Ottawa, Nov. 11, 1925.

Arthur R. Ford, Esq.,
London Free Press,
London, Ont.

Dear Arthur:

Referring to your letter of the 7th,
I fear I will not be here on the 21st and 22nd when you expect to be in Ottawa. I am trying to get away South for what Sir Robert Borden would call a "well-earned rest".

I am sorry indeed to miss you. I still think West Middlesex will be one of the places opened, and we will await with keen interest your report on that riding and your advice as to what to do.

When I am away Harry Stevens and also Sir Henry Drayton will be here.

Yours very truly,
