SOME EXPLANATION

Secretary of St. George's Society Writes to The Advertiser.

Mr. R. Cadwallader, secretary of St. George's Society, writes to The Advertiser that there has not been any move made to amalgamate St. George's Society and the Sons of England. He explains that St. George's Society does what the Sons of England cannot do as a society, namely, receive and assist Englishmen who are unfortunate. He also states that the members of St. George's Society are many of the Sons of England, and the proposed memorial to King Edward, Mr. Cadwallader states that St. George's Society is not assisting the whole responsibility of the scheme. The memorial idea was proposed by a private member, who produced a design which the society approved, and Mr. Cadwallader was instructed to approach the Canadian Club, St. Andrew's Society and the Irish Bureaucratic Society and submit the plan to them for their approval and ask them and all citizens to co-operate. St. George's Society, Mr. Cadwallader says, has no intention of going to the council or collecting any money unless for their approval of other bodies.

PARENTS APPRECIATEWORK OF TEACHERS

Surprise at Meeting of First Presbyterian Sunday School.

The officers and teachers of the First Presbyterian Sunday School held their annual meeting last evening. About 25 of them met at 6:30 o'clock, and had supper together, after which they adjourned to the schoolroom to transact the business of the school necessary to the preparation of their annual report to be presented at the annual meeting of the church on Wednesday night. During the meeting they were pleasantly surprised by a sudden invasion of the parents of the church, who presented an address of appreciation for the efforts of the teachers of the school in the work of training the boys and girls. The address was read by Mr. M. J. Lewis, and others who spoke on behalf of the parents, were Messrs. Gibson, Turnbull, Crouch, and Tempest, and Mrs. George M. Reid. Replies were made on behalf of the teachers and officers by Mrs. Leonard, Mr. Heath and Mr. McPherson.

PUBLIC DRINKING CUPSWILL BE ABOLISHED

Medical Health Officer Hutchinson Is on the Warpath Now.

Public drinking cups will be abolished if the health of the city is endangered. At the meeting yesterday afternoon, Dr. Hutchinson, M. H. O., brought the question up. He declared that it was high time that these unsanitary cups in public places and schools should be done away with. He said that he had no right to exist in a public place, and that he should be subjected to such risks, especially when conditions can be remedied at a small cost.

On motion of Dr. Williams and Dr. Burdon, the council passed a resolution asking the council to take speedy action, and place provisions in the schools and public places.

A copy of the resolution will be sent to the board of education.

SERIOUS CHARGEMADE BY MILKMAN

Told Board of Health That Milk

Commission Had Froze Him Out.

ALL SAMPLES CONDEMNED

Finally T. H. Robinson, it is alleged, sent Sample of "Certified Milk" and They, Too, Were Condemned.

Serious charges were preferred against the milk commission of this city (an organization appointed by the London Medical Association to superintend the production of a pure milk supply), by Mr. T. H. Robinson, a dairyman, of London, at the meeting of the board of health yesterday afternoon. He declared that the commission had forced him out of business, and had diverted trade from its normal channels.

The board listened to the charges, but no action was taken.

In his opening remarks Mr. Robinson asked if the commission were responsible to the board of health, and Chairman Clarke answered that he did not think such was the case.

"This is in itself wrong," said Mr. Robinson. "The commission should be directly responsible to some higher body. In this case, of course, the board of health. I charge that this body of men have used their powers to discriminate against me, and divert the milk trade from its natural channels."

Mr. Robinson stated that last summer he tried to supply certified milk to the city. He furnished his samples with that end in view, submitted all his cattle to the tuberculin test, and had those removed that did not fulfill all requirements. Every other possible precaution was taken to prevent contagion. He sent milk to the bacteriologist at Victoria Hospital and it was found to have a too high bacteria count. Other samples were taken, and the results were still the same.

Later he took a couple of bottles of certified milk, sent them to the hospital to have the milk tested, and it was found that these samples, too, although they were certified by the milk commission, were not satisfactory.

Charges Prejudice.

"After that I came to the conclusion that it was impossible for me to get milk that would satisfy these gentlemen," declared Mr. Robinson. "I know that it was as good as could be produced, but it would not suit them. They were prejudiced against me. They objected to the name I used, the Certified Milk Company. I was told that if I changed my name I might be treated differently. I would not meet the whims of these medical gentlemen, and they went out of my way to injure me. I charge that the milk trade from its proper channels. They actively canvassed against me. They used every possible means to ruin me. I am out of the business. I could not beat this combination. It is the first time I have failed in anything in my life, and the experience is not a pleasant one. I merely want to set myself right with the public."

Dr. Williams Explains.

In response to a question of Mr. Burdon, Dr. Williams gave a manly answer. He said that the history of the movement that resulted in the formation of milk commissions in the United States and Canada, they were usually a number of physicians who were appalled at the death rate from infected milk, and who were anxious to get a proper supply of milk for the city. He said that the London Medical Association, and in- dorsed by the board of health, and they had endeavored to give the citizen a proper milk supply. It was a difficult task, but they had succeeded in a measure, at least.

Dr. Williams declared that it was perfectly fair in this matter," declared Dr. Williams. "They were just as much disappointed. In fact, more so, because he could not produce the proper quality of milk. They did not act unfairly, but they would not give the stamp of the standard. It is utterly beside the question to attack Dr. Reid. He is fully qualified for the work, and is fair and honorable. No suspicion can be cast on him."

In the opinion of Dr. Burdon, the commission was responsible to the board of health. He thought a bacteriologist should never know whose milk he was testing.

Chairman Clarke declared that the board should have a bacteriologist of their own, and not be dependent on others for their tests.

Certified Milk.

Dr. Stevenson declared that it was impossible to have a certified milk supply that would be a success. The
