Greater Prince Rupert.

Mail advices to the traffic department of the Grand Trunk Pacific this week show that there is great activity. both in new building operations and in the rapid advance in real estate in Prince Rupert, which in another two months will complete its first year of existence. It is nothing unusual for a million feet of lumber to be delivered at Prince Rupert in a single week and it melts away as fast as teams and men can handle it. A number of leaseholders are starting to build wharves, and the new concrete wharf of the British Columbia Government will also be under way at once The Grand Trunk Pacific is planning further large additions to its already extensive wharves. The British Columbia Legislature late in the session which has just closed, gave Prince Ru pert a charter as a town, with specia privileges and rights as to the control of municipal water and lighting privileges not enjoyed by other cities in British Columbia. ## The Career to Wealth_ Is a Natural Progress

A wage earner, or a young man earning a small salary, cannot save himself rich—he cannot save enough out of his earnings alone to make himself rich. But he can save enough to become an investor, in a small way, in his own right-and later on wealth will come to him as a reward for his perseverance in saving and his shrewdness in investing. It is a natural progress, and the career is started with the first dollar deposited in the bank.
