LAMBTON.

An Ottawa dispatch says: "R. J. Tanner, principal of the Central school east, died Monday in the Convalescent Home there after a short illness of typhoid fever. His early demise will be generally regetted by all who knew him, and by none more than by his scholars, whom he ruled by love. Mr. Tanner was a member of the Sons of England and St. George's Society, and held important offices in both organizations here, in which there was not a more trusted or beloved member. In dispation he was quiet and unassuming, and always ready to nelp. As a teacher he was painstaking and thorough. He had taught in the Ottawa schools since 1879, and since that time made many warm friends. He haifed from Lambton county, but previous to removing to Ottawa was teaching in West Middlager.

The Stratford Beacon says: "Hon. The Stratford Beacon says: "Hon. Thomas Ballantyne's herd of Ayrshires, which he purchased during his late visit to Scotland, have been in quarantine at Halifax for two weeks or more and will remain there for two months longer. They were brought by way of Halifax, as none of the Montreal cattle lines will carry European cattle to this country because of the law, which provides that if any diseased cattle were found on board on arrival at Quebec the vessel would not be allowed to carry cattle for three months. The herd had, therefore, to be brought out by an American vessel, which calls at Halifax. There are no such restrictions on American vessels.

ATTACKED BY A HEN HAWK.

For Twen'y Minutes Mrs. Hinckley Fought Till Rescued by Her Daughter.

North Lyme, Conn., Oct. 4.—Mrs. James Hinckley, of Walnut Hollow, near here, had an encounter recently with a hen hawk that nearly caused her death. Mrs. Hinckley is a widow and manages a farm with the assistance of her only child, a 15-year-old girl. While she was throwing corn to her fowls an immense hawk swooped down and caught a hen in its talons. Without apprehending the danger to herself, Mrs. Hinckley picked up a stone and threw it at the hawk. The missile struck the bird fairly and seemed to madden it, for it flow at the woman. Mrs. Hinckley was unable to get hawk's anger was apparently at the woman's cries. I taimed to face, which she protected with and arms, From her arms smer dress was torn in shree fiesh was lacerated so badly clothing was saturated with twenty minutes the bird had woman all over the yard until fainting condition.
