JOHN REDMOND'S DECLARATION

He Says the Irish Problem Is Dangerous to the Empire-T. W. Russell Predicts War.

Dublin, July 24 .- A new Irish land trust, which is called the Irish Land Trust of 1902, has been formed by the landlords as a defensive organization to resist the attempts of the tenants to force the landlords to sell their land. Another object of the trust is to obtain the cultivation of lands from which tenants have been evicted. The Nationalist party is determined to fight the landlords' combine, which has been admittedly formed with the object of crushing the United Irish League. John Redmond and his sup- rates for money are easy, and that porters are satisfied that the Duke of Abercorn, the Marquis of Waterford, Col. Saunderson, Smith and Barry, unwisely, which action, it says, might and the other landlords who comprise the combine, are engaged in proceedings which bring them within the law of conspiracy. It is stated that the Nationalist Leaguers have decided to take legal proceedings against the landowners' trust.

IN THE COMMONS.

The House of Commons last night entered upon a series of Irish debates. When the estimates for Ireland came up for discussion, John Redmond, chairman of the Irish parliamentary party, moved the reduction of the salary of the chief secretary, Geo. Wynd-Mr. Redmond maintained that Mr. Wyndham had done nothing for the country, and that the Irish problem was more dangerous to the empire today than it has been for a at last accounts had not succeeded.

Russell (Liberal Unionist) member for South Tyrone, palliated disorder during the Defreyne evictions, brought about a heated denial from Mr. Russell, and lengthy exchanges between himself and Mr. Wyndham. Mr. Russell declared that only a man who had sold himself body and soul to the landlords would dare make such a said it would provoke a war, the end which no man could foresee.

THE MATTER OF NEGRO MIGRATION

Subject of an Interesting Debate in Chicago.

Bishop Grant Tells Colored People That They Have Won the Right to Stay Here.

Coming ed the storms of a hundred years, goes from a land that gave up its wealth for back to the acorn! Ah, talk about leaving a country like this, where, to view her splendid achievements, one must climb to the dizziest heights, above all the world, and where will be spread before his feet the proudest deeds of all the ages! Tell me this is not my country! I and my people helped to build these 200,000 miles of railroads, we brought forth the corn, the cotton and the rice. There were four speakers, country." and Bishop Abraham Grant, who presided, closed the debate in the above words.

MR. WOODS' VIEWS. "We are here to discuss a subject that has baffled the best minds for the past thirty, years," began the first speaker, J. T. F. Woods, who had the affirmative side of the debate. "It still baffles the profoundest thinkers of the age. It is not a question of what the negro wants to do. It is not a question of what the Anglo-Saxon wants the negro to do. The question is, what he had best do for his Replying to a question, the premier, A. J. Balfour, said that the Imperial Government was still considering its replied to Russia's suggestion regarding an international trust conference, but it was impossible as yet to announce Great Britain's attitude on the subject. As announced in a dispatch July 18, Baron De Stael, Russian Ambassador to Great Britain, about ten days previously presented to the British Government a note from W. Witte, Russian minister of finance, which was sent to all the other powers which signed the Russian sugar convention, proposing that these powers should st. consider in common means to protect international commerce against the artificial depression of prices, not only by government measures, but also by Fenwick.
