A LITTLE GIRL ALMOST DEAD.

Morrisburg, Ont., Feb. 13th, 1901.
Messrs. The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—My little girl was almost dead with diarrhoea. I tried numerous remedies for summer complaint. I tried numerous remedies for her, but they did no good. A friend recommended Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, so I procured a bottle, and by the time she had taken three doses it began to help her and two bottles effected a complete cure. I owe her life to your excellent remedy.

A LITTLE BOY'S LIFE SAVED.

Seagrave, Ont., Jan. 2nd, 1901.
Messrs. The T. Milburn Co., Limited,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—My little boy was very bad with diarrhoea. He passed nothing but blood. I tried everything, but could get nothing to do him any good until I got a bottle of
Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. A few doses made a complete cure, and I have more faith in your remedy for diarrhoea than any other preparation on earth and always keep it in the house.

A DISASTROUS PICNIC.

One Dead, One Crazy and the Rest Missing.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Aug. 18.—Miss Katherine Grathwol of St. Paul, Minn., is dead, Frederick Lueders, an artist, of this city, is a raving maniac, and Fred Webster, Nellie Stone, Fred Gilbert and Grace Porter, also of this city, cannot be located, and at this time mystery surrounds the whole affair.
The party left here yesterday for a day's picnic at the summit of the mountains, which is reached by the Lacum-bre trail. Frederick Lueders arrived in town last night and reported that one of the party, Miss Grathwol, was dying, but he was so exhausted none of the particulars could be learned.

A party left for the scene and Lueders followed them. They returned at midnight with Lueders, who was found at the foot of the grade, a raving maniac, and who could give no account of the whereabouts of the rest of the party. The efforts of the searchers so far have been fruitless in finding any trace of the lost excursionists. Miss Grathwol was staying in Santa Barbara for her health, and was only 24 years old.

Old, So Old, Not Good.

Romantic Young Lady (spending summer on a farm)—Just hear how those old trees in the orchard moan and groan in the storm, like the crying of a lost soul!

Small Boy—Well, I guess you'd make a worse racket if you were as full of green apples as they are!

sweet clover on the vacant lots in Toronto has become a decided nuisance.

A Sudden Twinge

Of pain is generally the first warning of an attack of rheumatism. It feels as if the disease were in the bones or muscles, but the real cause of rheumatism is found in impure blood. In order to cure rheumatism the blood must be cleansed of the poisonous impurities which are the cause of the disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been very successful in the cure of rheumatism, because it entirely cleanses the blood from the poisonous substances which are the cause of the disease. It not only purifies the blood but by increasing the activity of the blood-making glands, it increases the supply of pure rich blood which adds to the vigor of every physical organ.

Mr. R. A. McKnight, of Cadiz, Williamsburg Co., S. C., writes:
"I had been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years, so bad crippled. Tried many doctors and two of them gave me up to die. None of them did me much good. The pains in my back, hips and legs (and at times in my head) would nearly kill me. My appetite was very bad. I took five bottles of the 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and four vials of 'Pellies,' and to-day my health is good after suffering twelve years with rheumatism."

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose. Therefore accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

the bowels and stimulate the sluggish liver.

QUAINT BATAVIA.

Java's Picturesque Town and the People One Meets There.

Imagine a town of giant dolls' houses built in Burmese and Japanese style, trim avenues of beautiful trees, broad, clean streets and thousands of grown up dolls masquerading in oriental fancy dress, the picture book of one's childhood animated—that is Batavia.

The streets are paraded listlessly by gangs of blue garbed convicts, who pick up cigar ends, bits of paper and fruit peel. The cleanliness of the streets is astonishing.

A man in Batavia once threw a piece of banana peel on the ground, and, looking back a moment afterward, he felt reproached by the sight of that wretched piece of peel, the only blot on the immaculate cleanliness of the streets. For awhile his dignity fought with his sense of decency. Then he returned, picked up the offending peel, and—feeling very foolish—carried it until he saw a convenient opportunity for disposing of it.

Representatives of many nations congregate in Batavia, blue gownned Ja-vanese, wearing white pith helmets shaped like inverted saucers; portly Chinese merchants, dressed in a grotesque combination of yellow silk clothes and billycock hats of Hampstead Heath, their pigtailed interwoven with blue silk; lean, tawny Malays, Hindoos, Javanese and effeminate looking Chinese jostle each other on the sidewalks.

It is impossible for a casual observer to distinguish the sex of a Chinese, as the men have delicate, refined features, are clean shaven, fasten their long hair behind their heads in woman fashion and wear skirts that sweep the ground.

The dress of the Javanese women merits a detailed description, as the Batavian Dutch ladies have adopted the native dress for morning wear.
A long strip of native cloth, called a sarong, is wound round and round the body beneath the armpits and reaches almost to the ankles. An abbreviated Eton jacket, called a kepeka, covers the shoulders, and out of doors ladies' slippers are worn on stockless feet, and a paper parasol is carried.

The Batavian Dutch do not make their toilets, unless they go out of doors, until the afternoon, so that one may see men in pyjamas and women in the native dress lolloping on the verandas or sitting down to meals at the hotels. The custom is a lazy but sensible one, considering the climate.

When Dinner Is Over.

As a rule an hour to an hour and a half is spent in conversation after a dinner when neither host nor guests have any other engagement for the evening. When a lady and gentleman are dining together the lady makes the first motion at departure, the gentleman promptly following her lead. No matter how numerous the company, no guest should depart without bidding adieu to the hostess with thanks for her hospitality. These need be neither stiff nor effusive, just some little words of appreciation of the pleasure you have enjoyed in her home. Goodbys may be said to other friends present before you bid adieu to the hostess or to any standing near the door as you pass out, but do not stop for any lengthy conversation after having said good night to your entertainers.

Suicide by Smoking.

One of the most extraordinary suicides on record was enacted in Penth.
Baron Reta Olyi, a wealthy citizen, deliberately poisoned himself by smoking cigars and tobacco to excess. The baron had lost a large fortune in speculation. Having a wife and six children, he insured himself very heavily in their behalf in five companies and then proceeded to put into operation his unique plan for self destruction. He hired a small room in a mean portion of the city and in ten months died of what the doctors called "galloping consumption." He had consumed 3,500 cigars and about a hundred pounds of tobacco.

The Helping Word.

There was a certain old woman who was a constant and devout attendant at church. Her husband died, and her pastor called upon her to comfort her in her sad bereavement.

"Well, my good woman," the pastor remarked, "in your bitter trial I hope you have found some ray of comfort from the Scriptures."

"Indeed I have, dominie," was the confident though tearful reply.
"That's grand, sister," exclaimed the parson sympathetically, "but tell me what passage of the word helped you most."

"Grief and bear it."

"Omit the Third Stanza."

Mabelle had been unusually quiet at church one Sunday. She was generally a very restless listener. Her mother, noticing it, asked her:

"What made you so good during service this morning, daughter?"

"I was thinking," answered the child "why the people who write hymns always put something bad in them that the minister can't let the people sing.
He always says 'omit the third' or some other stanza, and he says it over twice, so they'll be sure not to sing it, so it must be something wicked."

A Way the Baby Has.

"Has the baby had the measles yet, Mr. Poppo?"

"Sh-sh! Don't speak so loud. Whenever he hears anything mentioned that he hasn't got he cries for it."

Ruskin's favorite adverb was "on-tremely." Over the grave of his father he put a memorial stone describing the elder Ruskin as "an extremely honest merchant."

Miss Alice M. Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn., tells how woman's monthly suffering may be quickly and permanently relieved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never before given my endorsement for any medicine, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has added so much to my life and happiness that I feel like making an exception in this case. For two years every month I would have two days of severe pain and could find no relief, but one day when visiting a friend I ran across Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.—She had used it with the best results and advised me to try it.
I found that it worked wonders with me; I now experience no pain and only had to use a few bottles to bring about this wonderful change. I use it occasionally now when I am exceptionally tired or worn out."
—MISS ALICE M. SMITH, 804 Third Ave., South Minneapolis, Minn., Chairman Executive Committee Minneapolis Study Club.

Beauty and strength in women vanish early in life because of monthly pain or some menstrual irregularity. Many suffer silently and see their best gifts fade away. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helps women preserve roundness of form and freshness of face because it makes their entire female organism healthy. It carries women safely through the various natural crises and is the safeguard of woman's health.
The truth about this great medicine is told in the letters from women being published in this paper constantly.

Mrs. C. Kleinschrodt, Morrison, Ill., says:—

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have suffered ever since I was thirteen years of age with my menses.
They were irregular and very painful. I doctored a great deal but received no benefit.
A friend advised me to try Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and after taking a few bottles of it, I found great relief.
"Menstruation is now regular and without pain. I am enjoying better health than I have for sometime."

How is it possible for us to make it plainer that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will positively help all sick women?
All women are constituted alike, rich and poor, high and low,—all suffer from the same organic troubles. Surely, no one can wish to remain weak and sickly, discouraged with life and no hope for the future, when proof is so unmistakable that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure monthly suffering—all womb and ovarian troubles, and all the ills peculiar to women.

The secret of the excellent baking and roasting qualifusible flue—an improvement which no other range possesses.

This flue draws fresh air from the floor, superheats it and delivers it into the top of the oven through perforations which diffuse it evenly to front, sides and back. This gives a uniform heat throughout the oven, resulting in uniformly cooked food.
It is simple to prove the fuel economy of the heat-diffusing flue of the
