K. C. WAR ACTIVITIES

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27th. Another great step in advance has been made by the Knights of Columbus Committee on War Activities, which, as the representative of the Catholic people of this country is conducting a social, recreational and religious work among the soldiers of Uncle Sam's army. During the past week several new recreation build-ings were completed and either formally or informally opened to the men. Those informally opened will be officially dedicated at a later date. when prelates and prominent speak ers will be enabled to lend their presence to the event.

This work is now in full swing, and that it is measuring up to all expectations, if not exceeding them, may be gleaned from the impression it has made upon the enlisted men themselves, for whom it is primarily intended. From all sides the Committee is receiving letters of com mendation and one of the most gratifying things about it all is the fact that fathers and mothers who have been compelled to give their sons up for army service are being enabled to bear the great burden by reason of the knowledge that these young young men are surrounded by certain comforts and conveniences through Knights of Columbus work. the which it would be impossible for the government to give and that in addition, they are being enabled to enjoy all the consolation of their religion.

That the secular newspapers of the country appreciate the value of this work has been attested by editorials which have appeared in all the leading papers. Editorial writers have found that the Knights of Columbus is rendering a tremendous humanitarian service to the soldiers, and that their work is concerned. patriotic in the highest sense of the word.

There has been scant suppo given those who would impugn this work and who have asserted that the Knights of Columbus is acting as a secret society and using the build. ings which it has erected for lodge rooms where secret meetings are held. This was of course, officially denied by Col. P. H. Callahan, Chair-Commitee on War Activities and the daily papers, as well as the Cath-olic press, gave wide circulation to this denial this denial.

PROMPTNESS IN RESPONSE ESSENTIAL UNDER THE MILITARY SERVICE ACT

Ottawa, Oct.-" Procrastination is the thief of time." This is especially true with regard to individual duties under the system by which the Military Service Act is now being enforced

Indeed, the provisions of the Act as operated are such that procrastina-tion may be the thief of important privileges, since a limited time only can be allowed for applications for exemption to be taken up by the Exemption Boards.

Canadians are advised to take such action as may be dictated by their circumstances as soon as possible. Reports for service or claim of exemption from military service should be made, whenever possible, immediate. ly after the proclamation issues calling out the first class. The machinery instituted under the Act will work much more smoothly if all those concerned come forward without delay. In this case, promptness is a patriotic duty as well as being in the highest interests of the individual

Ever since the earliest days the secution in Rome it was celebrated under ground in the Catacombs; in and it is a little curious to observe realms of controversy, and it was a non-Catholic who used to phrase It is the Mass that matters," when he desired to overwhelm in argu ment for all time, those who affected to believe that after all there was not much difference between the relig-ious situation in England after the Reformation and before it. Augustine Birrell, late chief secretary for Ireland, thought there was, and he proved it by the attitude towards the Mass of those Englishmen who thought they did nothing but disown the authority of the Pope in England. Catholics are as interested in the Mass from a devotional as they are from a dogmatic standpoint; in fact the dogma here as elsewhere in Catholic teaching, is the foundation of devotion. Once it was our peculiar

No well instructed Catholic will be surprised at the effort of the Church to interest her children in what they all know to be not only the great act of worship, but the supreme means of obtaining grace. Hilaire Belloc, who is one the busiest of men, goes daily to Mass, and his one annoyance on a trip which he once made on foot in France, was that he was deprived of the privilege. He realized apart from "the grace and influence belonging to such a custom" "the sensation order and pleasing accomplishment which attaches to a day one has opened by Mass."

not only Sunday, but daily, and this month of October would be an excellent time to begin to lay the foundation for the habit. We are praying during this month for the intention of the Holy Father and the triumph of the Church. We ought to share the solicitude of Pope Benedict XV., for we know what is uppermost in his mind during every waking hour, and it has been well said by some one-possibly-the late Bishop Hedley, who wrote so en-trancingly of Mass. "If Mass in war time makes every one of us a more real and earnest Catholic, peace will
