couragement to those who are interested in Canada's and especially Ontario's vast iron Dre deposits.

Discussing the problem of obtaining iron ore supplies for the present immense world's production of iron and steel, The Statist says: The world's output of pig iron in 1848s is computed at 35,000,000 tons. That, on the usually accepted basis of two truss of ore to one ton of pigs, represents 70,000,000 tons of ironstone, Are the known resources of the producing countries equal to a continuous drain on that scale? But the output of pig iron this year—if America reaches her 14,000,000 tons, Great Britain makes up for the Welsh stoppage of last year and more, and Germany continues at present rate—will be, say, 38,000,000 tons, which represents 76,000,000 tons of ore must be reckoned to one ton of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced 8,631,151 tons of pig iron, for, while we absorbed, as shown above, nearly 20,000,000 tons of ore last year, we only produced

Given a man with a fair knowledge of geology, mineralogy, ore deposits, mining and the different processes for extracting the precious metals, combined with business intelligence and a thorough appreciation of the whole situation from the standpoint of the investor, and his advice, hearkened to by the people of Ontario, would in 1896-7 have prevented the loss of over

$1,000,000 a worthless mining schemes; and, instead f slipping away so simply, this money hould have turned into big profits.
