THIS Cordial, no its name announces, is prepared scientifically. A by a Member of the Pharmaceutical Faculty of Great Britain, from the Flowers of Chamomile and other Vegetable ingredients, imported especially from England. Not only as a Tonic does it stand unrivaled, but its peculiar medicinal virtues have acquired a justly celebrated reputation, surpassing the famed Blackberry in which, in point of richness of taste and flavor, as well as in practical efficacy, it is incomparably superior.

These inhalable extracts, while fully prepared, are more delicately concentrated and described in the Cordial, which from its transparency and golden colour, resembles Wine, and as such may be used at discretion. The flavor is fresh and fragrant, and the taste most grateful and invigorating, either to the body, the Temperance advocate, or toothless continuoress.

TESTIMONIA'S:

Toronto, June 24th, 1842.

Mrs. REXFORD & CO.,
GENTLEMEN.—We have tested the Sample Bottles, with which you favored us, of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial," and find it as you describe, fragrant and agreeable to the palate, and consider it an excellent Preparation for the use of the valuable Tonic Properties of the Flowers of Chamomile.

We are, &c.,
GEORGE HERDICK, M.D.
JOHN KING, M.D.

77 Bay Street, Toronto, June 29, 1842.

GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tried the sample of "Compound Chamomile Cordial," which you sent me.

Aware of the manner in which you prepare it, and of the nature and quality of the ingredients which you employ in its manufacture, I cannot abstain to express to you in my writing my opinion of it, which I should not hesitate to do under different circumstances.

I consider it a very elegant Pharmaceutical Preparation, incapable of being made exceedingly useful in a dietary as well as therapeutic point of view. It will serve as an excellent substitute for much of the躺 Wine which is purchased as Wine for the use of invalids; and will also prove an excellent medium for the agreeable conveyance of remedies, which, without some auxiliary, are often repelled against and rejected by the sto-mach.

I am, Gentlemen,
MICHAEL BAGNOLY, M.D.

Mrs. REXFORD & CO.

Mrs. REXFORD & CO.,
GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tried the Sample of "Compound Chamomile Cordial" which you sent me. I consider it a very elegant Preparation, and useful in all cases where a mild Tonic is required, more especially in cases of Dyspepsia, and the weakness of the Stomach; it being very agreeable to taste; can be taken by any one.

I am, &c.,
TAONA DUGAN,
Surgeon,

London, C.W., June 18th, 1842.

Mrs. REXFORD & CO.,
GENTLEMEN.—I have received the Sample Bottles of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial," and consider it a beautiful as well as highly palatable preparation. The aromatic and peculiar bitter flavor, in which lies the essential Medicinal qualities, appear to be largely infused and well preserved; and as this vegetable Tonic is highly beneficial in those forms of Dyspepsia, depending on debility, or want of tone of the digestive organs (the form most frequently met with on this continent) your Cordial will, I doubt not, form an inestimable addition to our Pharmacopeia.

From the knowledge possessed by me of Mr. Rexford, and his very high reputation as a pharmaceutical chemist, I feel much pleasure in confidently recommending his preparation of this valuable Tonic to my Professional brethren, and to the public, as a delightful and invigorating Cordial.

I am, Yours, &c.,
GEORGE HOLME,
Surgeon.

Mrs. REXFORD & CO., Toronto,

Gentlemen.—I have no hesitation in expressing to you my professional approbation of your "Compound Chamomile Cordial." The Tonic properties of the Flowers of Chamomile, with which it is finely blended, are so universally acknowledged, and the Medicinal qualities of that vegetable ingredient so fully admitted in Dyspepsia complaints, that I consider the idea of advertising it in the pleasing form of a Cordial, most happy, and

The Castilian Hair Invigorator.

THIS elegant Toilet Preparation is warranted to excel all others ever offered to the public, for preserving and beautifying the hair; it prevents or cures baldness or gray hair; cures dandruff and ringworm, and what is of the highest importance, is, that it is unlike most other Toilet preparations, being perfectly harmless, yet successful for the purpose recommended. It gives the hair a beautifully soft, smooth and glossy appearance; in this it also differs from other preparations, all of which prove or less harsh and dry the hair. The Spanish Ladies are justly famed for beautiful and glossy hair, have used for centuries. It causes the hair to retain its original colour to the latest period of life, only making it assume a darker shade if originally very light. Harsh hair becomes soft and hair in turn gray. The Invigorator removes such disease, and restores the skin and hair to a healthy condition.
