Unable To Agree.

"The board, having heard the argu-ments and compared schedules of em-ployers and employees, I was unable to concur in the report with the major-ity members of the board for the fol-lowing reasons:

to concur in the report with the majority members of the board for the following reasons:

"The rate of pay exhibited by the London and Port Stanley Board, in my judgment, is not a fair comparison between an electric system operating single cars with trailers, where it required a conductor with each car. On the other hand, those submitted by the employees were mostly identical.

The London and Port Stanley having previously been a steam operated road and paying standard pay, there in good reason why it should now, with a greatly increased passenger business, pay less than 50 per cent below the trainmen's passenger rates on steam roads, where motive power is practically the only difference, as these trainmen are required to pass rules. Inspection and all other examinations that are required of trainmen. I also consider the comparison submitted by the amployees' committee of freight.

that are required of trainmen. I also consider the comparison submitted by the employees' committee of freight train work with that of other roads who are doing identically the same work, fair and just. That is to say car ferry work at Port Stanley with that at Rondeau, and the handling of this traffic over the division with the exception of the motive power, which is steam. It is just as hazardous and requires the same caution and experience.

Pay is Low.

"The linemen's pay is very low compared with that of the Hydro and other companies.

"All other employees are equally low with the exception of the clerical department, which the representatives of the L. and P. S. R. board admitted were paid standard rallway pay, and they are not included in the application before the board,

To Flake Off An Old or Soiled Complexion

A woman need never cease to have a young-looking complexion if she will adopt the simple mercolized wax habit. The wax actually takes off the old complexion, with all its imperfections, and the newer and livelier skin, which then appears, bears that rare beauty and irresistible loveliness that only a youthful skin can possess. The skin is indeed youthful, in reality as well as in apyouthful, in reality as well as in ap-pearance. The natural process of tissue-change, which slows up with the passfair and extremely unjust.

"I therefore submit the following scale of wages to apply to the different departments which in my opinion are more fair and reasonable, having regard to all the facts and practical knowledge submitted, which is 15 per cent per hour increase over the old rates, and I further recommend that these rates of pay should be retroactive and take effect February 1, 1920.

BIRD NOTES (Contributed by McIlwraith

During the past winter London was avored with visits from a number of rare and interesting birds. One of these, the evening grosbeak, seen several times during the early year, spends the summer in the north. and is of very irregular occurrence here in winter, being reported locally only about five times during the last decade. t is a handsome bird, somewhat re-rembling a winter goldfinch, in its coat of yellow, black and white, but is much larger, almost as big as a robin. It feeds while here mostly on Manitoba and other maples, and calls "peep," a little like the house sparrow. Probably on account of the cold spring these birds are prolonging their stay here, having been recorded several times during April and May, the last time on the 9th inst., no doubt constituting their latest spring appearance in this
