Third Annual Meeting a Gratifying Success.

Reports of the Executive Board and Financial Statements Adopted.

Officers Elected - The Good the Society Has Accomplished.

The Children's Aid Society held their third annual meeting in the council chamber yesterday afternoon. Previous to the regular meeting a private session was held for the discussion of some matters unimportant to the society. President Thos. R. Parker occupied the chair, and around the chamber were seated Humane Inspector Sanders, Mr. Fred. Matthews, W. H. Wortman, W. J. Sunby, Sheriff Cameron, A. Thompson, Prof. Harrison, Mrs. Beattie, Mrs. Hyman, Mrs. Macbeth, Mrs. Mulkern and Miss Long. At four o'clock the public meeting was opened, and the following report of the executive board read by the president:

"With gratitude to God, and confilay before you our report of the work done by the Children's Aid Society during the year 1895-96. We are happy to note that as the days pass by, and the public become more acquainted with the aims and objects of the Children's Protection Act of the Ontario Legislature, we are having conferred on our work increased sympathy and aid. With hopeful vision we look out upon the future, and see the day speedily approaching when this banner Province of Ontario shall be organized to its remotest bounds, and the Christ-like work of blessing the orphaned and neglected children prosecuted with In the meantime the utmost vigor. we purpose attacking the work with have rendered. "To the superintendent of neglected and dependent children of Ontario, Mr. J. J. Kelso, we are indebted for much assistance, and our solicitors, Messrs. Magee, McKillop & Murphy, have rendered services that put the society under lasting obligation to

"We have to thank the City Counci for a donation of $150, and the County Council for $25, the latter having promised to pay $1 per week, and also for clothing, for all county children temporarily sheltered, without going through the necessary form prescribed by the act. The thanks of ciety are also due to Mr. Frank Cooper, for his kindness in photographing the children free of charge. "During the year an agreement was effected between the Children's Aid Society, the Protestant Orphans' Home and the Roman Catholic Home, by which the city children coming under our care will be given temporary shelter, foor and raiment during residence in the homes free of charge, county children to be charged for at the rate of $1 a week. For this agreement we are largely indebted to his Worship Mayor Little and the City Council. by our agent. Sixty-four have been taken charge of by the society. Twenty-nine children, boys and girls, have been placed during the year in good, comfortable homes, and are practically adopted, and are surrounded, in every case, by the best influences, particular care being taken by the society to select only such homes as can qualify in this respect. Mrs. Harspecting some of them, says they are the best homes that she had met with so far. Seventeen of these 29 children have been turned over to theguardianship of the society by various magistrates and judges, 7 children returned to their parents, 5 were delivered over to the Barnardo and Feggan Homes, to which they belonged; one to the Good Shepherd's Home; 3 were committed to Penetang Reformatory; 1 baby died in the hospital; 13 are on hand awaiting adoption, the balance being left in the hands of the inspector by the police magistrate. Fif-teen of the 64 are children from the county. "Over 60 children were dealt with under the Juvenile Act in the courts, including those mentioned above. Also other boys coming into the city, over

If the Government would establis a monthly paper, having a monthly report from every society, giving the number of boys and girls they have on hand waiting for homes, with their ages, etc., and the applications for children they have received, and other news, it would put the societies in touch with each other, and the children would be placed in homes quicker, and the societies would be worked with better effect." The report was received and adopted as read, after which the following financial statement was read:

WHY HE RETIRED. Lord Rosebery then referred to his retirement from the leadership of the Liberal party, saying that the differcidents that had induced him to rehis party successfully. His Government, in its early days, had been defeated by its own followers. The polcy he had suggested for the election had not been adopted. Finally, Mr. the next few months he will find him-Gladstone had innocently administered self in a position of greater strength the coup de grace. The internal differences in the party had been equal to the external difficulties. His action had been so hampered as to render his position untenable. He had tendered his resignation to his colleagues after the election. Lord Rosebery, in conclusion, thanked Messrs. Fowler, Asquith, Pryce and Arnold Morley for their cordial support. A RESOLUTION OF REGRET. The meeting unanimously adopted a resolution expressing gratitude for the manner in which Lord Rosebery had led the Liberal party, deeply regretaction and resume the leadership. Lord Rosebery replied that his decision was the result of mature reflecdyes, have given up selling them, and tion, and had been taken with the now they recommend only the reliable conviction of its absolute necessity. "Diamond."

CLUB COMMENT. The clubs here last night were filled with members, who eagerly awaited a report of Lord Rosebery's speech at Edinburgh. A column report was devoured with avidity, and the references to the reasons that caused Lord Rosebery to throw up the leadership of his party were excitedly discussed. A great throng filled the National Liberal Club, which presented the appearance it does at the time of a general election. Lord Rosebery's reference to Messrs. Fowler, Asquith, Bryce and Arnold Morley, which defined the cleavage in the Rosebery Cabinet, especially interested the readers of the speech. His response to the resolution adopted at the meeting was regarded as leaving open the question of his possible resumption of the leadership.
