

ADVERTISING CLUB HEARS DETROIT MAN ON 'BETTER LETTERS'

Instructive Address by Louis Balsam, Direct Mail Publicity Expert.

More than two hundred people, including both men and women, gathered around the tables in the dining-room of the Technical House Tuesday evening, when the London Advertising Club gave its usual monthly dinner. The gathering was addressed by Louis Balsam, secretary of the Direct Mail Advertising Association in Detroit, on the subject of "Better Letters."

It is safe to say that every person present, whether a member of the club or a guest, derived much benefit, as well as enjoyment, from the address. The speaker, a man of the most forceful, straight-from-the-shoulder and practical business talks that has been heard in London before a local organization. Mr. Balsam dealt with the problem of letter-writing from every angle. He told of his great importance, especially as a connecting link between the advertiser and the sales forces, of its common misuse, and then told how it can be made a powerful factor in the business world.

After a little time in formalities with a huge pile of actual letters exemplifying weaknesses and strong points, he struck into the heart of his subject, tearing to pieces the usual mediocre, cold and therefore harmless sales and business letter sent out by the average business house. After pointing out the various shortcomings of the art, he then began a constructive talk on "Better Letters."

"Only five," he said, "seven months ago," he said, "people were in the midst of a spending orgy; mechanics and laboring men rode in fashionable cars, and wore silk shirts and other expensive clothing. But it is all changed now, and perhaps these conditions will never come back. Yet there are many firms in Canada who do not realize that the change has come. They still carry on a haphazard business, especially their correspondence, and they wonder why business does not continue to come in."

"All over the continent," Mr. Balsam continued, "a wall of thrift during the past year has been built up among the buyers. The public is waiting for the bottom to fall out of the market, and purchasers have built about them an almost impenetrable wall of business resistance. Advertisers seek to devise new ways of scaling the wall, or of breaking through, yet nearly all of us in a mad haste to find new and startling tricks have overlooked the unassuming but tremendously influential everyday letter."

Most letters, the speaker claimed, were little better than wet blankets filled with negatives, breathing pestilence and destruction of the buyer's confidence. Day after day, he said, letters were sent out by thousands of concerns, which not only destroyed good-will and repelled prospective customers, but did an all-round general harm which reacted unfavorably on business for many months. One poor letter would destroy all that had been accomplished by years of constant building.

"On the other hand," Mr. Balsam said, "comparatively few concerns that have paid particular attention to this problem and have applied real brain power to the task, have been able to produce the finest kinds of results. These results have not only been in dollars and cents, but in added good-will that has in many instances literally put these concerns on their feet."

Some Letters Do Harm.

"When those of us who have studied this problem, meet, day after day, countless instances of the miserable blotches that are being made by average business letters, and realize that good letters—the ones that bring the business and create good-will—could be produced for even less money than those doing real damage—is it any wonder that we feel need for intelligent attention to our correspondence?"

"So long as we continue to send out letters that seem as though they were ground out by machine, and intended for automation, so long may we expect our letters to receive the same colorless, lack luster results."

Indifference, the speaker declared, was the greatest fault in letter writing. Letters must be filled with the human touch, with sympathy between man and man. With little care, he continued, letters could be made to straighten many pathways and to smooth out many rough spots.

Four Fundamental Rules.

He gave four fundamental rules which he said were necessary before results could be obtained. They were:

1. "Never employ a letter-writer or write letters personally unless the writer of the letter knows the work in which he is engaged." One must feel that the letter is to benefit the person to whom it is addressed before it could be really effective, he said.
2. "One must visualize the person to whom the letter is written." By this he meant that one must sympathize with the views of the person to whom the letter was addressed. Heavy, dull letters must not be sent to a person of sensitive refined nature and vice versa. It was worth while, he said, for employers to teach young correspondents to visualize.

3. "Simplicity." When all other things had been considered, simplicity would win every time. Letters, he said, did not have to be literary in style and they must not be stilted.
4. "Avoid the Spectacular." The third of a resolution passed unanimously, the club will make a grant of $50 towards the cost of formulating a purely Canadian advertising association. By linking up the different Advertising Clubs throughout Canada, it is believed that a stronger Canadian organization can be built up.

A musical program was provided.

EARLY CLOSING DEPENDS UPON PUBLIC SUPPORT

Grocers Are Making Practical Experiment—For Benefit of Employees.

The early closing movement among the retail grocers of London underwent its initial trial last Saturday night. About half a dozen or more downtown grocers closed their establishments at 7 o'clock, and about the same number in the east end of the city closed at the same hour.

The resolution to close on Saturdays at this hour was arrived at after the matter had been fully discussed at a recent meeting of the Retail Grocers' Association, the object being to shorten the hours of the employees, and to make the work less strenuous for all concerned.

In conversation with The Advertiser today one of the downtown grocers, who closed according to the agreement, said that if the public did not support the early closing movement it could not succeed. "It is up to the people to do their shopping at an earlier hour than they have been accustomed to do on Saturdays, and if they do this we shall be able to have early closing all right, but if they put off their shopping until after the principal stores are closed, and then patronize those who are open until a late hour, it will kill the movement. It is up to the public."

"Of course the public has got to be educated in this matter, and it will possibly be difficult to get some people out of the habit of late shopping. But, at all events, we are going to give this thing a fair trial."

PLAINTIFF AWARDED $202 IN NOTE CASE

Suit in County Court Arising Over Trafalgar Street Property.

John M. Chivas was awarded the full amount of his claim in the first case disposed of in the county court Monday afternoon. He was suing Frederick J. Nash for damages for $202.50 paid for, and at the request of the defendant, and interest thereon since March, 1920. The plaintiff claimed that in January, 1920, he made and delivered to the defendant a promissory note, for which he received no consideration. He claims that the defendant promised to pay it when it fell due, but that the defendant negotiated the note, and the plaintiff had to pay when it fell due.

The defendant claimed that the plaintiff purchased some property on Trafalgar street, and that he was to sell it, the two of them to divide the profits equally. Nash claimed that he sold twelve lots, and was about to sell twelve more when the plaintiff decided to take the property. For the first sale he was paid $500, and said that it was agreed that he was to get $750 to replace the money he had paid. The note, Nash claimed, was part of this, and counterclaimed $500, which he said was due.

BIRD NOTES

(Contributed by McIlwraith Ornithological Club.)

Even if we had nothing new to report a trip added on Tuesday morning could have been a very pleasant one. In early April, calm, bright and mild. Maples in bloom with bees humming around them, hepatica, blood root and spring beauty beginning to bloom, and bird notes everywhere. The sweet voice of the Veery Sparrow was specially noted. The first arrival was recorded only a week ago, but this morning they were in every field. A Goldfinch, who had not yet donned all his black and yellow spring suit, was tugging up in a patch of weeds.

When we added to the four new species and a total of 37 varieties, it certainly made us wish that this day were a holiday, so we could spend more time in such pleasant surroundings.

The new arrivals were Tree Swallow, Winter Wren, White-throated Sparrow and Old Squaw Duck.

The former, with his blue-black back and white under parts, looked like a crow in low dark places, and nests and eggs were very conspicuous. He was perched on a limb, above his nestling box at the pond.

The Winter Wren is a cousin of the well-known House Wren. He fits and creeps mouse-like among old roots and stumps in low dark places, and nests and eggs were very conspicuous. He was perched on a limb, above his nestling box at the pond.

The Old Squaw or long-tailed Duck was in the company of some lesser Scaps (Blue Bills) on the pond. These ducks are not good table birds, being fish eaters. A few years ago the fisherman at Port Stanley reported large numbers caught in their nets, and taken to the village to be ground into meal. A visit to Port Stanley revealed a pile of several tons of these ducks, estimated at about 15,000 birds, most of which were taken from the nets at a depth of 100 feet, which speaks well for their diving ability.

We also noted the first spring Ruby-Crowned Kinglet. One of these birds was seen last January, its first winter record for Middlesex. It is a tiny bird, scarcely larger than a hummingbird, but has a sweet loud song, strong enough for a bird the size of a robin.

CHURCH CONCERT PLEASURES

Talented Artists Provide Program Under Dundas Centre Choir Auspices.

The third of a series of concerts given under the auspices of the Dundas Centre Methodist Church choir, was held in the church Sunday school room on Tuesday evening. Marley Sherrie, baritone, and Lee Smith, tenor, were the artists. J. Parnell Morris acted as accompanist. Favorite numbers were "Chanson in Toccata," "Bona Noe," "Minor," "You Lay So Still in the Sunshine," "Thou Has Brought Me the Good News," "The Rainbow Child," "Art Risen," "The Island of Art Risen," "Little Bells," "O Lovely Night," "Lennie O Mine," "The Wreck of the Julia Plante," and "Edward."

COLLEGIATE PLANS APPROVED; TENDERS TO BE CALLED FOR

"Great War Memorial High School" Name of New Institute.

Authorization to call for tenders for the new central collegiate was given to the committee of the board of education by the board at its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. Plans as drawn by Architect L. E. Carrothers were practically given final approval. No. 1 committee was empowered to deal with some small changes in relation to the biology room. As soon as this detail has been cleared up tenders will be called for the permanent college accommodation at last will be definitely in sight.

The imposing structure, which will be erected on a former site on the northwest corner of Waterloo street and Dufferin avenue, will be named "Great War Memorial High School." There was considerable debate over applying this lengthy title to the building. Several of the trustees suggested that it was a detail which could be left to a later date. Trustee Hayman objected that this would entail an extra charge for stone carving of as much as $500. An amendment was then moved to make the name merely "Memorial High School." This was lost, and the longer title was adopted.

Curriculum Discussed.

The report on local high school conditions made by G. F. Rogers, provincial high school inspector, was read. He stated that under the circumstances conditions were very satisfactory. Classes at Lord Roberts school have to crowd a five-and-a-quarter-hour daily curriculum into four hours, and as a result some subjects receive scant attention. Other pupils are receiving full time instruction at the former Princess avenue public school. He described this building as a collection of ill-ventilated and ill-lighted classrooms, long ago condemned for school purposes and totally unsuited for the work. No suggestion for its continued use after the building program is started, should be tolerated, he said.

The commercial high school in the Technical school is the most satisfactory of all. The pupils are receiving full-time instruction in proper classrooms. He recommended the engagement of another teacher for third-year commercial studies next term.

Crowded Conditions.

Crowded conditions at the Potteryburg school were reported by V. E. Green, inspector of public schools. Fifteen children of school age have been asked to remain at home until the opening of school. This year the school said he expected mid-summer promotions would make room for them then, but advised that increased accommodation for the district will be needed in a short time.

To get in closer touch with the work being done by its officials, the board decided to ask the school dentist, head school nurse, and heads of other departments to address the board, possibly at a special meeting. The board argued that even the detailed monthly reports do not give the intimate insight into the work which can be given by a personal account. Chairman Cole and several of the trustees admitted that they were not as well acquainted as they might be with the work of this nature being done in the schools.

Vocational Guidance.

A grant of $50 was made to the vocational guidance committee of the Y. M. C. A. This will finance the distribution of a pamphlet on vocational guidance amongst the pupils of the senior grades, and bring them in touch with leading members of various professions and trades, who will advise them on training for a career. L. M. Houlding presented the request for the grant, and explained the objects of the committee.

A request from St. George's Society to permit the offering of prizes for essays on St. George's Day was referred with power to the No. 1 committee.

WAS JUGGLING WITH DYNAMITE IN OFFICE

Taxi Employee Will Observe "Handle With Care" Advice Hereafter.

A traveler transferring from one railway station to another deposited his grip in a local taxi office on Monday with an injunction to the office employees that the grip was to be handled carefully and brought to his door. The taxi driver, who was to call for him later at an up-town office, "the handle carefully" advice was not passed on to the relieving employee, and the traveler, changing his plans, returned for his luggage himself, to find another employee about to throw the grip across the room.

"Here!" yelled the traveler. "There's dynamite in this!" The man with the grip in his hands laid it down trembling, but careful hands and whitening face, while the telephone girl swooned away completely.

The traveler was on his way to a nearby oil field, where the explosives were to be used in blasting rock.

WESTMINSTER COUNCIL PLANS NEW SCHOOL

Will Cost $8,000 and Be Located On Wellington Road.

Petitioning the Westminster Township Council for another public school in the township resulted in the township clerk being ordered to call a meeting of ratepayers to discuss the matter. When the petitioners appeared before the council they asked that the school be erected on the Wellington road at the 7th concession. The ratepayers being the petitioners from school sections 10, 11, 13 and 14. They want a piece of land off each of the four sections and joined to make a fifth school section, in which the new building could be erected.

As a bylaw covering the matter must be introduced not later than June, and as it must not receive its final passing until the following December, it is probable that the school will not be built before next spring. It will cost about $8,000, it is estimated.

ALL MUSIC LOVERS INTERESTED.

Particular interest centres around the distance of the "Piano Player" being made this week by Ye Oldie Firm, Heintzman & Co., Ltd., of 245 Dundas street, London. This is the first piano made all over the Dominion, and Heintzman & Co. are making every advantage of it, offering special inducements to purchasers. The piano is a masterpiece of art, and is being made by the Heintzman & Co. piano makers, who give it a unique and distinctive position in the piano world. Its aluminum frame is a masterpiece of engineering, and makes it proof against any climatic changes of the weather. The piano is made to the tune of several millions. "We learn to do," he said, "by doing."

Then he added, with a smile: "But perhaps we learn more by being done to."

LEAVE JUGS OUT BE FILLED BY BOOTLEGGERS

New Plan Is Being Tried Out in St. Thomas.

ST. THOMAS, April 6.—Local orders given to bootleggers are now filled by leaving the jug at the back doors of some of the stores on Talbot street. The goods are left on the back stoop to be called for, the consideration having already passed between the vendor and vendee. Occasionally a policeman on his night rounds comes across one of these foundings and sends the bootlegger to jail. The bootlegging brotherhood, too, are getting impatient in some sections of the city. Some of them openly canvass likely customers on the sidewalk for the sale of the several brands. But the curb seller is not meeting with the success which apparently follows the negotiations for the delivery of the goods at the back door.

The city gravel pit at Lambeth, formerly owned by William Bolton of Lambeth, has been sold and the material will be used in the construction of the provincial highway between St. Thomas and London. Mr. Bolton has purchased the gravel pit from the property of the Southwestern Traction Company.

SAYS IRISH FEASTED AS BRITISH FOUGHT

Major Hart Declares Bishop Fallon Only Told Part of Story.

BRANTFORD, April 6.—Major J. I. Hart of Orillia tonight addressed a mass meeting in Calvary Baptist Church, and gave a portrayal of conditions in Ireland during the war. He declared that while the British people had been fighting Germany with their backs to the wall, the Irish people had been feasting. He further contended that Bishop Fallon was not telling the complete truth concerning the Irish people. He strongly scored the campaign of the Knights of Columbus in France, and alleged that a definite move was on foot to have an audit made of their funds.

ELGIN WINTER FAIR HAD A GOOD YEAR

Excellent Reports Are Presented At the Annual Meeting.

WEST LORNE, April 6.—The annual meeting of the Elgin Winter Fair, held here, was attended by members from different parts of the county. President J. A. King of Wardsville presided. The reports for the past year were very encouraging. J. A. McKillop, auditor, presented his report, which showed the association to be in a flourishing condition financially. Several new features for the improvement of the fair were discussed and left in the hands of committees to work out.

The following officers were elected: Honorary president, G. Cameron, M.L.A.; honorary vice-president, Peter Stalker; president, Henry Hessemauer; first vice-president, J. A. McKillop; second vice-president, J. A. McKillop; secretary-treasurer, Thomas W. Sims; grain superintendent, D. A. Cameron; stock superintendent, C. Robinson; assistant superintendents, M. McKillop and J. F. McGregor; auditor, J. A. McKillop; directors, J. A. King, Arch McCall, J. Page, R. A. Kerr, D. McKillop, J. McFarlane, F. A. Smith, L. D. Hankinson, P. H. Cameron, J. A. McKillop, J. P. Purcell, J. Mumford, R. Stinchcombe, R. A. Penhale, W. Collins, A. Trothen, D. Cameron, J. A. McKillop, W. B. Roberts, D. A. McKillop, W. McKillop, H. Speirn, J. Matheson, D. C. WILL TAKE VOTE TO SELECT NEW PASTOR

BRUSSELS, April 5.—Rev. J. P. McLeod of Wyoming preached in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday. The congregation will now proceed to vote on the four men whom they have heard in view of filling the vacancy now existing.

St. John's Anglican Church choir has passed good resolutions for its members. Before John and Mrs. Robt. moved from their home, which they recently sold, they were presented with a leather club bag and a cane rocker. They have moved into Brussels.

Epworth League anniversary services were held at the Methodist Church by Rev. Mr. Clark of Kincardine.

The Woman's Institute has arranged with Miss Edith Hopkin of Lindsay to give a series of talks on domestic science.

D. C. and Mrs. Ross are home from Fort William, where they spent the past few months with their daughters and son.

A pioneer settler in the person of James McCallum of McKillop is dead at the age of 81 years. Three sons and six daughters survive.

"CIVIL SERVICE" PRESENTED.

The A. Y. P. A. of All Saints' Church put on a comedy-drama, entitled "Civil Service," in the parish hall on Tuesday evening. The play was staged in three acts. The proceeds were given in aid of the school building fund.

Misses A. Chambers, D. Tucker, I. S. and A. Dimes, a quartet, sang at the school. H. F. Hill, J. Boyle, J. Simms, J. Rennie and F. Mason, director.

A. R. CLUB SOCIAL.

A delightful social evening was enjoyed by the A. R. Club in the W. C. T. U. Building, Clarence street, Tuesday night. Games, a guessing contest, music, refreshments, and a clever play, "A Morning Call," comprised the program. The play was presented by Misses Lena Carson and Gladys Hill. The committee which arranged the program included Misses Carson, Hill and Jennie Curtis.

Daintiness In Whitewear

The spring and summer season calls for daintiness in underwear, and most women have learned that it is wisdom to make selection early, while stocks and assortments are full, as many of the more dainty specialties are hard to procure later. Those who have not yet experienced this truth will do well to take advantage of the special prices in this collection of lace trimmed lingerie.

BUILDING INDUSTRY GAINS IN VOLUME

Banker Finds Numerous Inquiries for Loans.

NEW YORK, April 4.—"Building activities especially in residential types of structures, continue to grow as the season advances," says S. W. Straus of S. W. Straus & Co. "Sentiment is becoming more widespread that building costs have become stabilized and that prices can be expected to go little if any lower than the present levels. The labor situation is becoming a more substantial and dependable factor. There has been some scaling down of wages which gives builders a more definite basis on which to figure costs and adds further proof that now is the time to go ahead with building projects."

"Indications that operations of unusual magnitude are being planned and that the industry generally recognizes the timeliness of these projects are substantiated by the extensive inquiries now being made for capital to assist in building. These inquiries are largely in connection with plans for moderate priced apartment houses which, when completed will directly help the housing situation to a marked degree."

"The seriousness of the situation is emphasized by the recent report of the Senate Committee on reconstruction and production, which has made a careful survey of the country. There is indicated a potential need of capital for structural facilities running from $10,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000. Of this amount $5,000,000,000 is needed for home construction alone. Until this vast amount of capital has been raised and the needed structures completed, there will be distress and inconvenience and the progress of general business will be impeded."

"Every day's delay in getting back to full steam ahead on building operations is a day's postponement of the country's prosperity. Progress in the building situation is a matter which is of vital interest to every citizen in the country, and the public should bend all possible efforts toward co-operating with building interests in pushing forward an extensive program."

WILL NOT OPPOSE NATURAL GAS BILL

SARINIA, April 5.—The new natural gas bill, which has had one reading in the Legislature, will apparently encounter no opposition from Sarnia council. Ald. Steel, reporting for the special committee today, stated that he received a copy of the new bill. After Mayor Crawford had advised the council that he had received a long distance phone call from Sir Adam Beck, urging strong action against the McCrear bill and natural gas bill, Ald. Steel declared that the committee had been well satisfied with the bill as drafted at the conference in Chatham and had endorsed it, and that the measure given the first reading in the House was merely a copy. The chief opposition to the bill in some municipalities has been to the powers given to the commissioner.
