THRESHING STARTED

NEAR KINGSVILLE KINGSVILLE, July 10 .- John Stad-KINGSVILLE, July 10.—John Staddon started out with his threshing outfit today and threshed his first job of wheat for Mr. Nelson, second concession. The straw was very heavy, and the crop yielded about twenty-five bushels to the acre. Many crops have been injured by a worm similar to the army worm which reduces their yield, but in the main crops are cut before being attacked by the worm.

Hay is a heavy crop. The oat crop is varied; in some places being exceptionally good, in others not half what it should be. The same may be said of corn. Barley will be short in the straw but a fair crop. Early tomatoes are being shipped, and a high price is being realized. Their continued production will be checked by the drought.

Baspherries are a very fair crop. and Raspberries are a very fair crop, and selling from $6 to $7 per crate in the field. The cherry crop is exceptionally light, but the quality of the fruit is exceptionally good. Currants and gooseberries are a full crop, and good prices are realized for these. Quite a lot of beans are being shipped from prices are realized for these: Quite a lot of beans are being shipped from this point, but they need rain badly. Early cabbage is also being shipped. Early potatoes are badly in need of rain, and they will be very scarce if rain does not come soon. Tobacco is badly in need of rain. The young plants have been killed and injured to a great extent by the drought and a great extent by the drought, and many farmers have had to replant more than half their crop. Hundreds of acres of land are idle through farmers not being able to work it through the long drought after the wet spell in the spring.

LENS COMING BACK TO SOMETHING LIKE ITS OLD APPEARANCE

Devastated Coal City Showing Sign of Revival.

PARIS, June 16 .- (Correspondence of the Associated Press.)-Lens, the most thoroughly devastated town of the war is showing signs of revival. When the Associated Press correspondent visited this erstwhile busy coal mining centre of this erstwhile busy coal mining centre of the department of the Pas de Calais early this year, it still looked as though a set of giant sledge hammers had pounded the whole place to atoms. To the west of it lies the grim battlefield of Loos, which has the curious appearance of a petrified sea. The soil has been plowed up in an extraordinary manner by thousands of poisonous gas bombs, which have tinged the sparse vegetation an unhealthy grey.

Before the war Lens had 30,000 inhabitants. When the correspondent visited the locality in its state of hopevisited the locality in its state of less desolation, there were only sturdy optimists left, who led a cave-men's existence among the ruins. Their nearest point to get food was Bully-Grenay, ten miles away, and there was no transportation Matters Mending. WOODSTOCK ROBBED

Things have been mending since. Today about 3,000 of the exiled inhabitants have returned. They are housed in corrugated iron hutments formerly used by the British army. The cleaning up by the British army. The Chinese and wood, stone and iron as were still ser-viceable in the huge rubbish heap that nce was Lens.

In the Pas-de-Calais department alone 150 townships and villages are in the same plight as Lens, or nearly so. The same plight as Lens, or nearly so. The task of making these places fit to live in again is a herculean one. Labor is available in adequate numbers, but to lodge and feed the men is a great problem. The latest suggestion is to use covered army motor trucks as temporary shelters for the workers by whose efforts Lens is to arise from its ashes.

FIVE ENGINEERS PUZZLE OVER KENT DRAINAGE

BLENHEIM, July 10.—A committee of five civil engineers made an inspection of what is known as the Burk drainage pumping scheme yesterday afternoon in South Harwich. They were sent on by the drainage referee, G. F. Henderson, with a view of ascertaining what was best to do in order to make the scheme a safe one in the interests of the landowners in the scheme. The engineers were J. L. Morris of The engineers were J. L. Morris of Pembroke, Alex. Baird of Leamington, Jas. A. Bell of St. Thomas, W. G. McGeorge and Geo. A McCubbin of Chatham.

the other portions safer for the future were discussed by property owners in their presence.

It was estimated by some that lands in the scheme were in value as high as $500 per acre if the scheme can be made safe from break-ins from the lake and Pandau. The accompants after consulta-Rondeau. The engineers after consulta tion together are expected to make a report of their findings. Last year a most excellent crop was harvested off much of the lands yielding in some cases $500 per acre in onions. This year owing to flooding very little of it could be cropped, and a large acreage of onions sown was destroyed by a flood the last week in May.
