

The Dominion Weekly

VOL. XV., No. 137. PAGES ONE TO EIGHT

ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1919

SIXTEEN PAGES—ONE CENT

Happy Thousands See Canada Again After Years In War

MORE THAN 5,000 REACH HALIFAX

The Lapland and the Belgic In With Troops

NEW BRUNSWICK V. C.

Lieut. Colonel Peck Home—311 for This Province—Names of St. John Soldiers on the Lapland

—Professor Andrew MacPhail Talks on Big Questions Overseas

(Special to The Times). Halifax, March 1—Five thousand officers, non-commissioned officers and men of the Canadian Expeditionary Force returned to Canada via Halifax today.

The Lapland and the Belgic, both of the White Star Line, arrived here today and before midnight the returning soldiers were on their way home.

The Lapland, which was chartered by the government, brought home 3,194 other ranks. A total of 4,000 other ranks for the St. John division and left as a brigade major with the engineers. He spent forty months in France.

Officers on the Lapland included: District No. 6—Lieut. C. R. Korman, Hanover, Ont.; Lieut. A. R. Ramsay, Toronto; Nursing Sister E. G. McPhail, Pictou; Nursing Sister F. H. Christie, Truro.

District No. 7—Lieutenants G. S. Ruthier, Chesley, Ont.; E. Howell, Jerseyville, Ont.; Nursing Sister J. Peters, Bothwell.

Other officers on board were: Major S. G. McDougall, Moncton; Lieut. N. Wilson, Chatham, N. B.

The Belgic arrived here early this afternoon and docked at the entrance of the harbor. This is not the Belgic's first trip to Halifax during the war when her arrival or sailing could not be made known.

The Belgic was under construction when the war began and when the submarines were ordered to be built a scarcely the work on her was rushed along and she carried thousands of troops.

The N. B. Men. A wire was received by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Commission, notifying him that the following men have arrived at Halifax on the Lapland and will proceed to St. John by special train tonight and arrive here Sunday morning.

The S. S. Boldo would dock at Halifax this afternoon and the men from her would come on the same train as the Lapland men. The men will all stop off at their home stations as the train comes along and those coming to St. John will go immediately to their homes.

SCHOOL HOUSE. The old Douglas avenue school building was sold at public auction at Chubb's corner at noon today by T. T. Lantieri. George E. Day became the owner for $2,025.

all the smoothness of a university of Canadian hospital. The attacks upon the service, which were so common in the beginning had long since ceased and the care of Canadian sick and wounded from the front line back to Canada had been a model for all the forces.

With reference to the returned soldier, Sir Andrew said that he, the soldier, appreciated fully all that was being done in the matter of his return to civil life.

In Major MacPhail's opinion the returned soldier would be slipping a separate class, but would merge themselves into the community. The few agitators and malcontents need not be too seriously regarded.

As for the attitude of the veterans to war, they insisted they would not go to war again, unless it was a matter of the last resort, and they were contented and glad to be home, and greatly interested to see what changes had taken place during the last four years.

Major MacPhail was accompanied by his son, Captain J. B. MacPhail, who went over as a captain with the first division and left as a brigade major with the engineers.

He spent forty months in France. Officers on the Lapland included: District No. 6—Lieut. C. R. Korman, Hanover, Ont.; Lieut. A. R. Ramsay, Toronto; Nursing Sister E. G. McPhail, Pictou; Nursing Sister F. H. Christie, Truro.

District No. 7—Lieutenants G. S. Ruthier, Chesley, Ont.; E. Howell, Jerseyville, Ont.; Nursing Sister J. Peters, Bothwell.

Other officers on board were: Major S. G. McDougall, Moncton; Lieut. N. Wilson, Chatham, N. B.

The Belgic arrived here early this afternoon and docked at the entrance of the harbor. This is not the Belgic's first trip to Halifax during the war when her arrival or sailing could not be made known.

The Belgic was under construction when the war began and when the submarines were ordered to be built a scarcely the work on her was rushed along and she carried thousands of troops.

The N. B. Men. A wire was received by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Commission, notifying him that the following men have arrived at Halifax on the Lapland and will proceed to St. John by special train tonight and arrive here Sunday morning.

The S. S. Boldo would dock at Halifax this afternoon and the men from her would come on the same train as the Lapland men. The men will all stop off at their home stations as the train comes along and those coming to St. John will go immediately to their homes.

SCHOOL HOUSE. The old Douglas avenue school building was sold at public auction at Chubb's corner at noon today by T. T. Lantieri. George E. Day became the owner for $2,025.

DIED IN BOSTON. News of the death of John Holland at his home in East Boston, was received today. He died last night. Mr. Holland, who was a son of the late John and Margaret Holland, of Pleasant Point removed to Boston about thirty years ago and since then had made his home there.

He is survived by his wife, one daughter, and one sister, Mrs. John T. O'Brien of Fairville. He had been ill for several months and Mrs. O'Brien, knowing that the end was approaching, had been on to Boston last week to see him. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

NOT TILL JUNE 1. The Board of Trade was advised this morning that the definite Railway War Board circular No. 97, has been postponed until June 1. This circular extended the time of credit for the payments on shipments of freight, from ninety-six hours to seven days, and was to become operative immediately, but there are other features of the circular that the Canadian Manufacturers' Association are looking into, therefore causing the delay.

SCOTIAN HAS A LARGE NUMBER

Liner Lands Troops at Sand Point This Morning

A GOOD VOYAGE

St. John Nurse Among the Number—A Cadet Who Won the V. C.—Names of New Brunswickers On Board

The grim tale of war was plainly written on the faces of the soldiers who arrived on the S. S. Scotian today. The trip across was uneventful. The weather being ideal and good time made.

There was very little sickness on board and the voyage was enjoyed. Among the civilian passengers was Stanley E. Elkin, M. P., of St. John, who has been in Europe since the first of the year on business.

There were distinguished soldiers aboard the Scotian. From the simple privates to the highest ranked officer on the ship there were visible signs of a long and successful career.

There were many "originals" to come across and they were the most joyful of the party. All were glad to see the shores of Canada once again. As one said: "We can appreciate this little land of the Maple-Leaf now because most of us have fought hard to keep it from the Huns. Believe me, the Canadians made a good job of it."

Of the outstanding officers aboard was Cadet Coppings who wore on the breast of his tunic the coveted Victoria Cross ribbon. Cadet Coppings is an unassuming soldier, small and possessing a weight of determination underneath a look that goes right through one. Contented and polite, he is typical of the Canadian soldier. Cadet Coppings termed himself a "wanderer" when asked for his representative where he came from. He is enlisted with the Canadian Cavalry, Alberton, and is serving in the trenches.

He was transferred to the 8th Battalion with the 1st Regiment in the trenches, and, as he says himself, "I have been in the trenches a large number of months" and he would like to scratch his head and think-long now.

It was during the attack on Beaufort August 9, 1918, in the Amiens push that Cadet Coppings won his decoration. He was recommended for a commission and the V. C. He got the letter and left for England through one of his lieutenants, but while he was studying the armistice was signed. Cadet Coppings is now on his way to Winnipeg where he will secure his discharge.

IN HONOR OF SOLDIERS. A very pleasant evening was spent at the residence of Mrs. Cecil Frazer, 80 Elm street, on Thursday in honor of her brother, Pte. Ernest Brown, who just returned from the front. Private Brown felt that he was warmly welcomed home as about fifty people gathered and also a pair of cuff buttons and a stipple and a signet ring were presented to him.

Private Brown played the violin while other music was also enjoyed. Refreshments were served and all returned to their homes after having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

A few friends and relatives of Thos. Latham, Jr., gathered together at his home, Prospect Point, last evening and spent a very enjoyable evening with games, music, etc. Mr. Duthight on behalf of those present presented to him a signet ring in honor of his return home after having served with the American army. Mr. Latham, although taken very much by surprise, made a very suitable response.

SAVING IT UP AGAIN. The Dominion Savings Bank officials report the deposits for the month of February as $77,613.92, and withdrawals, $80,842.29. A like condition existed in January showing that St. John's saving people have settled down again to banking their surplus after the bond furies, etc.

PRESENTATION. At the home of Mrs. A. Johnston, 105 Hilyard street, on Tuesday evening, about thirty friends gathered in honor of her birthday. Games, music and dancing were enjoyed. At the close of the evening Miss Blanche Jones, on behalf of those present, presented to Mr. and Mrs. Johnston a beautiful hat tree.

MAXIMIZES A TIE-UP OF PAYING PLANS

Fisher Resolution for Payment by General Assessment Carried, But Two Oppose; That Would Prevent Bond Issue

A difference of opinion which came to a head at a special meeting of the city commissioners this morning may result in tying up the street paving plans for a year.

The mayor announced that the meeting had been called at the request of Mr. Fisher, who wished to secure a decision on the proposed resolution providing for the laying of pavements and estimates by general assessment. It appears, however, that the resolution will be held up.

Mr. Fisher then presented a petition signed by property owners in Douglas avenue protesting against the application of the local improvement act, either to paving or curbing, and submitted a report and recommendations.

Regarding the paving of Prince William and several other business streets, your commissioner begs leave to report that a serious obstacle has arisen. Some members of the council, it appears, are not willing to proceed with this paving under the present taxation method.

YOUNG COMMISSIONERS FURRY. The council on Monday night, without the unanimous consent of the council for the necessary bond issues, passed a resolution that a petition signed by the city fathers (continued on page 3, first column).

IMPROVEMENT OF CATTLE IS DISCUSSED. Frederickton, N. B., March 1.—Hon. W. B. Tupper today announced that the livestock branch of his department and the Dominion livestock branch had united upon a policy which will do more than any other plan for the improvement of the breed of horned cattle in New Brunswick.

The Dominion branch has arranged with the provincial department to organize breeders' associations, composed of the best breeders in each county, resident in any one locality. Each association may adopt one of the breeds, Shorthorn and Shorthorn, and the association may make application for a government grant.

Dr. Sokolow said the Jewish delegation of the historic title of the Jewish people to Palestine and the right to reconstitute their national government, that the council of ten gave attentive hearing to the Zionist case, and that so far as he could judge the prospects were good for favorable action.

Dr. Sokolow said the Jewish delegation of the historic title of the Jewish people to Palestine and the right to reconstitute their national government, that the council of ten gave attentive hearing to the Zionist case, and that so far as he could judge the prospects were good for favorable action.

DEATH OF W. RAE WILSON. The death of W. Rae Wilson took place at his home in Yarmouth, N. S., this morning at the age of sixty-five. He had been ill for some time. Mr. Wilson was a traveler for the Corona Candy Company, and was a son of the late Rev. Dr. Wilson of Sheffield, N. B. Besides his wife he leaves one sister, Mrs. J. A. Draper, 25 Elliott row, who received the sad news of his death. He was very well known in St. John, and a large number of friends will be sorry to learn of his death.

MARTIAL LAW IN MADRID. Madrid, March 1.—Martial law has been declared in Madrid and troops are patrolling the streets. Order has been restored, but some of the streets have been closed. This action was the result of rioting against profiteers.

Calls For Substantial Tariff Cut Resolution in Manitoba Legislature; Action to Lead to Free Trade With Britain

Winnipeg, March 1.—Captain A. W. Myles yesterday afternoon gave notice in the legislature that on Tuesday he will move that the federal government be asked to pass legislation on this session giving an immediate and substantial relief from the duties on raw wool.

The resolution also asks for the reduction of the customs duty on goods imported from Great Britain to one half the rates charged under the general tariff on British imports that will ensure Canada and Canada in five years.

MISS WARNER HOME NEXT WEEK WITH MANY HONORS WON

Paris, Mar. 1.—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests, cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

St. John May Be Home of Big British Shipbuilders

CLEVER IRISH GIRLS HELPED SINN FEIN LEADER TO ESCAPE

Paris, Mar. 1.—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests, cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

St. John May Be Home of Big British Shipbuilders

CLEVER IRISH GIRLS HELPED SINN FEIN LEADER TO ESCAPE

Paris, Mar. 1.—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests, cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

St. John May Be Home of Big British Shipbuilders

CLEVER IRISH GIRLS HELPED SINN FEIN LEADER TO ESCAPE

Paris, Mar. 1.—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests, cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French government than the St. John lady, who for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff. She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

St. John May Be Home of Big British Shipbuilders

CLEVER IRISH GIRLS HELPED SINN FEIN LEADER TO ESCAPE

Paris, Mar. 1.—According to a story told by Sean O'Connell, Sinn Fein, to the Associated Press, Edward de Valera was enabled to escape from Lincoln prison in England through the cleverness of two handsome and cultured Irish girls, who dressed as hop girls, crossed the Channel, went to Lincoln, Ireland, with the guests, cabin, then away from the back gate and eventually enabled de Valera's friends to open the gate and whisk him away in an automobile.

It is understood St. John will do honor to the intrepid little lady who at the outset of the struggle rushed off to France with an hospital equipment donated by the French army by a wealthy English lady. In a detached way, but quite in accord with general hospital science, Miss Warner worked night and day for her "beloved Pottius," assisted by an equally enthusiastic staff.

She was not only a nurse, but a social worker, and a contributor to a glorious victory, Miss Warner is journeying home via New York, where her French passport was issued in London.

Perhaps no woman in the war has received more recognition from the French