The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

The lady who came to spend the day with mother yesterday brought her little grandchild. And at four o'clock, when school was out, the little girl next door and the little girl from two doors down the street came over to play dolls with her.

Another produced some of the old family playthings in the way of doll's furniture for them, and for awhile they played most happily in the next rooms to my study. And then, all at once, I was conscious of a discord. The dispute concerned the arrangement of the furniture.

"But they never have bureaus in parlors," I heard.

"Yes they do. When we lived in the boarding house we had a bureau in our parlor behind the screen."

"But we haven't got a screen."

"I don't care. We've got to have the bureau in the parlor because if we don't there'll only be a piano and a chair, and you can't have a parlor with just a piano and a chair."

"But you can't have a bureau in a parlor, and I won't."

"Then I won't play, and I don't like you, and I'm going down and get grandma to take me home. I don't want to play with you. So there!"

This last remark, delivered in a shrill tone, audible all over the house, brought grandmother to the scene of action.

"Madeline, don't you dare say that naughty thing again," she reproved. "Of course you will play with the other little girls and play as they want to. You know you can't have your own way all the time."

"That's the worst thing about Madeline," she explained to me subsequently, when comparative peace had

Facts for Weak Women

Nine-tenths of all the sickness of women is due to some derangement or disease of the organs distinctly feminine. Such sickness can be cured—is cured every day by

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

It Makes Weak Women Strong, Sick Women Well.

It acts directly on the organs affected and is at the same time a general restorative tonic for the whole system. It cures female complaint right in the privacy of home. It makes unnecessary the disagreeable questioning, examinations and local treatment so universally insisted upon by doctors, and so abhorrent to every modest woman.

We shall not particularize here as to the symptoms of these peculiar affections incident to women, but those wanting full information as to their symptoms and means of positive cure are referred to the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser—1008 pages, newly revised and up-to-date Edition, sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only; or, in cloth binding for 50 stamps.

Fads and Fashions.

The newest muffs are enormous. Suede is a favorite material for belts.

Velveteen gowns are all the rage this year.

Crayons of beadwork with tassels are new and odd.

Aligrettes and paradise plumes will be worn more and more.

Ostrich plumes come principally in black, white and gray.

Short, straight-cut jackets and narrow skirts are the rule.

Jackets button over at the side, and usually sport a sailor collar.

Irish crochet lingerie pins for the neck and belt are very fashionable.

The boyish jacket must be avoided by all who are not youthful in figure.

Sailor collars for muslin or silk blouses may be embroidered by hand.

Decidedly new are belt buckles originally covered with close set beadings.

Hats are delightfully picturesque this season no matter what their size.

Belts of wampum—that is, Indian beads—are easily made and are unique and pretty.

Smart walking dresses reveal the feet in the coquettish fashion of the first empire.

Some of the cleverest touches of the toilette are found in the back of the new costumes.

The squid-like fashion of wearing tails, heads and paws is discarded by well-dressed women.

Gored or semi-circular styles in skirts are given the preference over cluster-plated models.

Muffs, scarfs and turbans for school girls are made of serge or velvet bordered with fur.

White-tipped black fox fur is being out and mounted like quilts, as a rival to its feathered cousins.

Silks, satins, velvets and furs—especially sealskin—are much used for the new winter hats and toques.

Unpretentious blouses may be smartened and brightened by a few beads carefully selected as to color.

More fashionable than the long nap or furry beaver is the one that has shorter fur and is smooth and silky.

Tassels are utilized in all sorts of original styles in the decoration of the winter frocks and coats for children.

In some of the elaborate gowns, the overskirt is frequently cut into pieces one crossing over the other in surplice effect.

The mode of hairdressing follows the Roman tendency, and headresses of pearls, ribbon and jewels are very much worn.

Indian shawls are now cut up and fashioned into handbags, purses, slippers, muffs—in fact, in almost every accessory of dress.

Large, black velvet, old English hats are decked to the limit in white or pale-colored plumage, but not with the willow plumes.

Faded rose is a favourite color for the outer garments for children this winter. Felt hats of the same color can also be procured.

Lovely veiled effects in blouses for cloth suits, the top layer of chiffon or net usually matching the cloth, are made in all colors.

New velvings show interwoven circles as large as half a dollar, and

Oh! That Awful Gas.

Did you hear? How embarrassing. These stomach noises make you wish you could sink through the floor. You imagine everyone hears them. Keep a box of CASCARETS in your purse or pocket and take a part of one after eating. It will relieve the stomach of gas. 918 CASCARETS 10c. a box for a week's treatment, all druggists. Biggest seller in the world. Million boxes a month.

An Unnecessary Confession.

A hearty laugh was occasioned at a Birmingham police court by a rishmer who gave himself away in a very delightful manner. The man was the first on the list, and the large against him was merely one of being drunk and disorderly. He topped into the dock, however, just at the moment when the dock officer was reading out a few of the cases which were to come before the court that morning, and a guilty conscience apparently led him to mistake these terms for a list of his previous confessions.

He stood by passively enough while he offered out about a dozen drunk and disorderlies, but when he came to one "shopbreaking," the prisoner exclaimed excitedly, "That was eight years ago, your Honor." Every one began to laugh, and the prisoner, realizing the blunder he had made, at first looked very black indeed, but finally saw the humorous side of the matter, and a broad smile spread over his face. His blunder did not cost anything.

If You Take a Few Doses of FIG PILLS

All Backache and Distress from Out-of-Order Kidneys or Bladder trouble will vanish, and you will feel fine. Lame Back, Painful Stitches, Rheumatism, Nervous Headache, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Wornout, Sick Feeling and other symptoms of Sluggish, Inactive Kidneys and Liver disappear. Smarting, Frequent Urination and all Bladder Trouble ends. FIG PILLS go at once to the disordered Kidneys, Bladder and Urinary System, and complete a cure before you know it. At all drug stores; 25c. a box, or five for one dollar.

Crave For Motors.

The traveller notes that the ancient and modern modes of life are strongly intermingled in Lisbon. Recently the richer inhabitants have developed a passion for owning motor cars. The number of cars seen about the streets is a cause of wonderment, especially when one considers that Lisbon is not adapted to motoring, with its twisted and steep streets. In fact in several places the people go from one quarter of the city to another by means of elevators set in steel cages, getting transfer tickets from the transfer conductors to connect with other lines.

Nevertheless the Portuguese of the upper class must have his car, though his purchases may have deprived the owner of all his other luxuries, and it is even rumored that he sometimes goes without his dinner that his hungering car may have its fill of gasoline.
