A revision of the franchise lists has been ordered, although are in my possession." on the revision of 1891, which cost this country $205,807, only a few bye-elections were run. A glance over the auditor-general's report for the past year is especially the other side of the case, and you can say interesting and gives a good idea of the cost of these multitudinous revisions. Take for instance the constituency of Caribou, with its list of 736 names at a cost of $878, or list of Rimouski, with its 5,618 names, the government paid $1,363. Coming nearer nome, the constituency of York with 5,486 names on the list, footed up $803.16, or about fifteen cents per name. It will appear from the above figures that the revising barristers will at least be pleased to have another revision ordered, whether it suits the people or not.

Word has been received by his friends at Petersville, Queens county, N. B., of the death recently at Santa Cruz county, California, of Patrick McGovern. Deceased leaves a wife and one child. Mr. McGovern sent about four years. He leaves many sorrowing friends in Queens county.

Michael McCafferty, of the Harley Road settlement, Queens, died suddenly a few days since, while loading a sled in the lumber woods, between Red Bank and Coal Creek. He went behind the sled to lift one end of the logs he was loading, when he fell across them dead. Deceased was in middle life and leaves a widow and seven children and many friends to mourn his loss.

The citizens were shocked on Tuesday night to hear of the sudden death of James Wetmore. He was on the street some two hours previous to his death, in apparent good health. He was boarding at Clarke's hotel, Queen street, and was preparing for supper and arose to light the lamp, and in the act of so doing fell dead on the floor. The deceased was a brother of the late Judge Wetmore, and was almost seventy-three years old. He was admitted to the bar when only twenty-one years of age; but after practicing until some forty years ago, he retired from active work. Mr. Wetmore was one of the old residents of the city and well known to everyone. His funeral took place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30, from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Black, and ## grave, by request of the departed.

The inhabitants of St. Marys, across the river, are growing ambitous. Not long ago there was considerable agitation there regarding the advisability of applying for admission into the city of Fredericton or for incorporation under a separate charter, and the question is still being actively canvassed. A meeting was held in the Forresters' hall on Thursday evening to discuss a scheme for the improvement of the fire service. This step appeared to be much needed, as they only have a very primitive hand engine, supplied from the water tank, with which to face a fire. Proposals were considered, the purchase of a new steam engine and new hose. After some general discus sion concerning the condition of affairs and how that condition could best be remedied, left side, and tore it open until the heart it was decided that the best way to expedite the movement would be to appoint a committee to inquire into the cost of a new and better system of water supply. On that committee were appointed Messrs. Walter McFarlane, Jas. Simmons and Whitman Brewer. Wesley Van-Wart attended as counsel for Mr. Blair, and, after the hearing of the statements of the parties, the matter was amicably settled by apologies being offered on both sides and the boy, who had been expelled by Mr. Dobson, being reinstated as a pupil.

The Snowflake Minstrels

The Snowflake minstrels of St. John, appeared at the city hall on Tuesday evening last. The great enthusiasm with which these performers were received in St. John assured them of a crowded house. The company consisted of thirty-five artists, including six end men. The entertainment throughout was laughable and amusing. The local hits-and they were many-were duly appreciated. The clergy, both of St. John and Fredericton, came in for a share. The prominent feature of the evening was the Leaman brothers, the youngest song and dance team in the world. They had to respond to frequent encores, and their last piece, The Whistling Coon, was magnificent. The minstrels were accompanied by Harri-
