New York, July 23 .- The Tribune says: "John Cox, an English barrister, staying of the dissolution of parliament was terms of the special contract on the at the Waldorf, is looking for Henry Pollexfen, son of Capt. Pollexfen, a retired seaman, who was murdered in London last winter. He says he has a fortune for the young man. In Miss Hickey and Miss Newcombe, two round numbers nearly three-quarters of French third estate, to exist as a rea million dollars was found deposited in volutionary body in defiance of the Mrs. Lampman and Miss A. Ryan London banks in his father's name. Mr. Cox had intended, he says, to conduct search for the missing heir quietly and through the proper channels, but the loss of a Spanish gold piece bearing a portrait of the missing heir forced him to insert the following advertisement in a paper yesterday. 'A reward of $1,000 for the men say the whole of the Black Sea present address of Henry Pollexfen, son of Captain Pollexfen, who was murdered recently in London; also suitable reward for Spanish gold piece bearing portrait and inscription on one side, lost on Fifth avenue yesterday.'

"Mr. Cox was found last night at the Waldorf, and after saying that he was a member of a firm of English barristers with offices at Bishopgate, he told the story of Captain Polloxfen's life. Briefly, it appears that he had been for the greater part of his life captain of a British steamer. Nobody believed he had much money. He retired early last fall. Those who watched him closely found that he was eccentric and frequented queer places. He went into the quietest section of East London and rented rooms. He kept to his room for a few weeks and carefully guarded against any search, while about the opening of winter he changed his mode of life. Mr. Cox said he gave dinners and lived high for a time. One night last November he was murdered, his chest broken into and $100,000 in Spanish gold and other valuables carried the week, 20,655 tons; total for the murder. convention of the new assembly will still further postpone his time unless the new parliament promises to be more amenable than the present. The delay in naming the time for the new elections seems to indicate a change in the present basis of suffrage to perhaps a basis of universal suffrage, by which means the advisors of the Emperor hope to swamp the vote of the intelligent liberals, etc., with the im-

The advocates of the "mailed fist" believe that by dissolving parliament and provoking a collision now they will find the revolutionary leaders not prepared for an uprising as at Moscow where a further delay would give the revolutionists the time necessary to organize and to continue the corruption of the army. about the ocean drive. In the afternoon launches were secured, and the party taken up the Arm to the Gorge. All were delighted with the scenery, and reaching the park the visitors all enjoyed a plunge in the waters of the Arm. The farewell was taken of the visiting ad. men at the C. P. R. wharf when the Princess Victoria left for Seattle with the most of the visitors. Only Messrs. Read, of Los Angeles; Green, of Spokane; Le Serge, of Los Angeles, and Bernard, of "The Oaks," Portland, remained in Victoria until to-day. The first three mentioned left

At the wharf the members of the asociation expressed their appreciation of the courtesy extended to them in Victoria. There was more than the ordinary feeling shown, it being evident that they had enjoyed their visit in a more than ordinary way. The visitors sang "Auld Lang Syne, 'For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" with numerous variations, etc. Cheers were the Development and Tourist Association, and all others who had contributed to their entertainment. They finally in order to show that they had had nothing to mar the enjoyment proposed a cheer for every one in Victoria which was considered comprehensive enough for all practical purposes.

The party left in the best of spirits rejoicing in the memory of a good convention and a well filled outing. It is probable that the next conven tion may go to Spokane, A. Green of that city having made a very strong bid for it. If it does not come north it
