

ESTABLISHED 1864. JOHN CATTO & SON Month-End Sale

Fine Linen Damasks in Table Cloths, Napkins, Tea Cloths, Doilies, etc., including a very special chance in slightly imperfect Table Cloths, 2 to 6 yards long, at 1-3 less than regular.

Wool Blankets—A lot (counter-soiled) being cleared at reduced prices. Special Flannellette Blankets at 75c, $1.00, $1.25 per pair.

Down Quilts, elegant assortment of French Printed Satens, Silks and Satin-covered Quilts. Attractive showing of Embroidered Linen and Lace Bed Spreads, all reduced in price.

Huck Towels, Turkish Bath Towels, Mats, etc., various sizes, all special prices.

Prints and Muslin Department is clearing off entire collection of Oddments and Remnants at low figures.

Balance of Cloak and Costume stock has been attractively reduced to effect quick sales this month.

Wonderful values in Lace Gowns, Black, White or Cream, in Chantilly, Brussels and Ecru patterns, including Sequin, decorated nets, all much below regular quotations.

Markedly special attractions are also sold out, before stock-taking, in the Silk and Dress Goods sections, one extra special line being a choice range of Dress Patterns in Black and Colored Silks and Wool Dress Fabrics; formerly $5.00 to $10.00 per yard, now 50c.

Mail orders receive prompt and careful consideration.

JOHN CATTO & SON King-street-Opposite Postoffice, TORONTO.

WOMAN SEIZED WITH INSANITY Creates Excitement in Big Store—Doesn't Know Her Name.

Shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon a well dressed woman about 35 years of age created considerable excitement in the Eaton store. She first started out in an affectionate mood and wished to embrace everyone in sight. That did not last long. She changed completely, and was anxious to deal out solar plexus blows. Detective Mackie took her to police headquarters, where she became a little quieter. From there she was taken to No. 1 station. She was not violent after that. After some time she became as Emily M. Avery of Seaforth. She says she came to Toronto on Monday, but could not remember or not recall where she was stopped. She is demented, and kept repeating to Mrs. Whidden, the matron, "Robert" would soon come for her.

She wore a gold watch and locket with the initials "E. M. A." on each of them. She has auburn hair and fair complexion, and wore an astrakhan jacket.

BAD BLAZE AT BRAMPTON. Irvine's Shoe Factory Destroyed—Shoe Co. Also Suffers.

Brampton, Jan. 24.—The most stubborn fire here for some years broke out at 9 o'clock in the evening in the Irvine Lumber and Fuel Co. The adjoining room was used as a drying kiln and was filled with lumber. The three-story building of the Canada Shoe Company adjoins the room in which the fire started. The firemen succeeded in saving the shoe factory, also considerably damaged. The shoe factory was completely destroyed with a large quantity of lumber.

The loss is heavy, partly covered by insurance.

THREE TRAIN ACCIDENTS.

A broken rail at Zealand, just east of Sharbot Lake, yesterday ditched 10 freight cars.

At Bathurst station, where a freight car left the rails on a switch point, the line was blocked.

At Moberly the conductor van of a freight train swung off the rails and the train crew had to jump to save themselves from injury.

The local railways are again short of freight cars. It is estimated that the C.P.R. are short on an average of 1000 cars daily.

ARM BROKEN IN CAR CRASH.

Miss Lillian Devaney, who lives at Bathurst and Bathurst-streets, while standing in a crowded Bloor and Avenue car, returning from a concert last Wednesday night, was jolted, and in the crash had her arm broken.

Nurse Injured.

Phoebe Berryman, a nurse paid for Mrs. Dr. Peters, was thrown from a cutter yesterday afternoon in College-street. She was carried into the Sick Children's Hospital, and subsequently removed to the General.

ARE YOU RUPTURED?

GET OUR PRICES

On Trusses, Abdominal Supporters, Supporters, Elastic Socks, Shoulder Braces, and all kinds of RUBBER GOODS. We are the Room Supplies in Canada. Write for Catalogue. Our prices are 50 per cent lower than any other house.

Address: Geo. F. E. KARN CO., Limited
Canada's Greatest Medicine House
100 QUEEN & VICTORIA STREETS TORONTO

ADDITIONS TO SCHOOLS NEW COLLEGIATE WANTED

Management Committee of Education Board Agrees to a Number of Extensions to Buildings.

The proposition of the board of education to build a new high school in the northwestern part of the city may materialize this year. In the management committee yesterday, Senior Principal Embree called attention to the overcrowding of Jarvis and Harbord colleges, which, he said, required additional accommodation of two and four rooms, respectively, and making allowance for the normal increase in September next, he recommended that both schools be enlarged by four class rooms each. Chairman Harry Simpson advanced the idea of a new school, which would relieve both districts, and a recommendation was sent to the board for an instruction to the property committee to provide increased accommodation one way or the other.

Despite the numerous additions made to the public schools last year, it is found necessary to still enlarge nine schools by from two to six rooms each, as follows: Leslie-street, 4 rooms; Pope-avenue, 4 rooms; Queen Alexandra, 4 rooms; King Edward, 6 rooms; Essex-street, 4 rooms; Birch-avenue, 4 rooms; Brock-avenue, 4 rooms; Howard, 2 rooms; Withrow-avenue, 4 rooms. A temporary room will be fitted up at Cottingham school.

On Hughes, an endeavor will be made to secure legislation permitting the opening of schools all over the province, and more particularly in Toronto, for the use of the general public for evening lectures.

The annual school concert will be held in Massey Hall, on the evening of Jan. 25. Rogers was transferred from Palmerston-avenue to Gladstone-avenue school, and Miss J. B. Flood from Gladstone to Palmerston.

CHANGE OF CAR ROUTES.

Editor World: It is quite evident by the manner in which some of our representatives in the city council are acting, and by the way some of our citizens are talking that their opinion is that the Toronto Railway Company cannot do anything right. I will venture to say that the majority of aldermen and controllers who are protesting so loudly at the change of routes do not use the lines affected at all, yet they profess to see great inconveniences by the change.

My observation as a passenger from four to six times daily, on the Arthur line, has convinced me that the change of route, and the extension of the line, is a great advantage over the former route. True, some have been inconvenienced, but the greater number benefited.

The most inconvenienced are those who travel on the very early morning cars. The majority of the passengers on this line of day being Union Station, warehouse and factory employees in the neighborhood of Front-street. The change of route, however, is a great advantage, and I contend that ninety per cent of the passengers who use the Arthur cars after 6 o'clock and have the neighborhood of Queen and Yonge or King and Yonge as their destination.

With the present route more passengers are carried. A vastly larger majority of persons living in the neighborhood of Arthur-street, Dundas-street, and Lansdowne-avenue work north of King-street in the downtown section.

For instance, yesterday at 2:15 out of 20 passengers on an Arthur car, not one transferred to Queen-street for Bathurst-street. To-day at 9 o'clock out of 24 transferred. Under the old route at least 25 per cent, of the passengers changed at this point for Queen cars. At 8 o'clock yesterday morning out of 24 passengers on the down trip only 12 transferred to Queen-street to Bathurst cars to go south—the remainder either left the car before it reached Queen-street or continued easterly on this street. I am informed by a conductor who supplied the last recited fact, that from a like number of passengers by the old line 20 or 25 would have asked for transfers.

For three successive mornings I counted 55 passengers on an Arthur-street car when it reached Bathurst-street, about 9 o'clock.

No reasonable man can say that of the vast number of citizens living on the borders of the Arthur line, as it is now run, more than ten per cent desire to travel by way of Front-street to their respective places of business. I admit a better service to Front-street is necessary, and will be demanded by the summer traffic in this direction, but let it be served by a new line.

Our aldermen and controllers should get some facts of the case before they clamor for a return to the old route so far as the Arthur line at least is concerned.

W. J. C. McCrea,
25 Montrose-avenue.
Jan. 18, 1907.

Want an Express Service.

The residents of Ossington-avenue, Concord-avenue, Delaware-avenue, Dovercourt-road, all north of Bloor-street, are circulating a petition to E. B. Osler, M.P. for West Toronto to see if means can be found to have the Canadian and Dominion Express Companies extend their delivery system into this growing part of the city. At present they will not deliver north of Bloor-street without extra charge.

May Not Want the Money.

The board of control yesterday instructed the secretary to write the secretary of state at Ottawa to ascertain whether the city's grant of $5000 in aid of the Jamaica earthquake sufferers was needed.

THE COLOR LINE.

Ottawa, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—The members of the 8888th Central Postal Directory applied for a commodation at a Sparks-street Hotel to-day, and, being colored, were refused admission.

$10 Washington, D.C., and Return, From Suspension Bridge, via Lehigh Valley Railroad, Friday, Feb. 1. Particulars 64 King-street east.

PROHIBIT EXPORT OF FISH TO CURB BIG U.S. TRUST

A. Kelly Evans Offers Suggestion in View of Control of Food Fish by Yankee Company.

London, Jan. 24.—(Special.)—At a largely attended meeting of the Thames Valley Anglers' Association, held in the city hall here to-night, a letter from Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, to A. T. McMahon was read, stating that in response to an enquiry as to whether or not there would be licenses issued for the privilege of net fishing on the Thames, the department had decided not to issue any licenses this year, and perhaps for two years to come in order that the situation might in the meantime be investigated. The meeting received the message with great enthusiasm.

Chairman Arthur White made a few opening remarks, and introduced A. Kelly Evans, who gave a most interesting address on the fisheries situation of the province.

Mr. Evans said the aims and objects of the association were not confined to the mere interests of the sportsman, but embraced the preservation and more important issue of the saving the fisheries of the Great Lakes from absolute destruction and the important economic possibilities in the proper protection of game and game fish.

The statistics as to the immense sums of money brought each year to the State of Maine by visiting tourists, attributed by sport, were gone into. Last year the amount lost in the interior portion of Maine by visitors is estimated at twenty-five millions. Mr. Evans drew attention to the fact that the fact was made known to the State of Maine, that the State of Maine could be visited just as cheaply by anyone living in the interior of the States, there was no reason why even a much larger sum than the immense figures mentioned in regard to Maine should not come eventually each year to this province.

Controlled by Fish Trust.

Mr. Evans drew attention to the fact that the Dominion parliament as to the fisheries of the Pacific coast, the Atlantic seaboard. During the debate the fact was made known that the great bulk of the fish of Canadian waters go direct to the United States, and that the markets of Montreal and Toronto are supplied, in some measure, by fish which have been originally caught in Canadian waters and which must be the extra cost of duty and freight, besides not reaching our home markets in as good a condition as they would be if they were landed direct. He stated the cause of this condition of things was the operation of what might be known as the American Fish Trust. He argued that all we were obtaining the proper fair economic value for the fish caught on the coast, and that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money for the benefit of the citizens of a foreign country, and not only this, but so great a loss to the province that the fact was made known to the public that the fish which are sold in this country are sold at a great deal less than they might be, in a great system, but he mentioned that our people were practically turned into "heavers of water" and the money