Got Away With a Eag Full of Watches and Diamond Rings.

OMAHA, Neb., Nov. 24.—Sneak thieves entered the jewelry store of S. Jonason & Co. this morning and succeeded in getting away with $10,000 worth of diamonds and $5,000 worth of gold watches. Jonason had stepped out of the store to get shaved, leaving only a watch repairer in charge.

A man came in with a clock which he wanted repaired at once, and walked back with it to the repairer's bench. While the jeweler was at work the stranger stood in front of him and so hid from him his conederate who entered and filled a bag with watches and diamond rings. After clock had been repaired the stranger It was a half hour before Jonason returned then the robbery was discovered. No trace of the men has been found.

Wiggins Wags His Unweary. ing Jaw.

The Moon, He Says, is the Moot Likely of the Heavenly Bodies to Take a Tumble—Prof. Snider is a "Disgrace to Science and Himse;t"—A Lady's Fears.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—Prof. Wiggins was seen to-day respecting the alleged collision of the earth with a comet last night, as stated by Prof. Suider, of Philadelphia. Prof. Wiggins denies that any collision took place; first, because there was no comet near us, and secondly, because a comet could not collide with the earth. Planets and comets, he says, are electrically comet could not collide with the earth. Planets and comets, he says, are electrically positive and therefore repel each other. During the last century Lexell's comet actually revolved about Jupiter for several months within the orbit of his furthest satellite and then went on its course through the heavens. If a comet were to trike the carth it would smash her into meteor dust in twenty minutes. Constitution of the contract of earth it would smash her into meteor of in twenty minutes. Comets are solid both the twenty minutes. Comets are solid both itset he earth, which run toward the swhere they are positively electrified then driven off again into space, according to the law of like electricit. If there is one heavenly body more list han another to fall on the earth it is moon, for in June her orbit is nearer than in January. It is plain that nearer a planet is to the sun, the less diger. Prof. Snider's assertion that earth collided with a comet last night disgrace to science and himself. disgrace to science and himself.

"It is useless," he said "to discuss the probability of its identity with Biela's comet or to attempt to sketch its course through the heavens until man more observations have been made. with three observations at intervals of two three deys it is possible to obtain, very roughly, the orbit of such a body.

"An accurate determination of the orbit of a comet requires a continuous series of observations extending over a period of several months, and the work of computing the path may well last several months more, so that the orbit of no comet is known with any accuracy until long after the body has made its appearance.

"The comet now in question has been visible only seventeen days. Had the observations during this period been of the best we could then only very roughly determine the probable path of the stranger. Unfortunately, however, it is impossible to make satisfactory observations. During the first few days there was quite a sharp and definite nucleus in the comet, and this could readily be taken as its center in measuring its position among the fixed stars. Since those first days the strange body has increased remarkably in size, but this increase has been accompanied by a decrease in brightness and a loss of all definite outlines and nucleus. At present the comet appears as a large, very faint, and diffused haze, showing no marked point from which to make measurements. This light haze appears to fill the field of view of the telescope, and to measure the position of such a body is impossible."

Two equally good astronomers, side by side, at the same time, with different telescopes would probably differ greatly as to their estimates of its position. As a consequence of this indefiniteness of the comet's real position, all attempts to compute an orbit from the few observations now at hand real position, all attempts to compute an orbit from the few observations now at hand have proved of slight avail. The comet has been watched with care during the last week at the Johns Hopkins observatory, but with no satisfactory results. It now appears as a faint haze or fog in the telescope." A very pleasant event took place this morning at St. Mary's Cathedral in the marriage of Mr. Thos. E. Smith, an old Hamilton boy (a member of the Thirteenth Band and opera house orchestra), to Miss Tuchy, of Traverston, Ont. The bride was supported by Miss Lucy Dunn, of London, and the groom by Mr. James S. McDougall, also of London. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hinchey. The happy couple left for Chicago on their wedding trip, followed by the best wishes and congratulations of their many friends.
