

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use nia, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of Vinegar Bitters?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease and the patient rethe cause of disease, and the patient re-covers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle. vers in heath. They are no ground out purifier and a life-giving principle, perfect Renovator and Invigorator the system. Never before in the system world has a medicine been mounded possessing the remarkable compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of Vinegar Bitters in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of Billions relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs, in Bilious

The properties of Dr. WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS are Aperient, Diaphoretic, Carminative, Nutritious, Laxative, Diuretic, Sedative, Counter-Irritant, Sudorific, Alterative, and Anti-Bilious.

Grateful Thousands proclaim VIN-EGAR BITTERS the most wonderful Inrigorant that ever sustained the sinking No Person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not de-stroyed by mineral poison or other yed by mineral poison or other ons, and vital organs wasted beyond repair.

Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, which are so preva-lent in the valleys of our great rivers throughout the United States, especially those of the Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri, Illinois, Tennessee, Cumberland, Arkan-sas, Red, Colorado, Brazos, Rio Grande, anoke, James, and many others, with their vast tributaries, throughout our entire country during the Summer and Autumn, and remarkably so during sea-sons of unusual heat and dryness, are sons of unusual heat and dryness, are invariably accompanied by extensive derangements of the stomach and liver, and other abdominal viscera. In their treatment, a purgative, exerting a powerful influence upon these various organs, is essentially necessary. There is no cathartic for the purpose equal to Dr. J. Walker's Vinegar Bitters, as they will speedily remove the dark-colored viscid matter with which the bowels are loaded, at the same time stimulating the secretions of the liver, and generally restoring the healtly functions of the digestive organs.

Fortify the body against disease by purifying all its fluids with VINEGAR BITTERS. No epidemic can take hold of a system thus fore-armed,

Dyspansia on Indicaction Health

Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Head-ache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste In the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpita-ation of the Heart, Inflammation of the tation of the Heart, inhammation of the Lungs, Pain in the region of the Kid-neys, and a hundred other painful symp-toms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia. One bottle will prove a better guarantee of its merits than a lengthy advertise-

Scrofula, or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammations, Mercurial Affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, Sore Eyes, etc. In, these, as in all other constitutional Diseases, WALKER'S VINEGAR BITTERS have shown their great curative powers in the most obstinate and intractable cases. For Inflammatory and Chronic tent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have no equal. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood.

Mechanical Diseases.—Persons enaged in Paints and Minerals, such as

For Skin Diseases, Eruptions, Tetr, Salt-Rhenm, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, studes, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, eald-head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, surfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors di Diseases of the Skin of whatever name nature, are literally dug up and carried at of the system in a short time by the use

Pia, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. No system of medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelminities will free the system from worms or old, married or single, at the dawn of wo-manhood, or the turn of life, these Tonio Bitters display so decided an influence that improvement is soon perceptible.

Cleanse the Vitlated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul; your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pare, and the health of the system will follow.

will follow.

R. B. McDONALD & CO.,

Druggists and Gen. Agts., San Francisco, California and sor. of Washington and Charlton Sts., N. Y.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers. Margeson's Calculifuge

THIS MEDICINE is a certain remedy for all diseases of the KIDNEYS such as Gravel, Stone in the Bladder, and Dropsy. It has eured many cases of long standing.

PURELY VEGETABLE. Price $1.50 per bottle Wholesale Agents for the Maritime Provinces:

AVERY BROWN & CO.,

AVERY BROWN & CO.,

10 George Street, Halifax, N. S.

HOME TESTIMONY.

St. John, N. B., March 26, 1873.

Messes. R. C. Margeson & Co.—Gentlemen:
I have been afflicted with gravel and stone upwards of a year and a half—tried everything I could hear of for its relief, without avail; saw your advertisement of CALCULIFUGE in the Halifax papers—took hree bottles according to directions, and in the short space of four weeks, am entirely cured. I stillingly add my testimony to its value, and he crilly recommend it to all afflicted as I have been.

DAVID COLLINS, Formerly Harness Minker,

L. John, N. B.

Bands, and passed the usual stereotyped compliments.

"I suppose you are going to Miss Dale's, Cheever?" said Bently.

"I'm bound there, too, my fine fellow! I dropped in to see Miss Hunt a while ago, and was told I could find her at Mis s Dale's, whither I was wending my way when we chanced to meet. Fine girls, both. Don't you think so, Cheever?"

"Excuse me, Ned; but, now, don't you think Miss Dale seems a little too old-fushioned—a trifle too prim?"

A TEST OF CHARITY.

BY PAULUS MCKANE. Two young ladies-both very hands -were sitting together in an elegant par-or one bright May afternoon. Their ames were Annie Dell and Carrie Hunt The former was the young mistress of the house, and the latter her most inti mate friend. They were like sisters to each other, and shared everything in com-

Annie had recently engaged herself to a young man named Edward Cheever; and, as the ladies were wholly unreserved in their friendly intercourse, the betrothent was now the subject of conversa-

"I have heard it said that Mr. Cheever is parsimonious, even miserly," remarked Carrie, with privileged freedom; "and in that case, Annie, you will lead a sorry life. I am no advocate of extravagance or improvidence, but a stingy man is almost invariably a tyrant, and by no means the proper person for a woman to marry."

"I agree with you in that, Carrie," responded Annie, "but most emphatically deny the application in this case. Edward is careful and economical, I admit—for he has a laudable ambition to get ahead in the world—but nothing more; and I would rather have him that way than be more generous than just, more free than wise." "Why, Annie, Ed. Cheever's stinginess is proverbial among all the young men of his acquaintance!" exclaimed Carrie. "I have heard several speak of it in no complimentary terms."

"Indeed!" responded Annie; "and did they say in what consisted his stinglness?" "Certainly, my dear, he's never ready to spend as the others do," rejoined Carrie, quickly. "Those may not be the exact words, but that was what it amount-

"But that does not constitute stinginess," said Annie, calmly. "If he will not squander his limited means in idle and useless dissipation, he's more prudent than parsimonious, and far more deserving of credit than censure: Mr. Cheever enjoys himself in all reasonable and rational ways, I feel certain; and he is never close-handed when the call is of a deserving character; nor is he at all backward in contributing to the enjoyment of his lady friends, as you yourself well know. But let me ask you a question, Carrie—probably that will throw some light on the subject. Does Mr. Cheever accept any favors from his friends, which he does not show a willingness to reciprocate?"

ingness to reciprocate?" and makes it a practice to refuse all invitions to participate in those pleasures nerally so congenial to young men of

"Then it seems that Mr. Cheever's stinginess is but a misunderstanding be-tween himself and his friends in regard to tween hims if and his friends in regard to the true meaning of the word," said Annie, with undisturbed serenity. "His friends think that because he will not consent to 'treat' and be 'treated'—I believe those are the true terms, my dear—because he will not actually squander his means and injure himself, both in body and reputation, that he is stingy; and he thinks differently, and with a true, manly independence, conducts himself according to his own impressions. Isn't that just so, Carrie?"

ing to his own impressions. Isn't that just so, Carrie?"

"Well, yes, perhaps it is; but still he might he a little more social and liberal, and yet not hurt himself. And it don't follow, either, that he must become really dissipated, as you seem to think, Annie. Now, for my part, I feel certain that there must he something in it more than we Now, for my part, I feel certain that there must be something in it more than we can see, or such a report would never nave got into circulation. Still, I have nothing to charge against Mr. Cheever myself, and wouldn't have you think so for anything. I speak only for your own good, my dear. Stingy men always were my aversion, however; and I'd a hundred fold rather die an old maid than link my fate with one who bears the suspicion of such a character."

such a character."

"And so would I, Carrie," earnestly responded Annie; "but I think you are mistaken in regard to Mr. Cheever; and, I fancy you have been led astray by others who do not properly appreciate his notives."

"And I suppose you think that you do "And I suppose you think that you do understand him?"

"I hope so; and to prove my words I'll make you a challenge."

"Well, my dear, what is it? I'm open to conviction, and, therefore, agree to anything reasonable."

At that moment something about the person of Carrie appeared to attract Annie's particular attention.

"What is it, Annie?" inquired Miss Hunt, instantly noticing the circumstance.

"What a beautiful new bracelet you "What a beautiful new bracelet you have got!" exclaimed Annie. Let me look at it. A gift from papa, I suppose."

'Oh, no; Tonn Bently gave me that, with papa's consent, of course."

Thomas Bently—it may be well to remark—en passant, was generally looked upon as Miss Hunt's most assiduous, and indeed, most acceptable suitor.

'Of course!" said Annie. "And so Tom Bently made you a present of this!" she added, turning the bauble over and over. "It is very handsome, and must have cost fifty dollars at least. Tom is very generous."

have cost fifty dollars at least. Tom is very generous."

"Just as free as water, my dear! And, like me, Tom hates stingy people most ardently."

"He hates Mr. Cheever then!" rejoined Annie, as she handed the glittering bracelet back to her friend.

"Oh, no, he does not hate him, Annie, by any means!" exclaimed Carrie in a deprecating manner. "He thinks him very close, though, and very queer, too, for a young man."

"Well, I must say, Mr. Cheever never goes to such lengths as that, nevertheless, I'd be willing to make you a handsome present II, upon trial, my Ned should not display the more real charity."

"I accept the wager, Annie," rejoined Carrie, "not out of any particular dislike to Mr. Cheever, nor from any special regard for Mr. Bentley, but simply with a view to test the young gentlemen and satisfy ourselves. But how shall the trial be made?"

"I'll tell you," said Annie, who forthwith entered into a full description of her little plot. "Ned" she added. in

"Ill tell you," said Annie, who forthwith entered into a full description of her little plot, "Ned," she added, in conclusion, "will be here this evening, and we can put him to the test at once."
"So we can, my dear!"
The scene changes.

Just about dusk of the same day on which Annie and Carrie held the abovementioned conversation, two fine looking, handsomely-attired young men accidently met together on the corner of cross streets, a few squares from the residence of the first-mentioned young lady. They were Edward Cheever and Thomas Bently. They stopped, shook hands, and passed the usual stereotyped compliments.

The tones of her voice were sad and The tones of her voice were sad and husky, and the joung men stopped, Cheever halting first, however, and Bently following his example, as he could not help it.

Tom paid little or no attention to the women, but Ned regarded them earnestly and attentively. "Did I understand you to solicit charity?" said the latter, kindly addressing the mendicants. "Are you really in want?"

"Painfully so, sir," was a smothered reply, "My mother is very old and feeble, as you may see, and my own days are passing swiftly away. We have no friends at all to keep us, and nothing to depend on but the cold charity of the work. I worked as long as I was able, but this winter I could not find a great deal of employment, and what little I could was almost too much for me. We live in a garret, sir, and never pass a day live in a garret, sir, and never pass a day that we do not expect the direst want. Ah me!" sighed the woman in conclu

Ah me!" sighed the woman in conclusion.

"The old story, Cheever," abruptly cried Bently. You'll meet a dozen such in every square of the city; and they'll all tell the same whining, pitiful tale. Don't give them a cent? If they're as bad off as they say they are, let them go to the poor-house—that's tle place for all such vagrants."

"You and I, Tom, have different notions on a good many subjects," responded Cheever; "and contrary to your advice, I shall aid these poor creatures to the best of my ability. If they deceive me, the punishment will be theirs—not mine." Turning to the women, and at the same time taking some notes from his pocket-book, he added: "Here is a couple of dollars for your present needs, and i you call at ny place of business, No.—,—street, and enquire for Edward Cheever, I will see if something cannot be done to aid you."

be done to aid you "God bless your kind heart!" simul-neously responded the two women, in taneously responded the two women, in deep, expest tones. "Won't you give them a trifle, Tom," asked Ned, turning to Bently.

May 19. The counsel in the case of Day et al vs. Murray et al occupied all yesterday afternoon with their addresses. This morning the Chief Justice delivered a lengthy charge to the jury, who retired about 12.30. The jury came into court at 2.30 with a verdict of $350 against the owners of the tug Alida, the schooler being exonerated. Five of the jury consented to this verdict.

MacMonagle vs. Lord. an action on a processory note, is now before the court.

promissory note, is now before the court. May 20.

H. C Macmonagle vs. John Lord was finished yesterday afternoon and resulted in a verdict of $288.53 for the plaintiff.

E. McLeod, assignee of J. C. Brown's estate, vs. James Domville et. al., was the next case. C. W. Weldon, Esq., is counsel for the plaintiff, and Dr. Barker appears for the defendants. It is a suft brought to recover warehouse fees claimed to be due when Mr. Brown falled in 1872. The claim is repudiated by the defendants, as the amount claimed is for storing sugar and molasses, which was returned in a damaged condition. It is also claimed that a part of the merchandize was not delivered at all. The defendants also put in, as an offset, a note defendants also put in, as an offset, a note of the absence of policemen from Brittain street last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, "Cash" Doherty and a sailor indulged in a free fight. They pummelled each other for some time to the delight of a large crowd that completely blockaded the street. From sheer exhaustion they stopped and looked at each other. Both were badly bruised, especially the sailor, whose face was frightfully cut.

Collision in the Harbor.

Taking advantage of the absence of policemen from Brittain street last evening between 6 and 7 o'clock, "Cash" Doherty and a sailor indulged in a free fight. They pummelled each other for some time to the delight of a large crowd that completely blockaded the street. From sheer exhaustion they stopped and looked at each other. Both were badly bruised, especially the sailor, whose face was frightfully cut. May 20. defendants also put in, as an offset, a note of hand drawn by J. C. Brown for $1590, of the tug St. John, by force of the tide $218.34. Davidson vs. Dunn impleaded was made a remanet.

Taylor vs. Gerow was made a remanet to give time to alter the declaration.

The two sailors found guilty of an assault on board the Kate Stanton were arraigned and sentenced by the Judge to three months confinement in the County

"Not to my eyes, Tom, though she may to some others."
"Well, I suppose we don't all of us see alike."
"No, that's true," responded Cheever, with an almost imperceptible smile. At that moment too poorly, ill-clad females, with their faces closely muffled up in old ragged hoods, came around the corner and hatted in close proximity to the young men. One walked with a cane and leaned upon the arm of the other, and both looked poverty-stricken enough in all conscience.
"Charity, gentlemen!" exclaimed the one who was supporting the other, and who appeared to be the younger of the tother and who appeared to be the younger of the tother and who appeared to be the younger of the tother and the two dollars, always carefully preserved—which he had so kindly between the considerable addition, was handed over to a deserving charity.

As for Tom Bently, reader, he married in all conscience.
"Charity, gentlemen!" exclaimed the one who was supporting the other, and who appeared to be the younger of the tireuit Court.

The Circuit Court. did the joiner work; Messrs. Cormack & Thomson the stone and brick work; A.

> Free Fight. Taking advantage of the absence of which they purchased for $500, as well as a few minor charges. Mr. Bustin, the Locker, and Hon. John Robertson have rence, lying in the stream, which arrived given testimony in the case.

Canning vs. Town of Portland has been Friday from London with a general cargo. The Nashwaak lost main mast, nizzentopmast. An anchor was let go The case of McLeod, assignee, vs. Domville was decided yesterday after noon, the jury returning a verdict of was insufficient to hold her. She snapped the cable, losing the anchor and 105 fathoms of chain, which will be got again. The St. Lawrence received no dan plainant is the contractor of ortenay Bay Railway, and has stolen and destroyed the timber used in building the road. At one time no less than sixty pieces of cedar were carried away. The other night he caught Briggs deliberately sawing up a spar for frewood and reported him to the police. This morning a fine of $5 was imposed on him for destroying the timber, and he was also ordered to ray $1 departs.

Both vessels are consigned to Luke Accident on the Western Railway.

was also ordered to pay $1 damages. May 23. John Causlow confessed to drunker ness in Charlotte street, and was fine cartage. Ellen Callihan alias Ryan was charged with the same offence in Sydney street. She must pay $6 or reside in gaol for two months.

John Robinson, for simple drunk in Water street, was fined $4. TOO LATE. With burning brow on fevered hand,

Slow fading with the fading day, I sit beside the darkling strand While moaning tide and land-wind say: 'Thy wide world died by land and sea With the great heart that died for thee. Were breathed to cold, unanswering night—Alone, forsaken, and unguessed,
She passed, a blighted flower, from sight;
And now the land-wind bears my cry
To deaf abyss of seaward sky.

A single star's unpitying gleam Lights up the storm-weed at my feet;
And, shore-cast wreek, I sit and dream
While my lost heart, with waning beat,
Breaks slowly, by the breaking sea,
For that great heart that brake for me.

ALFRED H. LOUIS, in Harper's Magazine NOTES AND NEWS.

What an aggravation! San Francisco

When they kill a man in Texas the work is done with some thoroughness. hog-thief was recently disposed of, a local newspaper complacently remarking, "When picked up he was as full of lead as a well-filled pin-cushfon with pins."

The Times says that work on the Albert Railway has commenced in earnest. About two hundred men are already employed and additions are made to the laborers every day.

"Not to my eyes, Tom, though she may some others."

He was like Ned Cheever, and two better men, or two happier women, the sun that characterizes the entire building. On complainant is the contractor of the some weeks, as the timber to be used in their construction has not yet arrived.—

Courtenay Bay Railway, and has been their construction has not yet arrived.— Bangor Whig, of Thursday.

The Truro Fire Company is to have a torch light procession on the 25th inst. A fashion paper gives this advice to young ladies: "Don't marry a man who gets up early. Nothing makes a person so insufferably conceited."

The steamship Costa Rica, from Pana ma, touched at San Diego Monday evening. She reported that the Government at San Jose de Guatemala, had settled with Consul Magee for the recent outrage by paying him $10,000. . A fashion periodical states that a "first communion dress" should consist of a

Swiss muslin skirt and dress, etc., etc.; and a "confirmation robe" should be a and a "confirmation robe" should be a skirt, overskirt, blouse-waist and mantelet. etc., etc. So eager were the people of Pesth to hear Adelina Patti on her recent visit to that city that they broke open the doors and windows of the concert hall, until at last the police had to interfere. The sale of tickets for the two concerts realized the sum of £11,000 in gold. A decision has been given by referees against the Maine Central railroad, in favor of a passenger, for injuries suffered at the hands of a drunken fellow passenger. It is held that not to exclude from the cars persons so drunk as to be noisy and quarrelsome is negligence which will make the railroad company responsible for damages.

or damages. The Cincinnati Commercial drops into Scriptural quotation, anent New York city's finances, thusly: "At the rate the debt of New York city is growing it will not be long before the citizens will be crying out to the Governor: 'Release unto us Barabbas!' 'Now Barabbas was a robber,' says John, and 'a notable prisoner,' says Matthew."

Worcester, Mass., has a sensational reacher who has a fearful and wonderful way of selecting topics. The subject ful way of selecting topics. The subject of his installation sermon was "Never Skedaddle," and his published programme for every Sunday until the end of July is as follows: May 17—Guzzle and Give! May 24—Paul's "Shoo Fly!" May 31—Cremation! June 7—Republican Locusts. June 14—Empty Churches and How to Fill them. June 21—Main street. June 28—Pharoah's Lean Kine. July 5—The Mad Prophet- July 12—"Who's Your Hatter?" July 19—"Popping the Question!" July 26—A Tragedy in Four Acts.

Within three months there have been

The control of the property of the control of the c