

Public Printing and Stationery Act

the purchases, whether they are justified in having on hand $2 million worth of goods more than are needed. We should have a statement from the minister clearing up that situation.

Mr. Bradley: I take it, Mr. Chairman, that the king's printer has some knowledge of his department. I do not think it likely that he is going to carry more stock than he actually needs for the purpose of his department.

Mr. Knowles: May I ask one question? Are there any wages unpaid because of this so-called shortage of money?

Mr. Bradley: No wages unpaid, Mr. Chairman.

The Deputy Chairman: Subject to the observations that have been made by the minister and accepted by the hon. member for Greenwood, I understand that clause 2 is carried.

Section 2 agreed to.

Title agreed to.

Bill reported.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Fournier (Hull): Mr. Speaker, I move the adjournment of the house. On Monday we will resume the debate on the address.

Motion agreed to, and the house adjourned at 4.40 p.m.
