We venture the assertion that there is not an officer now in the northwest who could not do more effective service with a good field glass than with his sword. Sunday at Clarke's Crossing—Dr. Willenghby's Interview with Riet.

Winnipeg, Man., May 2.—One hundred and fifty recruits of the mounted police in charge of Sergt. Moodie arrived this evening at 10 o'clock, having left Toronto at moon on Thursday. They leave in the morning for Regina, where they will be horsed and equipped.

A despatch has just been received from the west announcing that a rise of the water in the Saskatchewan has enabled the steamer Northcote to move off the sand har and she is avecreted to reach Clarke.

water in the Saskatonevan has enabled the steamer Northoete to move off the sand bar and she is expected to reach Clark's Crossing by noon to morrow with the Midland battalion, Gatling gun and hospital supplies to join General Middleton. The Governor-General's Body Guard, Toronte, are also expected to reach Clark's Crossing to morrow night.

Riel has issued a proclamation to the halfbreeds who refuse to come into camp o do so at once, or he will murder them. two of our number who fell sold their lives dearly.

The government after all its injustice should not have sent men to massacre u; who wished not to shed blood, but to obtain our just demands. We cannot be accused of revolt. The English were the first to fire and we only acted in most legitimate self defence. If the good wishes for peace let it accord a full and complete amnesty and give us our rights. Order will be immediately restored and it will be better both for itself and for all. I would have wished to write you at greater length, but I am threatened.

We therefore ask you in your own interests not to come willingly to engage in battle with us. We fear not an attack, but spare us such a prief. As for us if the government does not wish for peace, or if it desires it only after we have been partly massacred, and the remainder turned over to the executioner, we prefer if we must die to fall all like brave men on the battle field.

Some Suggestions.

We would suggest that every officer of the Canadian active militia should be required to furnish himself with a good field glass. If the scouts now with Gen. Middleton each had one their efficiency would be much improved. From the accounts of Fish Creek fight, contains the following letter to the premier's son: "The pass we had to go through was deep, narrow and muddy, and the walking was terrible. It is about one and a half miles up the hill. Hugh John Macdonald walked part of the way with me. He was terribly broken up when he reached the top. He lay down in a wagon, went to sleep and stayed there till we got where we now are."

LONDON, May 2.—The publication of the eport that an agreement has been conluded between England and Turkey, under which the former secures the free passage of the Dardanelles in the event of war, of the Dardanelles in the event of war, causes some concern among English diplomats. Many politicians affect to disbelieve the report on the ground of the exessive consideration given by England. The report, however, emanates from a source which has been found generally reliable.

The Sunday editons of the London newspapers confirm the report that a secret treaty has been made between England and Turkey by which England will be allowed to send men-of-war through the Pardanelles in the event of war.

London, May 3.—In the diplomatic con. test for alliances England is making better sion to pass her ships through the Dardanelles, it is stated England has secured the friendly neutrality of Persia in the event of war.
