THE STORK AND THE DUCK.

Dr. Walton has introduced a book on "Why Worry," with the following words from Chwang Tze: "The legs of the stork are long; the legs of the duck are short; you cannot make the legs of the stork short, neither can you make the legs of the duck long. Why worry? In other words, why worry about things which cannot be helped? Take life as it comes and make the best of it. There is no use complaining or worrying because one is long and cannot make himself short or is short and cannot make himself long; or has brains without health, or has health without brains, or is born rich without the advantages of self-development, or is born poor without the opportunity of wealth. Professor Laughlin has defined Socialism as "the philosophy of failure." It might also be defined as the philosophy of worrying. Socialism is a protest against inequalities that cannot be helped. Men are born with wide differences, physical, mental and moral, and it is impossible by any process of law or any system of economics to remove those differences. Even equality of possession is impossible because of the inherent inequalities of the mind, the temper and the ambition of man. The Socialist complains of these inequalities and is constantly inciting the people to worry about their lack of this thing or that thing, hoping that this worrying will finally lead to a political revolution. But while we cannot get rid of inequalities, we can make the best of the conditions in which we are placed. The duck cannot be a stork, but he can be the best kind of a duck. That is the philosophy of individualism.—Wall Street Journal.

RETRACT.

The dry weather seriously affected the strawberry crop, causing a shortage of over half. The Misses Cora and Bessie Parker, of Bellisle, recently visited Mrs. Fred A. Chipman. Arrangements were made for fraternal visits throughout the County during the month of September. The next session will be held at Bridgetown, on the 1st of July. The evening meeting was very interesting. A program was prepared, and Rev. W. Brown and Rev. H. Bagwell made speeches. Readings and recitations were given by Miss Hall Mrs. Brown and Miss Balcom. Hon. Justice Longley and Dr. I. B. Hall being present, by request of the audience and speakers, they gave their views of the prohibition question, which were well received.

Moving Picture Was Too Real

New York, July 21—A crowd gathered in Dyker Heights Park, Brooklyn, yesterday to see the unearthing of a moving picture for the Vitagraph Company of America. The story to be portrayed was the abduction in an automobile of a young girl by the leader of a rzyby band and the pursuit in two other cars by the girl's father and his friends, culminating in a fight on the water after the pursued pursued had embarked in launches which were waiting at the foot of the Shore road, Bath Beach. The abduction had taken place, and Arthur White, an actor, of 563 West 172nd street, was speeding along Croysey Avenue in the automobile, holding the steering wheel in his arms and waving defiance to his pursuers, when, at Fourteenth Avenue, where there is a slight curve in the road, Walter Ackerman, of Thirtieth and Croysey Avenues, who was driving the car just control of it and it upset. The girl and White, together with Ackerman and another actor, were thrown into the road, and run over with bruises, except White who was caught partly beneath the overturned car. Stuart Blackton, of 1826 Church Avenue, Flatbush, who was managing the picture taking, saw the possibilities of the accident and had the cameras kept trained on the scene, while he hurried to White's help and called Dr. Spelman from the Norwegian Hospital. The crowd lifted the car and White was pulled from under it badly bruised and only half conscious.

This Happened in St. John.

A sympathetic woman was petting a child of four years—a little girl, intelligent beyond years. Under the kindly influence the child became coquettish, and said to her new friend:— "My mamma's heart broke." Asked what she meant by so strange a remark, the little one replied:— "Oh, my papa gets drunk, and it breaks mamma's heart. And," with a burst of tears, "he's breaking my heart, too." This child knew nothing of heart-break, but she had seen her mother's misery. Only a day or two later the mother came to the same sympathetic woman and in the course of conversation said:— "Sometimes I feel that life is not worth living. Here I have toiled and struggled to get a sewing machine, and just when I got it paid for my husband took it out and sold it for a few dollars to get liquor." This happened in St. John not long ago. The story was told to the Times. There is no society in St. John for the protection of women and children.
