttermilk, and can be done in one fourth the time required to work it out which is an importent item to any farmer's wife, with her manifold duties. I can now count a dozen who are washing their butter to one who did so ten years ago, and we are not to suppose that they are doing an injury to their product. In regard to the churn used the same opinions prevail. We are using a Sanborn churn, which is I think, (like C. H.'s), a Vermont production, and. like his, the butter is washed and salted in the churn, and forty minutes is sufficient to do a churning of lifteen pounds and have it in pound prints ready for market. While I do not claim any superiority for washed over worked butter (if properly worked), I do claim that it is in no wise inferior, and that the time saved is sufficient, if the performance is understood, to cause a very general adoption of the method. In regard to putting hot water in the pails I efore milking, I have no facts to offer, never having tried it, but cannot see the use of it; yet I do not think in would in any way injure the quality of the butter .- Country Gentleman.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the

Throat and Lungs,

Whooping Cough,

Bronchitis, Asthma,

and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgetten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.

DIRECTED BY THE CHRISTIAN BROTHERS This thoroughly Commercial Establishment is un der the distinguished patronage of His Grace, the Archbishop, and the Rev. Clergy of the City.

Having long felt the necessity of a Boarding School in the city, the Christian Brothers have been untiring in their efforts to procure a favorable site whereou build; they have now the satisfaction to inform the patrons and the public that such a place has seen selected, combining advantages rarely

The Institution, hitherto known as the "Bank o' Upper Cardida," has been purchased with this view and is fitted up in a style which cannot fail to render it a favorite resort to students. The spacious building of the Bank—now adapted to educational purposes—the ample and well-devised play grounds purposes—the ample and well-devised play grounds and the ever-refreshing breezes from great Ontario all concur in making "De La Salle Institute" what ever its directors could claim for it, or any of its patrons desire.

The Class-rooms, study-halls, dormitory and refectory, are on a scale equal to any in the country. With greater facilities than heretofore, the Christian Brothers will now be better able to promote the physical, moral and intellectual .development of the students committed to their care

The system of government is mild and paternal yet firm in enforcing the observance of established discipline.

No student will be retained whose manners and morals are not satisfactory: students of all denominations are admitted. The Academic Year commences on the first Mon

PHILADELPHIA, June 28th, 1807.

SETH HANCE, Baltimere, Md.—Dear Ser: Seeing your advertisement, I was admered to try your Epileptic Pills. I was attacked with Epilepsy in July, 1838. Immediately my physician was summoned, but he could give no no relief. I then consulted another physician, but I seemed to grow worse. I then tried the treatment of another, but without any good effect. I again returned to my family physician; was cupped and bled several different times. I was generally attacked without any premonitory symptoms. I had from two to five fits a day, at intervals of two weeks. I was often attacked in my permonitory symptoms as severely injured several times from the falls. I was affected so much that I lost all confidence in myself. I also was affected in my business, and I consider that your Epileptic Pills cured me in February, 1863. I consider that your Epileptic Pills cured me in February, 1863. I was the first person who tried your Pills in this part of the country. My sea was badly afflicted with fits for two years. I wrote for and received two boxes of your Pills, which he took according to directions. He has never had a fit since. It was by my personasion that Mr. Lyon tried your Pills, ilis case was a very had one; he had fits nearly all his life. Persons have written to me from Andarma and Termessee on the subject, for the purpose of ascertaining my opinion in regard to your Pills. I have givany personanceded them, and in no instance where I have had a chance of hearing from their effect have they failed to cure. Yours, etc., C. H. Guy.

BY HANCE'S EPILEPTIC PILLS.

MONDOMERY, Texas, June 22th, 187.

To Seth S. Hanch:—A person in my employ had been afflicted with Fist, or Epilepsy, forthereen years; he had these attacks at intervals of two to four weeks, and often-times several in quick succession, sonetimes continuing for two or three days. On several occasions they lasted until his mind appeared totally deranged in which sinte he would continue for a day or two nice the fits censed, I tried several remedies prescribed by our resident physicians, but without success. Having seen your advertisement I concluded to try your mendy. I obtained two backs of your Pills, gave them according to directions, and they effected a permanent cure. The person is now a stout, healthy man, about 30 years of age, and has not had a fit since he commenced taking pour medicine, ten years since. He was my principal wargaar, and has, since that time, been exposed to the separest of weather. I have great confidence in your remedy, and would like every one who has fits to give it a true.
