Newspaper Laws

1.—A postmaster is required to give notice by letter. Returning the newspaper does not answer the law, when a subscriber does not take his newspaper out of the office and state the reason for its not being taken. Any neglect to do so makes the postmaster responsible to the publisher for payment.

2.—If any person orders his paper discontinued he must pay all arrears or the publisher may continue to send it until payment is made and collect the whole amount whether the paper is taken from the office or not. There can be no legal discontinuance until payment is made.

3.—Any person who takes a paper out of the post office, whether directed to his name or not, or whether he has subscribed or not, is responsible for the pay.

4.—If a subscriber orders his paper stopped and the publisher continues to send, the subscriber is bound to pay for it if he takes it out of the post office. This proceeds upon the ground that a man must pay for what he uses.

5.—The courts have decided that refusing to take newspapers or periodicals from the postoffice or removing, leaving them uncalled for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

DUSTING A ROOM.

There's No Necessity to Make This Work Unpleasant Drudgery.

The invention of the dustless duster has helped to solve the problem of how to get the dust out of the house without raising more than dusting is worth.

But the dustless duster must be watched and washed and renewed often to afford the satisfaction it ought, and even then a good going over of the house in the old fashioned way is still necessary.

When you begin to dust raise the windows. Then wash washable bric-a-brac in tepid water and a little white soap and dry on soft cheesecloth. Have a place, say the sofa, already dusted and in order, where you may put the pieces and cover them over.

Have sheets made of two lengths of gingham or calico—anything that is cheap and washable—to cover the furniture, and, after washing the small bric-a-brac or dusting it off and covering it up, go after the other pieces of furniture. Large squares of outing flannel for this purpose serve well if you haven't dustless dusters.

It isn't necessary to use furniture polish every week on good furniture, or once a month even.

A quick washing off with slightly soapy water and cheesecloth sometimes is beneficial for furniture in the grimy city. Follow with furniture polish, after which rub hard with fresh cheesecloth.

The last thing to do in a room is to wipe up the floors. When this is done it is time to begin to put the cleaned and dusted articles back in their places.

Fancy Door Porters.

Door porters are useful in keeping doors open. The most convenient kind for the bedroom door is the little modern maid—a doll's head fastened to a body filled with sand and dressed in black with white cap and apron. She is fastened to a long loop of ribbon, which is hung over the doorknob, so that she can be conveniently lifted and moved.

ACCORDION PLAID GOWN

SEERGE AND SATIN DRESS.

Accordion plaiting is used extensively in the designing of many new gowns, even those for street wear. It is very effectively utilized in the making of the pictured gown of navy blue serge which is combined with black satin. The long tunic of accordion plaited serge falls over a plain skirt of satin. The bolero bodice has a pointed satin vest. Worn with it are collars and cuffs of white handkerchief linen adorned with tiny pearl buttons.

The mountain of the Rigi, in Switzerland, commands a panorama of 400 miles in circumference, which includes the lovely lake of Lucerne, and is unsurpassed for beauty. The Rigi was known to only a few travelers in the eighteenth century, but after the peace of 1815 it became a resort for the curious, the first dwelling having been erected in 1814. Now many hotels are in a flourishing condition, and it is popular even in winter. There is a little chapel, with its walls covered with votive tablets, for many have been the victims in the ice gorges of this lofty peak.

There may be other corn cures, but Holloway's Corn Cure stands at the head of the list so far as results are concerned.

HATS FOR SPRING.

Millinery Exploited in South Forecasts Spring Styles.

GOWNS ARE OF VARIED SHAPES

Flowers and Fruits Make Artistic Trimmings—Fantastically Shaped Novelties in Feathers and Leather Featured—Ribbons to Be Popular.

Already spring models are being shown by milliners in the fashion centers, and the pleasure seekers who throng the southern resorts are wearing modish headgear whose lines and trimmings forecast the intentions of millinery designers in regard to our spring hats.

In discussing the trimmings for spring hats the Millinery Trade Review says:

"Flowers enter largely into the present trimming scheme, which is characteristic of spring and summer hats, and, while trimmings are comparatively simple, just the thing which best suits the hat it is to adorn is by far in best taste.

"At present, early spring lines show small flowers and fruits used in combination or separately. For instance, a clever emerald green hat features trimmings of apples and apple blossoms in their natural shades, while another of tan barnyard straw braid is charmingly trimmed with a wreath of highly colored flat velvet flowers and fruit, giving an appearance of being applied.

"A single cluster of vivid cherries droops from the brim of a black sailor, while a very clever idea in the use of flowers is shown in a delicately made wreath of hand made silk flowers, outlining the edge of a blue shadow lace veil. A similar wreath attaches the veil to the hat. Wreaths made of very tiny flowers and fruits may encircle the crown or brim, not a little depending on the shape of the hat.

"Gladioluses of leather are also quite smart. Leather quills and buckles for use in trimming tailored hats are noted. Quills, pheasant tails and various fantastically shaped novelties are shown developed of burned ostrich, peacock and vulture. Bends of vivid colorings are being pressed into service and make especially clever trimmings for tailored panamas.

"Ribbons are being extensively used, both in narrow and wide widths. Among those given the preference are faille, moire, taffeta and ottoman, as well as a fair quantity of velvet. High wired loops or flat tailored bows are shown, as are rosettes and cabochons. Streamers also make the use of ribbon a feature. Veils also come in for their share of prominence, a number of spring models showing hats with the veil attached.

"These may be of fine brussels net or shadow lace, the first named being edged with narrow ribbon and the last having wreaths of handmade flowers outlining the lower edge.

"Hats shown in the exhibitions of models for spring include many attractive turbans. One which was designed for wear at Palm Beach is pictured here. It is of white satin and braid, with the left side curving up. A narrow black satin piping incircles the brim. Two hat pompons of black and white horse-hair are affixed to the side.
