NECESSITY FOR A NEW NORMAL SCHOOL

The Toronto World reports that 50 young school teachers who were desirous of entering the normal schools this term are disappointed, because there is not room for them. Nearly 280 applications were sent in, and as the normal schools at Toronto and Ottawa can only accommodate 230, those who were tardy in applying for admission will have to wait for another six months. This, it appears, is the first time that the schools have been inadequate to accommodate the applicants, and the Normal School authorities at Toronto attribute it to the fact that an extension of the term to one year, instead of five months, and the construction of a new normal school in this city have been talked of. Many of the applicants who "would probably have waited till next session got the impression that this term was to be for a year, and, in preference to waiting for that length of time before entering on the course, they applied for admission this session." Our contemporary

"The Toronto school is for the accommodation of teachers from west of the city, those from the east, with few exceptions, going to Ottawa. This session it has been found necessary by the authorities to send a number of teachers from Hamilton to the Ottawa thool, owing to the Toronto school being filled when their applications were There are always more applicants from the west than from the

The statements of the World are doubtless well founded. They once more emphasize the propriety of proceeding at an early date with the erection of a new Normal School for the west in this city. Whether or not the present crowding in the normal schools continues, it is high time that means were adopted to provide the necessary education for western teachers in the west. No teacher living west of Toronto should be called upon to go to Ottawa for his or her equipment. The Province should be divided into three normal school districts, to be served by the schools in Ottawa and Toronto, and by new school, to be erected in the center of the most populous portion of the Province that of which London is the capital.

A CLASS LAW THAT SHOULD BE REPEALED.

The following appears in the Toronto Mail-Empires

that the new voters' list takes in nearly if not every male in Canada, of the age of 21. There are 1,353,000 voters, whereas there are 1,349,000 men. Making allowance for duplications, there are very few men in Canada who do not enjoy the franchise."

This is a fallacious argument. In the first place there are many thousands of duplicate names on the voters' lists. The men in power discriminate against the ordinary citizen by giving to the rich man, who has property in several ridings, a vote in each. We know of rich men in London and Hamilton, who each vote in from five to eight constituencies. The man, not the lot, should vote. If the lot is the voter, the man with $10,000 worth of property in one constituency should have as many votes as the man with $10,000 worth of belongings divided up among half a dozen ridings. As that would be absurd, is it not equally absurd and unjust to discriminate in favor of the rich who have property in different constituencies? Then the antiquity of the voters' list renders it still more incomplete. On the list upon which the ensuing Dominion election will take place are the names of thousands of men who no longer live in Canada, but who can return to the Dominion, and likely will return to kill the votes of the legitimate electorate of Canada. Thousands of those whose names are on the list have died since it was made, but their names will remain on, giving opportunity for perjury and personation to an alarming extent. And while the lists are so made up, if the Dominion were polled today we would find many thousands of electors who are properly qualified to vote in point of age, property and residence, who must stand by and see the elections decided by the foreign and graveyard votes. These men cannot go to the polls, because their names are not on the lists. The names were omitted because they were not of age when, many months November.

ago. the lists were made up, or they THE NEW BRITISH PARLIAMENT. were not in the country at the time. Why say that such a foolish and unfair system is manhood suffrage? Why fileh from a poor man his cherished rights because he has been out of a job for a few weeks in a year, and give the right to vote to a rich man's son, solely because he is a rich man's son?

The system is all wrong. Every revision under this precious act costs Michael Davitt was returned for East nearly a quarter of a million dollars, and already over a million dollars have been squandered, while all the time the provinces have on their statute books franchise laws infinitely more fair.

What could be fairer or more workable, for example, than the Ontario Manhood Franchise Law?

In this matter, too, the country needs a change. The class franchise law must go also POINTS. The band of the Thirteenth Battalion (Hamilton) has been engaged to accompany the St. Bernard Commandery, of Chicago, to the Knights Templar demonstration in Boston. There will be 89 bands in the procession, and the Thirteenth will be in the front rank. Nothing but shortage of knowledge could have prevented the Knights Templar leaders from engaging one of our first-class bands for the week.

The popular majority in favor of Lord Salisbury's Government was only 40,000. And that, too, with plural voting, which will always tell against the

In a recent lecture, Dr. Moore, editor of the Western Christian Advocate, contended that to Horace Greeley, the noted New York editor, greater credit should be given for the emancipation of the slave than to Abraham Lincoln. This estimate, though not the popular one, may be well founded. It is a common experience for a newspaper to advocate and bring to fruition a great reform, while a politician, who only took it up at the eleventh hour, has received the praise, gratitude, and public recognition. Greeley was a persistent opponent of slavery long before Lincoln and his political associates were prepared to face the question as a political issue.

The Fredericton Herald says Hon. Mr. Foster, the high tax leader in the House of Commons, finds open rebellion against his candidature in York county, N. B., to which county he fled for a seat when he found that the Liberals were certain to defeat him in Kings county. It is even suggested by his friends that he should seek a seat in British Columbia. The misfortunes of Mr. Foster are added to by the fact that many electors who formerly supported the retiring Conservative M. P. positively refuse to vote for the makeshift candidate.

The means of conveyance has been J. C. Williams, J. A. Willox, F. W. Wilvastly improved in Canada in the memory of the present adult population. In the early days, the mails were most irregular, and long periods often elapsed between the posting of newspapers and letters in this city and their delivery in obscure country districts. Now the railway goes almost everywhere, the postoffice goes with it, and the average resident of the country, in the farthest off corner of the Province, can be reading his "Western Advertiser" within a comparatively short time after it is issued each recurring Thursday. The improvement of the mail service is not greater than the improvement in the size and completeness of the weekly newspaper. The "Western cian Johnson has made, it appears Advertiser" (our weekly edition), issued today, is eight times larger than the "Western Advertiser" of 30 years ago, and it costs less money. To the many thousands of progressive residents in Wetern Ontario, and to many outside the Western Peninsula, who do not find it convenient to get a daily newspaper, the "Western Advertiser" is a weekly source of information, instruction and genuine pleasure. It is also purchased by citizens in hundreds to send to friends living in other lands.

> "Recreation" for August is an excellent number. It is the beau ideal of an honest sportsman's monthly. All its contents are illustrated; its stories of adventure are exciting, and graphically written, while its resume of manly sport is not equalled by any periodical. Canadians will be specially interested in "Salmon Fishing in Labrador." $1 a Year. Published at 216 William street, Frank Leslie's Monthly begins in the September number a new series, "The Magnet Stone," by Frances Swaine Williams, with illustrations by Hugh M. Eaton. An exceedingly interesting paper is "Mishaps and Mysteries of the Sea," by Mary Titcomb, with illustraions by Overend, J. O. Davidson, J. Becker, Frank Schell, Montbard Koerner and Burns. It is a capital number, with many beautiful illustrations. New York: Frank Leslie, 42 Bond street.

The September number of McClure's Magazine is made attractive by a beautifully illustrated account of the work of Will H. Low, by an installment of Robert Louis Stevenson's Fables, and by short stories by Anthony Hope, Ian Maclaren and Stan J. Weyman. It has also interesting articles on the Cup Defenders and Valkyrie III., with pictures of them all, and Mr. Jerviss' story of his ascento f the Matterhorn.

Mrs. Humphry Ward's new novel, on which she has been at work for the past two years, will be called, "Sir sults that a similar case would hardly George Tressady." It will appear as a excite as much interest now as it did in the Century, beginning with then when the medicine was less
