

A NEW ART FORM?

The graphics capability of the NAPLPS videotex standard is awesome. Full colour, stunning creations that elevate computer graphics to a new art form are not only possible to create, but easy and inexpensive to execute, store and transmit. Even blinking, highlighting and sophisticated animation are possible, increasing the inherent capability of an already powerful communications medium. It has been compared to alphanumeric (text and number) protocols as colour TV is to the Gutenberg Bible.