WAS LOVED BY ALL. Details of the Last Hours of Late Rev. D. MacKay of Formosa.

Particularly sad details of the death of Rev. D. MacKay of Formosa, the eminent Presbyterian minister, have been received in a letter to a relative at Woodstock, Ont., from his son. His father was conscious within three hours of death, after twenty hours intense suffering. All through his illness he was anxious about his work. Two days before his death he got up and stole out without any one seeing him and went to Oxford College. A student found him and brought him back, but he insisted on returning. He took a chair and explained that he was about to conduct the annual examinations. His delirium lasted for some time. When his death was announced large crowds began to flock from all parts of the island. Few natives could restrain themselves from tears. Many did not partake of food for days. Some travelled as far as 50 miles to be present at the funeral.

A HARBOR OUTING. Eighteen People Had a Jolly Time in a Big Sail Boat Yesterday Afternoon.

The executive of the Tourist Association took a party of newspaper men and some common folks down past the spar buoy and the beacon yesterday to hear what the wild waves were saying. The wild waves also heard some unfamiliar talk, for when the land lubbers began to real off what they supposed was the true language of the sailor-man and smiled at the American Rock got up and howled.

The party embarked in a boat at the Neptune Club house at 3.30 p. m. President Fisher of the association was there, with O. H. Warwick, Miss Mabel Peters, A. C. Currie and Mrs. Currie, R. M. Magee, James Griffiths, B. L. Rising, a group of press men, and the boatmen. There were eighteen in all, and they got on board one of the sailor-man's large sail boats. The boat had two sails and two pairs of oars. The purpose of these latter was not apparent at the start. Perhaps the sailor-man knew, for he sat on the boat-house bench and smiled in an aggravating general way as the party was cast off. It may be that it was casting off the painter that made the canvas feel so limp at first, although Capt. Belyea and Commodore Magee were aggressive in their oars to the wind. At all events the canvas did not fill very well, and after tacking back and forth for some time between the east and west sides of the harbor, using the tide to their advantage to get clear of Reed's Point.

After that there was no trouble. The party sailed down past spar buoy and the beacon, danced on the wake of the incoming steamer Prince Rupert, inspected a fisherman's catch of seven beautiful harbor salmon, watched E. H. MacAlpine swimming from Blue Rock out almost to the Beacon and back again, and finally sailed gaily up the harbor, using the tide to their advantage to get clear of Reed's Point.

Beyond an object lesson in casting a fly Mr. Magee, and the catching of a crab by a newspaper man with one of the oars, there was no pleasurable exhibition, but everybody had a good time. There was just enough swell outside to please what one enthusiast styled a swell party, and the universal verdict was that a trip down the harbor in one of Belyea's boats with a favorable breeze was a decidedly agreeable business.

Yesterday's party had a happy two and a half hours and came home feeling decidedly the better for the outing. They beat a Nova Scotia schooner up to the harbor, and the skipper of the bigger craft is said to have swallowed his chew.

It is really surprising that more pleasure is not sought on the harbor in summer. Mr. Belyea, whose address is 28 Middle street, has a telephone number 54 A, is prepared to take boating and fishing parties to all points of interest in the harbor and vicinity. He has both sail and row-boats, and is an experienced boatman.

IN DAWSON CITY. G. P. Mackenzie, the principal of schools in Dawson city, and a native of Wallace, N. S., who was interviewed in Montreal recently, said, in speaking of the gold prospects of Dawson, that the output this year is from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000. The people are contented and supplies are cheap. These are brought up the river in flotillas of scows. The price of meals still remains high, about $1 for an ordinary meal. Wages generally paid to miners are $5 per day. The government is spending a good deal of money in public works. A new courthouse has been completed and a new administrative building has just been begun. A new school at a cost of $50,000 is also being erected. The number of children attending school is upwards of two hundred.

Mr. Mackenzie purposes visiting his Nova Scotia home before returning to Dawson. James A. MacKinnon, of Amherst, accompanies him.

A LABOR PREACHER. Rev. Dr. Herbert N. Casson, who was formerly pastor of the Lynn, Mass., Labor church, wires to Bruce C. McDougall that he is coming to Canada in September of October and that he would be glad to address the toilers of Moncton. Rev. Dr. Casson delivered four addresses in the city of Moncton in 1895. He is a Methodist minister and is a Canadian by birth.
