A dispatch says: "Two blocks of Goldfield's business and residence section were totally destroyed by fire late a Sturday. The loss is estimated at $200,600. The fire originated in the basement of Mrs. Wilson's millinery store from a gasoline stove. The flame read to R. Romer's brokerage office and automobile establishment, which blew up. A new $40,000 hotel being built by Boyer and other stockholders lasted about twenty minutes. The Nevada state detective agency and Grand View hotel, just across the street, soon followed. A light wind blowing away from main street was all that saved the town from total destruction. Tent's were eveled as if by a whirlwind, houses thrown out of the way of the flames and the fire finally gotten under control. Hundreds of men are now throwing sand
