Sorel Murderer Unfit to Stand the Ordeal

Montreal, Jan. 23. — The Cuth-bert-Olivier murder case was brought up before the Sorel Criminal Court yesterday. The Court House was packed to the doors with spectators anxious to know the opinion of the experts who last week examined the murderer, and who were to appear as witnesses. Olivier was brought into court at 10.20 a.m., assisted by two court at 10.20 a.m., assisted by two constables. He appeared broken down and listless, and had the hag-gard look of a madman. After the reading of the indictment, a special jury to decide on the special plea put up by the d-fence, of mental incapac-ity to be defendant in a criminal trial, was sworn. Dr. Villeneuve was called to the witness box. He had examined the witness box. He had examined the prisoner, and found him unable to suffer at the present moment a trial by jury, or any trial. Dr. Barolet deposed likewise. After an eloquent charge by Hon.

Judge Ouimet, the jury rendered a verdict without leaving the room to the effect that Olivier is not at the present moment in a fit mental state to suffer trial for murder.
