FORMATION OF A CONSERVATIVE CLUB LAST NIGHT.

All Classes of Conservatives to Have a Central Rallying Place - Exciting Time with the Young Men - Speeches on the Political Crisis - Mr. Charles Tupper Congratulated.

The formation of a Liberal-Conservative Club for Toronto and vicinity was decided on last evening after an animated discussion in the Melinda-street club room.

A resolution congratulating Sir Charles Tupper, Bart., on his victory in Cape Breton, was also passed.

On the platform were C. C. Robinson, who presided; W. F. Maclean, J. E. King, Dr. J. O. Orr, G. Greer, D. M. Deane, F. J. Johnston, H. S. Neville, George S. Poole, James Baird, E. A. Jones, C. H. Macdonald, Joseph Pocock, Don Johnston, Thomas Hurst, W. F. Summerhayes, W. B. Newsome, J. Edgar, and ex-Mayor Clarke.

The President's Exposition. The chairman, as president of the late Young Conservative Club, gave the reasons for the contemplated change and for the calling of a meeting of those loyal to the Conservative party.

The designation "Young" has not been a happy one, and it is proposed to change the name to "The Conservative Club." It is proposed to extend the scope and usefulness of the club.

There should be a rallying place for all loyal Conservatives, whether young or old, rich or poor, and the club should be a place where all could meet and be heard.

Mr. King Dadds said that if he thought the adoption of the resolution would retard or injure any ward association, he would not have seconded it.

The chairman said the resolution explained the object of the meeting, and he believed that any idea of detaching or interfering with any ward association. One thousand resolutions were sent out to the well-known Conservative clubs, whose names were taken from the list.

Mr. Tupper's Address. Mr. Tupper, who was introduced by Mr. King Dadds, as a young man, addressed the resolution.

Mr. King Dadds said that the resolution should commend itself to the good sense and patriotism of all Conservatives. Such a club must do good and could do no harm.

TO MAKE A NEW ASSESSMENT.

The Junction Councils to Try It Again. New Assessments in Office.

Toronto Junction, Feb. 10.—As was expected, the Junction Councils at this time have decided to discard the present assessment, and prepare another report without delay.

The Rice resolution was introduced by Councilor Goodie, who made a little objection. Some, he said, would have to face the least-to-mor-row morning (laughter)—but I believe we shall come out on top and go to work and carry the election which is before us. I will take good care to tell my fellow members and friends to-morrow morning that the heart of Toronto is true and solid for the Conservative party and Conservative principles. I believe that not only here but in all the provinces we will have a larger Conservative majority than ever before. (Loud applause.)

A Resolution. Dr. J. O. Orr moved a resolution on the lines of the chairman's speech, and setting forth the manifold benefits that may be expected from the establishment of a headquarters and rallying place for Conservatives.

Mr. E. J. Dadds, in seconding the motion, gave an eloquent exposition of Conservative principles. He glanced at the past and the future, and said that no spot had such a reputation for sound Conservative principles as the city of Toronto.

Mr. Dadds said that the Conservative party should unite and avoid divisions and errors of the past. If any disaster should occur to the Conservative party through misdirected efforts at Ottawa it would be a blow to the commerce of the city.

THE CORRIGAN KILLING.

The Defence Counsel that the Evidence Tonight Will Strongly Favor Healey.

The Corrigan inquest will be resumed this evening. It is probable that sufficient evidence will be produced to make the details of the killing fairly complete. The defence is confident that a strong case of self-defence can be established.

Mr. E. J. Hearn, who is looking after the interests of the prisoner, has reported that he has had a very abundant evidence to show that Healey was perfectly justified in his actions. There were several witnesses who are able to describe the scene, and a number who will prove that Healey was in a state of self-defence.

Mr. Healey, who is in custody, has been cleared up, and that is what caused the terrible wound on the left side of Corrigan's face. Joseph Willis, who says he was an eye-witness of the killing, said one of the blows—one on the head and one on the top of the head—was delivered by Healey.

Mr. Willis, who was interviewed by a reporter with reference to the matter, declined to discuss it, on the ground that he is to be a witness this evening. Mr. Willis, published exclusively in these columns yesterday, was substantially correct.

ON STAGE AND PLATFORM.

Current and Coming Attractions at the Local Play Opera and Concert Halls.

The Toronto Opera House this week has the best dramatic production that has been presented there this season. The attraction is Henry Grattan Donnelly's "The Two Faces of a Man," an excellent well-written play of the drama of a few years ago.

When the piece was seen at the Grand it created a left favorable impression, which, no doubt, partly accounted for the success which greeted its reappearance last night. The action of the play, as the name indicates, is in Russia, where the czar and his secret police are the terrors of those who are not fortunate enough to be within the enchanted circle of the Imperial court.

The story is so interesting that all who witness the opening act will remain spell-bound. The play is full of cleverly contrived situations, not of the "humdrum" style, but of real dramatic worth. It is correctly staged and richly costumed.

The company has been carefully selected as strong as when the piece was produced at the Grand. Miss Eva Byron, a soubrette of the old nobility, as the Empress, is particularly noteworthy. Miss Florence Roberts is a charming comedienne, with more than ordinary wit. Maurice Drew, O. J. Hamilton, and Miss Florence Roberts are the comedienne, with more than ordinary wit.
