

covered. I mention this circumstance to show how early the young Indians are bred to the chase. Another instance of their being early bred to war is, that I myself saw a rifled barrell'd gun taken by an Indian boy from an American whom he shot dead in the action of the 4th of November last, and allowed to keep on account of his gallant behaviour. Tea was on the table when we came in, served up in the handsomest China plate and every other furniture in proportion. After tea was over, we were entertained with the music of an elegant hand organ, on which a young Indian gentleman and Mr Clinch played alternately. Supper was served up in the same genteel stile. Our beverage, rum, brandy, Port and Madeira wines. Captain Brant made several apologies for his not being able to sit up with us so long as he wished, being a little out of order, and we being fatigued after our journey went timeously to rest; our beds, sheets, and English blankets, equally fine and comfortable.

NEXT day being Sunday, we the visitors went to church. The service was given out by an Indian in the absence of the minister, who was indisposed, and I never saw more decorum or attention paid in any church in all my life. The Indian squaws sung most charmingly, with a musical voice I think peculiar to
