The tomb had evidently been opened before the days raised yesterday, and as the lid was rudely brosult its probable that force had been used. There was, and Sir John Campbell, Bart., of Auchinbreck, has offered wever, but little evidence that the body had been much store for building from his quarries. The church will be calculated to afford accommodation to 300 worshippers, the body were mostly out of place, and some of the latter and the estimated expense is about £1000. It is expected that kind. had been over. A thigh bone was found near the left shoulder, but the head and feet were entire and untouched. The Churchmen in other parts of the country will come Nearly every bone is perfect. It is probable that the tomb had been forced open in the hope of plunder, in 1650, when the neighbouring monument—the Crowmer monument—was desecrated in order to form a door-way into the church-yard. From the careless way in which the lid had been forced up, and its broken parts supplied by mortar, it seems probable that the tomb has been hurriedly which cannot fail to be interesting to our readers. which unbelief has prevailed are uniformly times of earthly calamity; for the moral depravation which panies unbelief necessarily destroys the foundation of all earthly prosperity. Never was the truth of this of all earthly prosperity. Never was the truth of this statement more strikingly displayed than in the last European Revolution, of which the French people celebrated the anniversary on Saturday last. We have seen the three most profligate capital cities of Europe—Berlin, Vienna, and Paris—the scenes of blood-shed, robbery, and every other atrocity that can disgrace human nature. And why was this? Because in these very cities, and in the Countries dependent on them, religion was almost entirely neglected. Races, balls, theatres, buying and selling, planting and building, were going on constantly on the Lord's Day, as if there were no difference between it and the other days of the week. The great object of the Governments of those nations was to great object of the Governments of those nations was to Statify all the sensual appetites of the masses of the People, and to make war against the spiritual and intellec-tual nature of man. They were quite successful. The population of those countries was the most immoral in Europe. We have seen the result.—English Churchman. THE CHURCH OF ENGLAND .- I may say without fear

At the close of the Examination, Mr. Robertson, the Head Master, addressed the audience, in explanation of the Institu-tion, and the course of instruction pursued in it. — After which, one of the pupils rose, and in his own name and in the name of the other Students, addressed the Masters, whom he thanked in very grateful terms, for their instructions to the class, and for the kindness and courtesy which he and his fellow-students had uniformly experienced at their hand. He passed a deserved eulogium upon Dr. Ryerson, the Chief Superintendant, for his indefatigable exertions in the cause of Education, and congratulated him on the success which had crowned his efforts in the establishment and progress of this institution. He also made proper allusion to the courtesy extended to them by Messrs. McCallum and Sangster, Teachers of the Model School. Mr Robertson, on his own behalf and on behalf of Mr. Hind, thanked the Students for the compliment they had paid them, and was happy to testify that the conduct of all the Students during the Session had been most regular and examplary.

His Excellency the Governor General has been pleased to Dr. Ryerson also replied, and took occasion to vindicate the make the following appoinments:—
Thomas Champion, of the city of Toronto, gentleman, and Richard Ruttan, of the Town of Cobourg, Barrister, to be ignorant of the system of instruction which had been adopted.

The Governor General's prizes for Agricultural Chemistry, &c., were then distributed by the Hon, Chief Justice Robinson. The successful competitors were Mr. Abraham Diamond, of the Midland District, and Mr. James T. Pennock, of the Johnstown District-both natives of Upper Causda, and sons of Canadian farmers. The Chief Justice, delivering these prizes, addressed the young men, and the class generally, in a very felicitous manner, complimenting them on the establishment of so valuable an institution, and the advantages which they and Canada generally derived from it. His Lordship alluded in very appropriate terms to the kind and patriotic interest which His Excellency evinced in the prosperity of the School, and thence drew a happy angury of its future success. The prizes were of the value of five pounds and three pounds respectively, and consisted of books selected by the Superintendent and Masters, comprising Chambers' Educational Course, and a few council was defective.

Hon. Mr. Mc Gill was not prepared to vote that the Council the young men received will form no mean commencement for a useful private library.

Dr. Ryerson then addressed the audience at considerable length and to good purpose; and the proceedings closed by the benediction being pronounced by the Lord Bishop.

We may mention that during the three days in which the examination lasted, the School was visited by many of the principal inhabitants of the city and neighbourhood; and among others, besides those already mentioned, the President of the University, the Rev. Drs. Beaven and Lett, the Rev. Messrs. Hutchinson and Elwood, Drs. Burns and Richey, Rev. Messrs. Jennings, Rintoul, Sanderson, Nelles, and several other clergymen, showing the interest which the clergy of all denominations seem to take in this important institution

OF ABIGAIL M'QUAID, of the County of Cayan, Ireland, who came out in the Ship Virginia, from the Boston Daily Star, of Eeb. 10, 1846.

No small excitement has existed among the nice young men and, the baid pated old men, lately, in consequence of the advent of a new har liquid—Bogle's Hyperion—which is said to be voted, by the Knowing ones, the ne plus utfra of all hair improving inventions. We have received from Mr. Bogle a sample of this novelty, and feel very much disposed, even on so short an acquaintance, to fait into the tide of praise whitch is setting towards it. We have given our pate a sack, and after due repetition, shall be able to speak more definitely of this important matter. We believe it is first rate,—but you can decide for yourself, by calling on Mr. Bogle, and trying it.
