SOLDIERS TO REMAIN AT SUSSEX UNTIL THE MIDDLE OF JULY

Change in Arrangements Made on Saturday—About 300 More Men Wanted—Church Parade.

A change in orders, received at the last moment, deferred the departure of the 55th Battalion, under the command of Lieut. Col. Kirkpatrick, for Valcartier where they were going to complete their training along with the other battalions already assembled at that place. The time for departure from Sussex is now fixed for the 15th.

The regiment at the present time is still considerably under strength and will not until the time of leaving greater efforts will be made by the recruiting officers to secure the required number. Another ten days recruiting campaign such as was carried on some time ago might prove successful but this entails a great amount of labor and expense. A new plan is being tried by the officers.
