

limit. The fact is that the moment this legislation comes into operation the amendment would add to the charges upon the crown, because this limit may or may not be reached. It certainly will not be reached in the first year; that is quite evident. In the meantime the amendment would have added to the charges upon the crown. Therefore I think it is quite clear that this amendment is out of order. It is not the kind of amendment that can be introduced by a private member of this house.

The Chairman: I do not think I have much difficulty in upholding the view of the minister. It seems to me that the purpose of the bill is clearly set out in the explanatory note at the beginning. Furthermore, I would say that if we considered the amendment from another aspect it would widen the scope of the bill. Therefore, for those two reasons, I rule this amendment out of order.

Mr. Herridge: Mr. Chairman, we agree with the view advanced by the hon. member for Bonavista-Twillingate, that this does not increase the total financial responsibility of the government. Therefore I appeal your ruling.

Mr. Speaker resumed the Chair, and the chairman of the committee made the following report:

In the committee of the whole when Bill No. C-40, respecting loans to proprietors of small business enterprises for the improvement and modernization of equipment and premises was being considered, Mr. Herridge moved an amendment as follows:

"That paragraph (d) of clause 2 be amended by adding, immediately after subparagraph (iii), the following:

'(iv) the purchase or construction of a business enterprise;'"

I ruled the amendment out of order on the ground that it involved an expenditure which could not be proposed by a private member; and, moreover, it went beyond the scope of the bill. Whereupon Mr. Herridge appealed to the house from the ruling of the Chair.

Mr. Speaker put the question as follows:

The question before the house is an appeal to the house from a decision of the chairman of the committee of the whole as follows:

In committee of the whole when Bill No. C-40, respecting loans to proprietors of small business enterprises for the improvement and modernization of equipment and premises was being considered, Mr. Herridge moved an amendment as follows:

"That paragraph (d) of clause 2 be amended by adding, immediately after subparagraph (iii), the following:

'(iv) the purchase or construction of a business enterprise;'"

The chairman ruled the amendment out of order on the ground that it involved an expenditure which could not be proposed by a private member; and, moreover, it went beyond the scope of the bill. Whereupon Mr. Herridge appealed to the house from the ruling of the Chair.

Division

The house divided on the question: Shall the ruling of the chairman be confirmed? And the ruling was confirmed on the following division:
