Driver Was in Pursuit of Villa,
But Came North To Join
Real Army.

Driver William Illingsworth of the 68th Battery, Montana ranch hand, crack shot with rifle, revolver and knife, left thrower and horse wrangler, has finally subdued the worst bucking horse he ever threw a leg over.

That horse was Sign, the big outlaw stallion, "Bill," six feet and over, but was wrestling with the man for five years. He comes from near Butte, Montana, and except for 14 years in the American army, he has been working as a ranch hand all his life. He went down the line, and when he was with the army, the moral atmosphere didn't improve.

He was with a cavalry regiment at Fort Worth, Texas, guarding the border until he came to Canada, after mustering out. He was after that in the Columbia River district, where he lay behind hills and shot 50 rounds of .357 ammunition, on which he was paid $150. He was then in the 10th Cavalry, where he was paid $150. He was then in the 10th Cavalry, where he was paid $150.
