Oh, yes, I had quit it "forever, The scissors and paste and all that, The haste and the frantic endeavor,

The typewriters' merry rat-tat; I tired of the holler for "copy,"

I longed for a life that was tame, And my friends called me shabby and sloppy, So I dropped from the Newspaper Game.

But something kept whispering, "Billy, You're out of your element here. This sinecure's meant for some Willie Who don't know a scoop from a beer. This joint is too tied by decorum, This routine is always the same; Your clothes don't wear out where you wore 'em,

When playing the Newspaper Game." Whenever the newsboys would holler, Whenever the extras came out,

I tugged at my unsweated collar And my heart-strings were tugged by a doubt, Till at last—well, I doubted no longer,

I passed up my cinch, and I came To the call that I knew was the stronger, And I plunged in the Newspaper Game.

The typewriters rattled to greet me, The smell of sour paste-pots was sweet, I found the old "mill" there to meet me, I dropped in my battered old seat. The newsroom was dingy and smoky,

But a shiver of joy shook my frame, For I'd quit the "good job" that was pokey, And was back to the Newspaper Game.

Below the linotypes clicking, And the smell of hot lead came to me; The sport man was nervously flicking

The ash from his "cigarootee." My typewriter acted unruly, My fingers felt clumsy and lame, But I knew I was back again, truly,

To the joy of the Newspaper Game You can swear you will leave it behind you, You can flee to wherever you will, But the newspaper fever will find you,

The newspaper fervor will thrill. It makes—or more likely, it breaks you, You die—and leave scarcely a name; But not until death overtakes you Are you free of the Newspaper Game!

Sure Way to Remove Freckles and Eruptions

[From Fashion Record.]

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine l.nes. March winds usually play havoc with skins of that kind. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply this before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning, flaky skin particles come with it. The entire cuticle is removed in this way in about a week, with all its defects. No bleach could so completely remove every freckle or blemish. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 [From Fashion Record.] the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½-pint witch hazel, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective.
