

"God, whoe'er God be,
Keep us from withering as the lords of Rome,
Slackening and sickening toward the imperious end
That wiped them out of empire. Yea, he shall."

SWINBURNE, Rosamund.