London, Nov. 12—(By Mail)—London, declared Alee R. Mawson, to a Westminster Gazette representative, could be made into a gardin city if residents only knew how to make use of their great opportunities.

Mr. Mawson is a well known authority on civic planning, and he declared that one of the brightest ideas for brightening London would be to use its enormous aereage of flat roofs for building gardens. Londoners, however, did not know how to use their opportunities.

"Our únrivalled Thames, too, is wasted. There is hardly one well planned garden on the river front from Westminster to Kew," he declared.

White Plains, N. Y., Dec. 4.—Bills
In the husband had left no property, the original will of the late Jerome W. Coombs, who died more than five years ago in Scarsdale, was thought to be valueless and was lost. Then the fact that it was a valuable document materialized and the widow, Mrs. Sarah, Virginia Coombs, of Scarsdale, conducted a long and diligent search for it, which proved futile.

TO ENJOIN DIVORCE "VAMPS."
Judge Hurley Plans Drastic Action in "Triangle" Cases.
Chicago, Dec. 4.—The third side of a triangle divorce case will be broug to into court and if necessary enjoined from seeking, talking with, or writing to either principal in the case, so Judge Tlmothy D. Hurley of the Superior Court announces. The jurist recently declared himself against easy divorces.
"I intend, when getting a reconcilable case, to dispose of the influence of the vamp, man or woman, as the case may be, by ordering him or her not to talk, write or see the woman or man, by issuing an injunction," the judge said.

It was after midnight. In the darkened doorway of a department store near 42nd street I saw a man fumbling uncertainly in the shadow. After watching him for a few moments I saw that he was blind. In his hand he carried a little rose. "I was trying to take this flower," he said, "to my little girl who lives in 6th avenue." He thought it was nine o'clock in the morning. I walked to the door leading to the little apart-
