

SOCIETY AT THE SUMMER RESORTS

(Continued from Page Four.)

Emma Hull, a well known professional nurse, who has made her home with her sister, Mrs. Fowler, for some time, and who leaves a wide circle of friends who mingle regrets and good wishes for her in her westward home.

Mr. Walter H. Flewelling, a former resident, now of Toronto, spent last night and this morning the guest of his sister, Mrs. H. Fowler, Main St., Hampton Station. He left this afternoon for Toronto.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

The Misses Peters, of Westfield, were week-end visitors to friends at Hampton Station.

Mrs. George C. Weldon, Paddock St., Saint John, spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. W. J. Brown, Main Street. Mrs. Brown and her son, Weldon, left on Monday on a visit to relatives at Falmouth.

WON HIGH HONORS AT DIFFERENT SCHOOLS

Good Work Done by Brother and Sister—News of Rothersey

ROTHERSEY, June 26.—Post Office Inspector Colter has notified Mrs. Margaret Catherine that the position of the residents in her neighborhood for a post office has been granted and that she has been appointed postmistress.

The new office of Fair Vale will be opened July 1st. Fairleigh was the name of the old post office, but since the death of former Postmaster Pearson—since when there has been no post office there—the name Fairleigh has been taken by another New Brunswick village and so the change was made to Fair Vale. If anything more appropriate and suitable, the new post office is on the Gondola Point road about equal distance between Rothersey and the Point and the daily service will be of great convenience to the residents, who for many years have been largely dependent upon the unfailing courtesy of George Pettigill, the mail carrier, for prompt delivery of their letters and papers.

Arthur N. Carter, son of E. S. Carter, arrived home yesterday from Fredericton, where he won the highest honors in the tenth grade in the Fredericton High School. His sister, Miss Alice Boyce, accompanied him from St. John, where the day before she graduated with honors in the St. John High School.

Reverend Fiddington, of the Beach, met with a severe loss Wednesday night when his blacksmith shop, with all his tools and some wagons and sleighs stored there, was burned. He has but little insurance and his loss will be heavy. He intends, however, to rebuild in a few weeks.

A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh B. Pike met death under singular circumstances early last Sunday morning when he was only two years old. The bright little fellow, not two years old, got possession of a book such as ladies use in their dresses, and it soon reached his mouth. In a little while it went down his throat and caught in the glands at the base of that organ.

Three physicians were quickly summoned, but the object could not be dislodged and the little one passed away after a few hours of intense suffering. Mr. Adam, paymaster at the cotton mill, and Miss McMillan, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, are joint owners of the latest addition to the fleet of motor boats. Their craft is built on a grand scale, is of a fine steel and supplied with a four horse power engine. It is supplied with a comfortable cabin and when its spongy hull is in the water it is a more attractive color to the eye.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Munroe, of Millville, left on Tuesday evening for the United States to visit their father, who has been seriously ill in Scotland. Mr. W. W. Millidge, of Oak Bay, rector of Episcopal churches in the parishes of St. David, St. James and St. Patrick during the past thirty years, and who is retiring from his active life, is retiring from the active ministry and after next month will make his home in St. John. On Tuesday evening a number of his parishioners, from Bay Road invaded the rectory and presented the reverend gentleman with a gold-headed cane and Mrs. Millidge with a gold watch. The reverend gentleman's case was so decided the gain of St. John, where this estimable couple are to make their future home.

Rev. C. Gocher, of the Union Street Baptist church for twenty years, was consecrated and presented with a purse of $100 and several addresses expressing appreciation of his valued services.

H. M. Webber, of the Courier staff, has been appointed an issuer of marriage licenses. Mr. Elias Carrick, who has spent the past half century in the west, is leaving for the summer cottage of St. Stephen and vicinity. She is recovering by her daughter.

Mrs. Lillian McMillan is recovering from the grippe, which she contracted in the past half century in the west, is leaving for the summer cottage of St. Stephen and vicinity. She is recovering by her daughter.

Mrs. W. W. Inches will be at home to a number of her young friends Friday afternoon.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

Mrs. W. H. Geringer, wife of the Surveyor General, is severely ill at her home on Union Street, much to the regret of her many friends.

PROVINCIAL NEWS.

REXTON, N. B., June 25.—Captain Weston, of the schooner Unity, which is in port at Newcastle, is visiting his home at Jardineville.

H. B. Curran returned yesterday from a visit to his home in Bathurst. Henry Wilkey, who has been in poor health for some time, went to St. John Tuesday, where he will receive treatment at the General Public Hospital.

John A. Cameron went to St. John, Tuesday.

D. Irving, wife and children, of Buctouche, were in town, yesterday, in their automobile.

Miss Lizzy O'Connor went to Fredericton, Tuesday, to attend the provincial Teachers' Association. What notice of Stuart's removal appeared in the "Provincial Gazette," the words "With Premier, were appended. Mr. Stuart wanted to know the cause and wrote Premier Hasen. In reply he received a reply over the provincial Tory leader's signature saying that Mr. Stuart's removal was a political matter.

ST. STEPHEN, June 25.—Miss Hatfield returned from a visit to her home in Moncton. Frank Porter, who is prominently connected with "railroading" in Michigan, has been spending a few days here with his mother and sisters, after an absence of many years.

All were pleased to welcome Rev. G. M. Young, back from the sessions of the Methodist conference at Fredericton, and to realize that he had decided not to accept the call to Halifax at the present time.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Unfortunately not disturbed. The passengers were scarcely aware of the accident, which might have been very serious. The track was torn up so that the passenger car could not be taken over the bridge, and both passengers and mails were transferred.

MONCTON, June 25.—The hypocrisy of the "non-political" cry with which Premier Hasen and his supporters canvassed the Province previous to the recent provincial elections is being daily shown. Perhaps there is no more glaring specimen of Tory tactics than the dismissal from office of police magistrate, Daniel Stuart, of Hopewell Falls, Albert County. What notice of Stuart's removal appeared in the "Provincial Gazette," the words "With Premier, were appended. Mr. Stuart wanted to know the cause and wrote Premier Hasen. In reply he received a reply over the provincial Tory leader's signature saying that Mr. Stuart's removal was a political matter.

ST. STEPHEN, June 25.—Miss Hatfield returned from a visit to her home in Moncton. Frank Porter, who is prominently connected with "railroading" in Michigan, has been spending a few days here with his mother and sisters, after an absence of many years.

All were pleased to welcome Rev. G. M. Young, back from the sessions of the Methodist conference at Fredericton, and to realize that he had decided not to accept the call to Halifax at the present time.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

Local friends are to furnish an afternoon of sport at the trotting park on Dominion day. A named race, and a harness race and a 226 trot and pace are provided for.

Citizens of the town have already subscribed $1,500 for the three days' carnival September 17th, 18th and 19th, and the fund will reach $2,500 before the end of the week. All are entering heartily into the project and a grand success is assured.

The programme for the day will include athletic contests, grand parades, motor boat races, a grand horse reel race and firemen's sports and other features.

SIR WILFRID IS SURE THE PEOPLE STILL TRUST HIM

"To learn how Sir Wilfrid Laurier feels about the beating his provincial friends in Ontario got in last week's election is a mission upon which I have been sent," writes Mr. E. W. Thomson, Ottawa correspondent in the Boston Transcript.

"Well, after all, Sir Wilfrid doesn't seem a bit sore. He takes the defeat like everything else, as an incident of the game or journey."

"The world is a place of troubles," he says. "Generally the blow to my party friends in Ontario was a severe one. But they had to encounter it and they thought they were under whose large ability is not so well understood as it yet will be—he has been smothered but a short time."

"In some sense the result may be construed as a stroke against my government, but really it should not be so regarded. Some men's minds are so fogged that they see only the immediate moment and not the long range of the parties of Ontario province with the parties of the country in general."

"I am sure that some of my friends in Quebec conceive of the victory which is only less striking than that of the Conservatives in Ontario, to sign the universal electoral victory for our party in federal politics. Neither one nor the other set of these rejoicers and disappointed have yet got the sense of the two simultaneous and opposed provincial victories out of their eyes."

"My government may do less well at the next Dominion elections than Mr. Laurier's government did in the last. The result is not to be denoted. I am not discouraged, nor worried at all."

STANDS ON RECORD. "You should consider that just as Mr. Wilfrid Laurier has stood for the party in the past, so he will stand for the party in the future. It is not one of which I have regret. The people must judge it and us. I cannot do much confidence in their common sense. We have had some misfortunes. We have made some mistakes—not many, I believe, and not important. Our successes are obvious, and I think important. The party in Canada is not to be questioned by me. The people are our final court of appeal."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

CAPT. MORRELL'S REMAINS FOUND

Picked Up in New York Harbor

Captain Mysteriously Disappeared June 24—May Have Been Murdered

A telegram was received last night by C. P. Kerrison, shipping broker, on South Wharf, from New York informing him that the body of Capt. Morrell, who so mysteriously disappeared from the schooner E. C. Gates, in New York harbor and would be forwarded to St. John immediately. No further details were given.

On Thursday the sad and distressing news of the disappearance was first received by the friends of Captain Morrell in St. John, and at first it was thought that some mistake had been made, but the telegram of yesterday dispelled all doubts.

On May 29 Captain Morrell shipped as mate on the schooner E. C. Gates, under Captain Lunn. Last Wednesday night Captain Morrell went ashore at New York to get a shave, and returned to the vessel about eleven o'clock. On Thursday morning he did not come to breakfast and the steward went to his berth to call him, but received no response. Upon investigation his room was found empty and all the captain's clothing, watch and small change lying where he had placed them. The matter was placed in the hands of the New York police.

It is thought that Captain Morrell heard a noise in the night and went out bound to investigate. Vessels in that quarter are often attacked by river thieves and Captain Lunn is inclined to think that something of that nature occurred and that the captain either fell overboard in his attempt to reach the shore, or that some injury and rolled into the water.

His wife and son, who reside on Dorchester street, were greatly affected by the news and at once took steps to learn more concerning the captain's death.

Captain Morrell was 56 years of age and was born in the parish of Kings County. He had four brothers, Samuel, Jacob, Joseph and Levi, also two sisters, Mrs. Ricker and Mrs. J. Stuphan. He was married to Florence Oram, widow, in St. John and had one son Walter, who is still at home. Deceased was well known in St. John and was a member of the St. John's church. He was a member of the St. John's church for twenty-five years he followed his occupation as coasting captain. He had been master of the Jennie C. H. M. for many years. His wife and son were also well known in St. John.

Two years ago this month his brother Capt. John A. Morrell dropped dead in his home. He had just returned from a trip up the river and while his wife was out for a few minutes suddenly collapsed and was dead in a short time.

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

"No—as you say—there is really no reason of common sense why the party should hold elections a year or more before they are legally necessary. The choice of time has been a matter, usually, of ministerial strategy. The ministers have formed a habit of going to the country when circumstances seemed propitious. Whether it is so now, I cannot say. There is no suggestion of any serious consideration. I am a man who crosses bridges when he comes to them."

"We are a little disturbed by the alleged 'scandals'—at worst they are of trivial magnitude, mostly they have been dissipated by sworn testimony. Some are still under examination. The honor of no minister has been impugned. I have not ever observed the Canadian people to be much misled by the more suspicious, imputations, and accusations of any opposition. Also, we have plenty of time before us. Our terms do not expire until November of next year. Much water may flow past in eighteen months. It is true, but it may go to the country earlier—or may not."

MASONS ATTENDED CHURCH AT HAMPTON

Large Number Heard an Impressive Sermon by Rev. G. A. Ross Sunday

HAMPTON, June 27.—The officers and members of Corinthian Lodge, No. 13, A. F. and A. Masons, with other visiting members of the fraternity, held a church parade this morning from their lodge room at the Methodist church, where an impressive service was held at eleven o'clock. The day was beautiful, and many persons from surrounding districts drove in to witness the turnout and attended the service. The attendance of Masons was large and in their new regalia they presented a fine appearance. They were accompanied by the Hampton band and marched through the main streets before reaching the church, which was packed to the doors, many being unable to get inside. The music by the choir was of a high order, with Mrs. J. M. Barnes of St. John as organist. In addition to the regular hymns, which were heartily sung by congregation, Keith Evans, who has just arrived from St. Louis for his annual summer visit, sang Dudley Buck's fine aria "For Not Ye, O Israel, and at the offertory after the sermon the choir sang in impressive style Klipfel's "Recessional," De Koven. Rev. George A. Ross delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words "Free and accepted," which forms part of the Masonic title of the order, taking for his text the words of Jesus in His disciples, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John Will, and the words of Paul in II. Corinthians v. 2, "Accepted of Him." The offertory after the sermon the choir sang in impressive style Klipfel's "Recessional," De Koven. Rev. George A. Ross delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words "Free and accepted," which forms part of the Masonic title of the order, taking for his text the words of Jesus in His disciples, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John Will, and the words of Paul in II. Corinthians v. 2, "Accepted of Him." The offertory after the sermon the choir sang in impressive style Klipfel's "Recessional," De Koven. Rev. George A. Ross delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words "Free and accepted," which forms part of the Masonic title of the order, taking for his text the words of Jesus in His disciples, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John Will, and the words of Paul in II. Corinthians v. 2, "Accepted of Him." The offertory after the sermon the choir sang in impressive style Klipfel's "Recessional," De Koven. Rev. George A. Ross delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words "Free and accepted," which forms part of the Masonic title of the order, taking for his text the words of Jesus in His disciples, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John Will, and the words of Paul in II. Corinthians v. 2, "Accepted of Him." The offertory after the sermon the choir sang in impressive style Klipfel's "Recessional," De Koven. Rev. George A. Ross delivered an eloquent sermon based on the words "Free and accepted," which forms part of the Masonic title of the order, taking for his text the words of Jesus in His disciples, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John Will, and the words of Paul in II.